McLintuff who preceded her shortly after the marriage ceremony almost a month ago. Mrs. McLintuff went to Portland where she will take steamer direct to Marshfield. By convenience of one of the deputies in the county clerk's office the fact that a marriage license had been issued was kept a secret until after the ceremony was performed by Circuit Judge Galloway on July 2. Unable to keep the secret successfully it was soon known to intimate friends of the bride and groom. During the past few weeks many showers have been given in honor of the bride's supposedly forth coming marriage.

Mr. McLintuff, who was formerly circulation manager for the Capital Journal, graduated from the Willamette University College of Law with the class of 1913 and has taken up the practice of the profession. N. McLintuff, preacher, missionary to Japan, and also a graduate of the Willamette University College of Law. Both young people have hosts of friends in Salem who wish them well.

Mr. and Mrs. Cosper were married January 1, 1914, in Vancouver, Washington, but owing to the death of Mrs. Cosper's father which occurred a few months before, the event was kept a secret.

Mrs. Cosper has been with the Meyers Department Store for several years, and has many friends in Salem. She is the daughter of Mrs. Anna E. Stenstrom, nee Cosper, a former Seattle man, now a resident of Portland.

BIRTHDAY DOINGS AT THE OLD POLES' HOME

At the Old People's Home there will be a birthday celebration tomorrow with a big cake in honor of "Grandma" Biggs, next to the oldest female inmate, who will celebrate her seventy-ninth natal day. There are nine dear old men and women at the home now, and these festival days always bring joy to their hearts. Some local ladies keep in mind the birth dates of the folks at the home and do not forget them as they come, but last month Grandma Biggs received a token on June 30. She thought for awhile, smiled and, remembering her approaching birthday, said: "The idea; I reckon 'twill be still nicer to have it a month ahead of time." Miss Boetticher, the matron, never forgets to make a special cake for the birthday.

allies would first put up a desperate struggle.

An able-bodied Servians, regardless of age, had been mobilized, it was stated. White-haired old men and mere boys were said to be in the ranks.

In France all army leaves, of absence were cancelled and a concentration of troops on the frontier was in progress. President Poincare, who has been visiting in St. Petersburg and Stockholm, arrived home and was received with a patriotic demonstration.

The president showed the keenest interest in the situation in Alsace-Lorraine, whence it was reported Germany was preparing to expel all the French residents. He is himself a native of Lorraine. Throngs followed him from the railroad station to the Elysee palace.

With a European war threatening, disquieting news was received from France's African possessions. It was officially admitted that French troops lost 50 men killed and 90 wounded, and that they killed about 150 natives in a fight near Tazekra, Morocco, Sunday.

Natives in other parts of Morocco were reported increasingly troublesome.

Ozar Notifies Kaiser. London, July 29.—That the czar had personally notified the kaiser that Russia would mobilize its army if Austria invaded Serbia was stated here today on high authority.

It was considered certain Germany would mobilize if Russia did so. Austrians and Servians were preparing today for their open battle. Six Austrian army corps were advancing through Hungary, and the province of Bosnia on the Serbian frontier.

The British cabinet was feverishly discussing plans for averting a general conflict.

Many believed the imminence of the danger would result in a compromise of the home rule controversy. There seemed to be a general feeling that internal troubles should not be permitted to weaken the country at a time when it was threatened from abroad. Both home rulers and anti-home rulers showed a more conciliatory spirit.

Unofficial reports Monday that the railroad bridge across the Save river, between Belgrade and Semlin, had been dynamited were confirmed today in an official bulletin to the war office.

In a manifesto issued Tuesday night Emperor Francis Joseph told of the fervency with which he had hoped to save Austria during his declining years from the burdens and sacrifices of war. "But the intrigues of a malevolent opponent," continued the emperor, "compel me, in defense of the honor of my monarchy and for the security of its possessions, to grasp the sword after long years of peace."

A series of murderous attacks in an organized and well carried out conspiracy, whose success wounded me and my loyal people to the heart, forms the visible and bloody track of those secret machinations which were operated direct in Serbia.

"In vain did my government make a last attempt to induce Serbia to desist. Serbia rejected the just and moderate demands of my government and refused to conform to the obligations forming the national foundation for peace in the life of peoples and statesmen. I must therefore proceed by force of arms to secure those pledges which alone can insure tranquility to states."

"In this solemn hour I am fully conscious of the whole significance of my resolve and my responsibility before the Almighty."

"I have examined and weighed everything and with my conscience clear I set out on the path that duty points."

"I trust in my people, who through-out every storm have always rallied in united loyalty around my throne and have always been prepared for the greatest sacrifices for the honor, greatness and might of the fatherland. I must therefore proceed by force of arms to secure those pledges which alone can insure tranquility to states."

TO KEEP THE RIVER UNDER THE BRIDGE

In regard to the matter of a proposed bridge across the Willamette river at this place and also for adequate protection for the west bank of the river and to keep the river in its present channel, Representative Willis C. Hawley, congressman from the First district, has written to the Salem commercial club that he has laid the matter before the engineers of the war department, who in turn have taken it up with the local engineer at Portland for investigation and a report.

