The Markets

The war scare in Europe caused considerable flurry in wheat and speculators jumping in and raising the price caused many farmers to let go. On top of this war scare comes the information that the wheat countries outside of the United States are short about 275,000,000 bushels, and the United States is the only country that will have wheat for export. The spring wheat outlook is below the normal the world over, even in the United States, whose wheat wheat alone prevents a world shortage.

Several sales of 1913 hops were reported yesterday, the first movement in a long time. A 44-bale lot at Hubbard was reported sold at 12 cents, and two large blocks, one of 1400 and the other of 600 bales, were rumored sold at Independence at 14 cents. Butter advanced yesterday to a 30-cent basis, and locally it was stated butter fat might be lifted a bit today. All kinds of seasonal fruit is abundant, and prices are untroubled. The demand for poultry is good, and eggs are unchanged as to price, ranging from 23 cents case count to 27 cents for candled.

Thrifty housewives, many of them with their husbands, visited the new public market today in the Ryan building opposite the Marion hotel. At 7:30 the farmers brought in their produce and all day long the city people bought the products of the nearby farms. Breathing in the aroma of ranch garden stuff, the shoppers gloried in their purchases. The farmers didn't keep fresh eggs—they sold them! Fat, tender dressed, chickens hung temptingly on their hooks, and all the trimmings to go with them for a first class dinner were arrayed in boxes beneath. Soup greens, sage, crisp lettuce, fine vegetables and even the good old-fashioned home-made cider vinegar were "among those present" in the good eats line. Hand-picked apples sold from 40c to 70c a peck, and choice wrapped peaches at 40c to 50c a crate. Mammoth blackberries were sold at 75c a crate.

Mr. Ryan smiled like a spring day and stepped around as airily and lively as a kitten in a hot oven. Everybody seemed pleased, and it now remains to be seen how long they will remain that way.

TO KEEP SKIN WHITE, VELVETY, WRINKLE-FREE

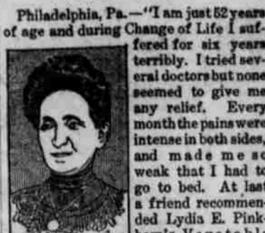

C. M. W. says: "I perspire so excessively that powder makes my face streaky these days and creams make it greasy and shiny. What can I do?" Try the treatment recommended to "Anise."

A. F. G. writes: "My skin seems so loose and wrinkly in hot weather. What will help it?" Use a wash lotion made by dissolving one oz. powdered salolite in 1/2 pint witch hazel. This is immediately effective in any wrinkled or flabby condition. Use daily for awhile and results will astonish you.

Anise: A simple way to keep your skin smooth, soft and white is to apply ordinary mercurized wax before retiring, washing it off in the morning. This keeps the face free from the particles of lifeless cuticle which constantly appear. The wax absorbs these worn-out particles, so the younger, fresher, healthier skin is always in view. An ounce of mercurized wax may be had at small cost at any drug store. Use like cold cream.—Aunt Sally in Woman's Realm.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THE WORKSHOP OF SATANIC MAJESTY

Liable to Close as Result of a Hum of Industry.

An idle mind is said to be the workshop of the devil, and so it is a wonderful thing to store our minds with good thoughts and happy environment, and thus keep our eyes bright and our hearts young. It is the duty of parents to guide their children in the sweet avenues so that for all time they will be equipped with ingenuity and a desire to see only the attractive and the good.

In every age women and children have made history by their devotion to dainty and artistic embroidery. Queens, princesses and peasants, in olden times were on the same footing in their love for fancy work. And, our own American nation, our good old Pilgrim stock, the women who did so much to mold this glorious country of ours, were all wrapped up in their needlework.

Mothers, teach your girls to use the needle. Pass away your own spare moments in enjoyment forming dainty conceits for your own wear, for the girls, for the babies. Today and now—your only investment, 48 cents and 4 coupons of consecutive dates. You secure 200 patterns, a complete pamphlet of instructions, an embroidery hoop, 5 skeins of silk, 5 skeins of floss, and it is the biggest value ever heard of, aside from the fact that every moment is a profitable one to you that you spend making priceless wearing apparel for yourself and your loved ones. Commence clipping coupons now and start your embroidering under the most favorable circumstances—the embroidered pieces will delight you and every member of your family when you have them ready.

FLEW OVER THE ALPS

ALTITUDE 15,217 FEET

Geneva, Switzerland, July 28.—Achille Landini, the Italian aviator, and Dr. Lampugnani, who accompanied him as a passenger, were inundated with congratulations from flying men all over Europe today on their successful trans-Alpine flight Monday from Novara, Italy, to Vich, a distance of 109 miles, which it took them three hours to cover. The air voyage was over the Monte Rosa range, 15,217 feet in height. It was without noteworthy incident.

