

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR

"I know a little mountain nook,
A pictured page in Nature's book;
Within a canyon purple deep,
Where romping waters dance and leap."

SO SANG one of Oregon's own poets, as he drank in the beauties surrounding the Klosee Illahee or good country in which we dwell. A stroll through the woods near the banks of the Willamette, or a row on the waters, brings keen enjoyment to the Salem resident or guest who winds thitherward these sunny summer days. Merry groups of nature-loving folks can be sited for miles along the river, among whom are the Fred Thielsen, the John J. Roberts, the T. A. Livesley, the Asahel Bushes, the S. G. Sargents, the T. C. Smiths and the Melvin Plimptons.

Gay groups of swimmers, the ladies with their pretty tango-colored and rainbow-hued diving caps, in evidence, and the men splashing the waters high "just to wet" said caps, form one diversion. Other groups can be heard if not seen with their songs—sometimes a Victrola has been carried along for those who are practicing the woodland dances, then the stringed instruments can be heard, and oftentimes the quaint ukulele, the little Hawaiian guitar which delights the melodious ones. Mothers and their children spend the warm days down by the river, and are joined in the evening by the men folks who arrive for the evening meal, the whole family relishing the diversified cooking. Remembering the continental benefit, the heart of the Oregonian is gladdened by even these little outings, which are so easily within reach and which are our war-free, happy privilege.

WEDNESDAY was chosen as the wedding day of Geneva B. Goodrich and Claire C. Simeral, which was solemnized at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Goodrich, of 482 South High street.

Charming in every detail were the arrangements for the wedding party. Master Lloyd Claggett, a nephew of the bride, was the flower boy, scattering rose petals before Hymen's altar. The bride entered attended by her sister, Mrs. Roy M. Savage, the matron of honor. She wore an exquisite white chiffon gown, garnished with real lace, draped over mesaline, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. She was met by the groom and another little nephew, Charles Claggett, who was the ring-bearer. Rev. Peter Burnett, of McMinville, who united the bride's parents in marriage 37 years ago in Salem, read the ceremony.

Immediately following a wedding breakfast was served. Masses of brilliant red dahlias combined with geranium foliage created the beautifully appointed table. Throughout the entire scheme of red and green was marked. The house was beautifully decorated, a profusion of August flowers were effectively arranged, making the rooms a bower of beauty. Assisting were girlhood friends of the bride, the Misses Rose Craft, Ruth Newmeyer, Beatrice Crawford and Agnes Hall.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Clarence Simeral, wore a gown which was kept from her wedding day 23 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Simeral left the same afternoon amidst a levy of friends on the 4:40 train for Newport, where they will spend a fortnight. Mr. Simeral is employed at the office of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company and the young couple will be at home after September 1 at 297 South Fifteenth street.

Accompanied by her little daughter, Prudence, Mrs. George Gray left Tuesday for Newport, where she will spend a fortnight visiting her sister, Mrs. A. M. Cannon, of Portland, and the latter's summer home.

Miss Jeanette Booth will entertain at a picnic dinner Sunday at the country home near Liveley, complimenting Miss Althea Kimmel, house guest of Mrs. C. J. Green. A dozen friends of the honored guest had been invited and a musical afternoon has been planned.

Beaver State Printers
Society and Commercial Printing.
Phone 1512.
Rooms 1-3, Patton Block

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Brownies Give a Raspberry Hunt.

JACK and Evelyn had been picking raspberries all the afternoon, and they had had them for their supper. Not only that, but when daddy came up to tell them their story they had a nice saucer of them awaiting him, with delicious thick cream to put over them.

"These are wonderful," said daddy. "I don't know when I have had such good raspberries as these are."

"You certainly ought to have a saucer of them when Jack and I picked the very biggest ones, thinking how much you would enjoy them," said Evelyn.

"Yes," chimed in Jack; "we knew you were so fond of them."

"The brownies are very fond of them, too," said daddy.

"Are they really?" asked Evelyn.

"Indeed, they are!" continued daddy. "They had a raspberry hunt the other day and invited the elves to join. They hunted with partners."

"They offered a prize for the brownie and elf finding the greatest number of raspberries and also for the two who found the biggest and reddest raspberry, and yet another prize did they have for the pair who found both the greatest number as well as the largest sizes of white raspberries."