The matter of the proposed bridge and protection for the river bank was brought to the attention of Representative Hawley by the board of governors of the commercial club in an attempt to save the west bank from being washed away by the river, the current of which is slowly eating its way into West Salem. The danger of a sudden freshet tearing out a new channel through West Salem and diverting the river from its present course is a material one and causes concern among those who see that Salem may awake some morning and find herself isolated while the river rises down another channel.

Protection for that bank therefore is asked. Already the tendency of the river is to cut off on a line with the base of the hills, which would leave Salem high and "dry" and isolate the west end of the approach. It is necessary that the bank be kept intact if any stability is to be given to the new bridge that is expected will be built if the money can be appropriated.

According to Representative Hawley, he will do all he can to have the bank protected. As soon as the report of the Portland engineer is sent to the war department the matter will come up for further consideration.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a Sign You Have Been Beating Too Much Meat Which Forms Uric Acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sore, paralyzed and laggard.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life savor for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

ship, and also of the dynamiting of a bridge over the Save river by Servians. The St. Petersburg dispatch was believed to refer to the same incidents mentioned in the official bulletin issued by the foreign office at Vienna—the capture of three Servian ships and the firing by Austrians on the Servian position earlier in the week.

Servia Got First Blood in Seattle. Seattle, Wash., July 29.—Servia drew first blood in a controversial last night between Jim Clinco and Joe Mapechik in a Washington street restaurant. The Greek proprietor objected to their choice of battle ground and called for American intervention. Joe landed in the hospital suffering from a knife wound and Jim is meditating in jail.

Some Real Fighting. London, July 29.—Dispatches received here late today from St. Petersburg declared that official word had been received from Belgrade of the shelling of Servian troops by an Austro-Hungarian.

LADD & BUSH ANNOUNCE SAVINGS DEPARTMENT OPENING. On Saturday morning, August 1, at 10 o'clock, Ladd & Bush will open for the first time a savings department where interest will be paid on savings deposits.

Owing to the demand of modern times for this branch of banking, Ladd & Bush have had this department under consideration since before the remodeling of the bank, at which time all preparations were made to establish the department, even to the procuring of the stationery and the bronze signs to be placed over window No. 6, and have now decided to open it for the accommodation of those who desire this branch of banking service.

This branch of the bank will be patterned after the larger savings institutions of the country and will be governed by rules similar to those followed by the above mentioned institutions, paying three per cent interest as they do, compounded semi-annually on the first day of January and July. The department will be separate and distinct from the commercial department of the bank, and the funds deposited in the savings department will not be used to carry on the commercial business but will be loaned on secured loans.

The opening of the Ladd & Bush savings department will give to Salem and vicinity one of the best savings departments in the city, as they have the reputation of carrying a large reserve, fifty per cent of which is carried in their own vaults, which are the best west of Omaha.

NO MORE AUTO RACING FOR BEAT DINGLEY. Tacoma, Wash., July 29.—No more auto racing for mine, was the positive declaration here today of Beat Dingley, the Los Angeles driver injured in the Fourth of July race, as a lay witness to his bed in the Tacoma general hospital and discussed for the first time the accident that almost caused his death.

"I died once, or was just as good as dead," said Dingley. "I can't remember a thing that happened on the day of the race. I suppose I'll be here another month before I can get out on crutches."

The market closed strong.

Wheat Takes a Drop.

Chicago, July 29.—Wheat opened from 7.8 to 4 1/2 cents lower today. Cables from Liverpool that the war outlook was more favorable caused the reaction. The pit was still greatly excited to-day. Daddy's Bedtime Story

How the Crow Lost His Beautiful White Feathers.

He Scared Loki Away.

"KIDNAPERS, you know how black the feathers of the crow are now. Would you like to hear about them when they were a beautiful white?"

"There was a merry twink in daddy's eye as Jack and Evelyn settled for the evening story which the children knew meant a mythical tale. 'Oh, daddy, weren't they always black?' cried Evelyn.

"My, no!" laughed daddy. "They used to be the purest white you ever saw. They turned black because Loki, the god of envy, disguised himself as a white crow and then did heaps of things that he should not have done."

"Loki sounds like a Japanese name. Is it a Japanese story, daddy?" "No, dearie! It's an ancient Teutonic legend. In this legend Balder, the god of mirth and merriment, was not immortal, so the other gods prayed to Thor, the greatest god of all, to make Balder immortal.

"Thor said this prayer should be answered if every animal and plant would swear not to injure Balder. Nanna, Balder's wife, like the good wife she was went right around to all the plants and animals to ask them to take an oath never to injure her husband.

"But you see, six little Loki, the god of envy, didn't want the god of mirth and merriment to be immortal. He didn't want anything so fine as that to happen. So he disguised himself as a beautiful white crow and flew just as fast as he could after Balder's wife, Nanna.