By it Landini established a record in mountain aviation.

FIRE A LIVELY ONE BUT NOT SERIOUS

Portland, Ore., July 28.—Originating in the kitchen of "Pap's" restaurant in the west approach to the Morrison street bridge, fire early today destroyed several frame buildings and gutted the rear of the Esmond hotel annex, a Japanese rooming house, causing a loss of $3,000, fully covered by insurance.

Prompt response by the fire department probably saved the rest of the block of buildings between Morrison, Alder and Front streets and the Willamette river.

Mrs. I. Johnson, proprietress of "Pap's" restaurant, was overcome by smoke and was carried from the building by an officer.

At no time did the fire attain dangerous proportions.

A number of lodgers at the Esmond hotel and the Esmond annex were roughly awakened immediately after the fire and many of the Japanese, terror-stricken, rushed to the sidewalk carrying their portable effects with them.

SAMUEL HILL SCORED.

Good Roads Advocates Allege That a Washington Man Would be Dictator

Medford, Ore., July 28.—Severe condemnation of Samuel Hill for attempted dictation of the good-road policy of Oregon and his alleged effort to change the route of the Pacific highway from Willamette valley to eastern Oregon and the launching of a campaign for the states themselves to go into the road-making business marked the second annual convention of the Tri-State Good Roads association, which opened here today, with 100 delegates from California, Oregon and Washington.

W. H. Gore, of Medford; George E. Boos, secretary of the association; B. F. Nichols, of Riddle, Ore., and John H. Alberts, of Salem, Ore., all took occasion to criticize the prominent good-road advocate and president of the Pacific Highway association, while Bert R. Greer, of Ashland, Ore., and other delegates, who opposed Mr. Hill's attempt to change the Pacific highway route, warmly supported his efforts on behalf of better roads throughout the three states.

Letter Leads to Argument.

The discussion followed a letter read by the secretary from Mr. Hill, in which he declared the refusal of Marion and other counties in the Willamette valley to bond for good roads made the construction of the Pacific highway through that section practically an impossibility.

In welcoming the delegates, W. H. Gore, of Medford, president of the Medford National bank, said he was not surprised at the letter from Mr. Hill, as Mr. Hill, several years ago, had endeavored to persuade him that the logical route for the Pacific highway was through central Oregon, rather than through the Rogue river, Umpqua and Willamette valleys.

"I told Mr. Hill what I believe now," said Mr. Gore—"that, while sectionalism and petty partisanship have no place in our good-road policy and the people of eastern Oregon, as well as the people of northern and southern Oregon, deserve good roads and should have them, nevertheless the immediate need and the first work to be done is to supply that portion of the state which is most thickly settled with the first section of the Pacific highway and that section runs through the state from Ashland through Grants Pass, Eugene to Portland."

Price Called Excessive.

B. F. Nichols, of Riddle, Ore., and John H. Alberts, of Salem, Ore., also criticized Mr. Hill's attitude, while Secretary Boos said Mr. Hill's estimate of $20,000,000 as the cost of the Pacific highway through the Cow Creek canyon and the cities of western Oregon was not only excessive, but would discourage rather than encourage good-road work in the state.

The first speech in favor of all trunk lines like the Pacific highway being constructed by the state, with funds built by the counties, was made by Judge Watson, of Ashland. He was followed by Frederick Hollenberg, of Corvallis, who explained, by a printed circular which was passed through the audience, the plan of Sam H. Moore, also of that city. This plan in general advocates all road work be carried on under the central authority of state with aid from the government, the state to buy if necessary, or through condemnation, all rock quarries and cement plants necessary to road construction and carry on the work for the counties at cost. The plan maintains county bonding is inadequate and extravagant, because it lacks uniformity and sufficient size to get the greatest efficiency.

THE VERY BEST METHOD

Of Transferring Embroidery Designs to the Material

THE HOT IRON METHOD

WHY?

BECAUSE it can be easily and simply done.

BECAUSE it transfers accurately with little cost.

BECAUSE this method has been the one in use for several generations.

BECAUSE it is the method known by every woman and used by all high-class concerns.

BECAUSE the pattern is not weakened by moisture, which crumples the paper, rendering it impossible to secure a perfect transfer.

BECAUSE the paper is of such superior quality that it isn't likely to wear out by constant friction before any transfer can be made.

BECAUSE all liability to smear and ruin both the fabric and the design is obviated

BECAUSE the hot iron patterns are the kind sold everywhere and the kind with which every woman is familiar.

BECAUSE the patterns to be used by the moistening process must be printed on a weak fibrous paper, are difficult to handle and liable to smear the goods and give at best an imperfect design.

BECAUSE the hot-iron transfer patterns can be used on linens, toweling and other materials that have a hard rough surface precluding the use of other patterns.