"You see, none of them were so fond of the white berries as they were of the red ones, and so they gave more prizes for the successful red raspberry hunters."

"And what do you suppose the prizes were?"

"We never could guess," said Evelyn.

"Well, let's try to guess," said Jack. "I guess that they gave queerly made stones."

Jack had been making a collection of all the queer stones he could find.

"Why, you're right," said daddy.

"They gave very strange looking stones which had fans drawn over them, and in the center of these stones were big hollows. In these hollows they put the raspberries, and then every one took the raspberries from these stones and had a most delicious supper."

"After they had eaten quite as many raspberries as they could they washed out the stones in the clear brook water, and then they each in turn drank from one of the prizes. And never, I can assure you, did water taste so refreshing."

"They hadn't eaten up all the raspberries they had found by any manner of means. So one of the brownies suggested that they should all set to work and make a basket of moss and send a present of the raspberries they had found to the fairy queen and all the fairies."

"They did this, and the fairy queen and the little fairies were much pleased with their appetizing present."

ELICITATIONS

are being sent to Captain and Mrs. F. A. Ramsey, upon the arrival of a daughter, born to them on August 14, at Charleston, South Carolina. Captain Ramsey is the son of Judge Ramsey of the Oregon supreme court. A telegram reached the George Bingham family yesterday, and the news of the happy event was given to the many friends of the Ramsey family, in Salem. The F. A. Ramsey have been residents of Salem for many years and still cling to Salem as their native town. Captain Ramsey enlisted as head of the marine corps in the southern city from the home post of Salem.

A quiet home wedding took place Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock when Bernice E. Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Reid, of 251 South Seventeenth street, became the bride of Fay Howe, Rev. Richard N. Avison read the marriage ceremony in the presence of the immediate family. The rooms were prettily decorated in asters, sweet peas and clematis and a wedding supper was served, immediately after the nuptial vow was spoken. The bride has been on the teaching staff of the feeble minded school for ten years and the groom is also well known at the institution, being employed as an electrical engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Catterlin, of Marshfield, visited during the mid-week at the home of their parents Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Catterlin on North Twenty-second street. They went to Portland Thursday but expect to visit in Salem again the coming week.

SWEET peas, in variegated abundance, were used profusely for decorations at the charming bridge party, given by Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Wednesday afternoon at her home on Liberty street. Although it was an informal midsummer afternoon affair it was welcomed gladly by many of the society matrons who are returning from the beach and getting ready for the fall social season. Those invited were Mesdames, George G. Brown, L. F. Griffith, M. L. Meyers, Frank Merrill, E. Cooke Patton, George L. Rose, Joe Baumgartner, George E. Rodgers, C. L. McNary, P. W. Durbin, T. R. Wilson, W. A. Cusick, Frank Irwin, Zaidie Thomas, Ralph A. Watson and F. C. Catterlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Locke and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker, are expected home Monday from their month's stay at the ocean where they were at "Sunset Cottage" at Nyebeach.

Mrs. J. A. Grant and Miss Laura Grant returned home yesterday from a ten day's sojourn at Nye Beach. The H. E. Bolinger family and the G. W. Laflairs are expected home today.

Mrs. Rosece G. Aschey and son Karl of Portland, visited Mrs. Aschey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Koeneke, on Nineteenth street, during the week. They returned home on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Irvin will leave on Monday for Ocean Park, where they will spend a fortnight visiting Mrs. Irvin's brother, George Clapper.

DR. AND MRS. E. E. FISHER are entertaining at a dinner party this evening, complimenting Miss Mina Cook on her birthday anniversary. Following an enjoyable impromptu musical program the guests will repair to the dining room where a dainty repast has been prepared.

The girl friends of Miss Cook who are sharing the beautiful hospitality with her are Miss Viola Fisher, Miss Ruth Perlek, Miss Anna Plinsky and Miss Ruth Sterling.

A birthday surprise party was given Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Fernie Givens at her home in North Salem. Friends, knowing of the birthday anniversary, planned a delightful party for her. Miss Georgin Mills, a talented electionist, gave readings during the evening. Music and games were also enjoyed. Those present were: Miss Rachel Gray, Miss Carrie Rents, Miss Celia Davis, Miss LaVerne Whip, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Given, Roy Palm, Oscar Edlund, Howard Svade, Sammie Bullock, Lloyd Clinkenberg and Lloyd Young.

Mrs. John H. McNary gave an informal bridge party, of three tables Thursday for her nieces, the Misses Margaret and Gertrude Gray of Seattle, who have been her guests for the past month. The Misses Gray have been much entertained in Portland and Salem. They will leave tomorrow for their home in Seattle.

Invitations were issued during the week for the marriage of Jessie Elizabeth McElroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McElroy, and Eugene F. Duncan, which will be held Sunday, August sixteenth, at three o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents on 1920 North Sumner street. The ceremony will be read by Rev. Mr. McKinley of Spring Valley in the presence of relatives and near friends.

The Sunday school picnic of the Central Congregational church was participated in Thursday by about 100 members, their parents and friends. It was held at the fair grounds and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all. A picnic dinner was spread at the noon hour.

The Loyal Sons and Loyal Daughters, of the First Christian church, held their first social meeting of the early fall season on Wednesday evening. Twenty-five young people were out to enjoy themselves in the social room with games and chatting. Light refreshments were served. The class plans on holding these social evenings regularly each month.

Miss Lulu Goin, of Jefferson, visited friends here yesterday.

NINE BIG LINERS LEAVE NEW YORK TODAY

New York, Aug. 15.—Nine big trans-Atlantic liners were scheduled to leave this port for European points before 9 o'clock tonight.

The Cedric, with her same painted out, sailed this morning. British warships were waiting outside the harbor to convey her to Halifax. The British warship Good Hope will escort the Cedric from Halifax to Liverpool.

More than 2,000 reservists were about various ships here, awaiting transportation to Holland, French, Italian and British ports.

ROSEBURG PIONEER DIES

Roseburg, Ore., Aug. 15.—John Aiken, one of the best known residents of this city, died at the family home on South Main street at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after an illness of several weeks. He was a native of Douglas county and had lived here all of his life. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Aiken, who is a member of the K. of P. lodge. Mr. Aiken was a man of sterling qualities and has a host of friends throughout this county who regret to learn of his demise.

street wear they are absolutely the only permissible sleeves as the total absence of arm covering still holds good for evening toilettes it is simply a case of long sleeves or none. While the velvet and satin basques all show uncomproisingly long tight sleeves of the same materials, long sleeves of lace and tulle are very smart in combination with the silken bodices of many of the dresy little afternoon frocks of taffeta or crepe. The lingerie gloves are all showing the long sheer sleeves now, and a pretty fall is the wearing of a circlet of tiny rosebuds or some other small artificial flowers between the elbow and the shoulder to peer through the mist of lace or tulle. Bracelets of sparkling jewels are also given a welcome haven like position and many are the fortunes in gems that one poi fair maid is thus enabled to keep up her levee.

As a sort of reaction against the multi-colored strands of beads that have all summer decorated the bosoms of both Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's lady, that latter personage is now going in exclusively for strands of pearls. Real or otherwise strings of these lustrous tear-like jewels show to best advantage atop the background of the black velvet basque and, contrary to the long accepted decree that pearls before breakfast were as bad as pearls before swine, pearls are now being flaunted in the face of tradition and the rosy dawn.

The present penchant for the chaste pearl has by no means completely done for the beads of many colors, however. As brilliant beaded hands for dress trimming, and as fringe and garnishment on purses and bags of silk and velvet they will fulfill a different but an equally prominent sphere this fall and winter.

There certainly is nothing half way about Fashion and from the extremity of no sleeves at all, or at least none to speak of, the long sleeve is now being the dernier cri. For afternoon and

SOCIETY TO FURNISH MOVIES TO CHURCHES

One of the biggest religious and educational movements in the history of this country is now comfortably housed at No. 18 East 41st street in one of New York's newest office buildings. At its head is the Duke of Manchester, and seconding him is Dr. William Carter, former pastor of the Madison avenue Reformed church and a lecturer of note.

The organization of which the duke is the head is the International Educational League and he is international vice-president of the Inter-Church Social Service Bureau of which Dr. Carter is president. The two organizations have become allied through a common purpose, which is to put motion pictures in the schools, churches and other religious and educational institutions throughout the United States.

The service which these two organizations will give will have been started by the first of October and will cover as wide a field as possible from the first. Later, as the field is enlarged, there will be additions to the service and policy and the serving of 10,000 churches and schools is anticipated as one of the possibilities of the next five years.

The Inter-Church Social Service Bureau has already bought a large number of religious and educational films and will continue to get the best in that line, while the contracts are already drawn for many clean dramas and comedies which will be shown in the weekly program of pictures showing subjects which will embrace religion, travel, sociology, education including especially stories taken from the Bible.

For the first few months, the Inter-Church Social Service Bureau will not make any of its own films, but next year will see considerable studio activity on the part of the organization. The service is to be supplied to churches at very low cost for 5000 feet of film divided into five subjects. This service will include the installation of a screen and moving picture projecting machine. In the service which will cost more the bureau not only will supply these things, but will send an expert operator to the church to install the machine and teach a local member of the church how to run it.

The present plans of the bureau for making films is about this way: Three companies of actors are to be formed. One will be sent to Palestine to enact Bible stories amid the original scenes which surround the doings of men and women who are told about in Holy Writ. Another company will go to Egypt for the same purpose, and a third company will be sent on a tour of the mission fields of the world to enact stories written around the mission work of all denominations. These later are expected to give those who support the missions a better idea of what is going on there.

As the work is enlarged local companies will be chosen to present domestic and present-day drama and comedy which will be used as a part of the bureau's program each week. Dr. Carter is president of the bureau;

HAVE SHIPPED LARGE QUANTITIES OF MEAT

Claim Ten Million Pounds Have Been Shipped—Also Stated Sugar Refiners Are Holding Back Product.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Federal District Attorney Wilkerson was informed here today that Chicago meat packers had shipped nearly 10,000,000 pounds of meat to Canada since the war started. The meat, it was said, will be used in England.

Government investigators also have reported that train loads of provisions, billed to the British government, were leaving daily for Canadian points. Evidence received by Wilkerson contradicted an assertion by packers here that the order received Thursday by the Armour Packing company for 2,000,000 pounds of beef was the first foreign war order received.

"I have decided," said Wilkerson this afternoon, "to summon everyone connected with the case." State's Attorney Hoynes was conducting a separate probe today into the boosting of foodstuffs prices. Federal district attorneys and agents of the department of justice have uniformly reported that the advance in the price of foodstuffs seems unwarranted. The Kansas City agent of the justice department wired Attorney General McReynolds this afternoon that the beet sugar crop was being held back for some unknown reason. The Toledo agent reported that the California beet sugar crop, usually marketed August 1, has not appeared yet.

PERSONALS

Major Bowlby, the state highway engineer, went to Portland today on business connected with the office. Engineer Purcell, who has charge of the bridges, went to St. Helens today to let the contracts for four bridges on the Nehalem highway.

Carl Smith, assistant secretary of the state railroad commission, returned today from Portland, where he has been for several days on business.

Mrs. Lillian Morris, of Seattle, is visiting her sister, Miss Anna Berg, a local nurse.

Miss Perlek returned Tuesday from a vacation spent at Tillamook.

Tom Wilson, of the penitentiary staff has been at the Salem hospital for a week, following an operation.

Miss Clara Miller returned last Monday, after spending several months at her home in Eastern Oregon.

Miss Lenora Staley returned today from a week's visit in Portland. Monday she expects to go to Albany for a short vacation visit.

Louis J. Compton, secretary of the Salem Y. M. C. A., went to Portland this morning in the interest of the association. He is expected to remain in the Rose City over Sunday.

The Duke of Manchester is the international vice-president, and Dr. Chas. H. Pankhurst is vice-president.

The advisory board contains the names of many men high in ecclesiastical and educational circles in the United States.

CAMERA MAN CATCHES WEALTH AND FASHION AT NEWPORT'S GAY SHOW.

FROM LEFT TO RIGHT
MISS JANET FISH, MRS. FREDERIC NELSON,
MRS. REGINALD C. VANDERBILT, MRS. GEORGE
BAKHMETEFF, AND MRS. STUYVESANT FISH

American wealth and fashion is depicted in the accompanying picture. As the camera man got busy at Newport he gathered in such lights of society as Miss Janet Fish, Mrs. Frederic Nelson, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Mrs. George Bakhmeteff and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, who are as prominent abroad as they are in the United States. Newport, R. I., has been the Mecca for the swell set for years and continues as popular as ever.