CONGRESS WILL APPROVE

Washington, Oct. 18.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today expressed confidence that congress will "substantially approve" the program of navy preparedness. He had not received any protests from the "little navy" congressmen, though he admitted opposition from the extreme pacifists is probable. He declared that the reasonable five year program "he has mapped" will commend itself to many of the former little navy advocates.

THE MILLION DOLLAR MOONSHINE CONSPIRACY

Port Smith, Ark., Oct. 18.—Trials of the big group of officials, distillers and employes, involved in the alleged "million dollar moonshine conspiracy" went over today until tomorrow. Leo P. Brock of Los Angeles, one defendant in the moonshine case, is under an examination as to his sanity.

Officials and counsel for some of the defendants conferred this afternoon and as a result several pleas of guilty are expected. The government asserted that it was entitled out of thousands of dollars worth of internal revenue over a period of years, as a result of the operations of a big Kansas City distiller with a plant here and of others, through a conspiracy with internal revenue agents. Several prominent men in the service are under indictment, along with weighers and other employes of the distillery in question.

ALLIES LAND TROOPS AT TURKISH SEAPORT

Seize Railroad That Permits Sending Troops to Serbia —May Quit Dardanelles

Rome, Oct. 18.—The allies landed at Enos today, according to the Messagero and seized the neighboring Dedeagatch railroad.

Enos is a seaport town of European Turkey, 38 miles northwest of Gallipoli on the Aegean sea at the mouth of the Maritza river in the Gulf of Enos. The narrowness of this to Gallipoli may mean that the allies have done, as was suggested last week they ought to do, withdraw troops from the Dardanelles operations.

By seizing the Dedeagatch railway, the allies are in a position to send troops toward Sofia or toward Constantinople provided they reach Kuleli Burgas, where the Dedeagatch railroad joins the Sofia-Constantinople road. Suggestions were heard last week that the allies might abandon the Dardanelles operations without abandoning the effort to reach the capital of the Ottoman empire.

On the other hand, the reported move places them in a position to join other allied troops who went to the aid of Serbia via Salonika.

Portland Boosters Are Coming to Salem

The manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, George E. Hardy, will come to Salem Wednesday noon, accompanied by A. J. Kingsley, D. C. Freeman, O. M. Plummer and H. B. Miller, men all prominent in the affairs of that city.

The special object of these men of affairs is to talk before the school children Wednesday afternoon concerning the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show to be held in Portland, and to address the citizens of the city in the evening at the several theaters.

In order that all the business and professional men of the city may have an opportunity to hear Mr. Hardy, a six o'clock dinner will be given at the Marion hotel, when it is expected the commercial club and Cherrins will be present. Mr. Hardy is the new manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, draws a salary of $6,000 a year from that organization, and comes from Toledo, Ohio, where he has been known as a shipping expert. As a man of the responsible position as manager and executive secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Hardy will doubtless bring a message worth hearing.

Would Pay For Alaska In Six Months Run

The Kennecott copper mine at the head of the Copper river, Alaska, is now producing each month copper valued at $1,440,000 it was announced here today. If it continues to maintain the record of production maintained the past four months, it will, within six months have produced more than Alaska's purchase price.

Body of Clarke County Murderer Is Found

Vancouver, Wash., Oct. 18.—With the finding of the body of Henry Hower, a victim of the same shotgun with which he had shot and killed Mrs. D. P. Clark, at Ambey Friday night, the last chapter of a tragedy which has shocked all of Clarke county, is written today.

Hower committed suicide after laying all night in the brush near his home which he had burned shortly after killing Mrs. Clark. Nearby were his cows and two horses, suffering from wounds he had inflicted with the shotgun before taking his own life.

Beside the body were found several notes written by Hower while he lay concealed, with the sound of possession surging through undergrowth in search of him constantly in his ears.

One of the notes confirmed the fact that Hower had killed Mrs. Clark because he believed that she had been instrumental in inducing his wife to leave him, and another said he had shot his domestic animals to keep them from falling into the hands of others.

THE HOMELESS GOT IT

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 18.—"Thou shalt not steal." Rev. E. J. Dobrovich handed his watch and $8 in money over to the footpad as he looked at the muzzle of a revolver, and recited the commandment to the robber. The bandit sneered.

"I am a minister of the gospel. Do you know that this money was subscribed by hard working people, to help the unfortunate ones in Russia who have been made homeless by the war?" asked the pastor.

"Well, I know a few homeless in America who could use it and I'm one of 'em," bluntly remarked the bandit as he disappeared.

THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth in business is just as important as truthfulness in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will be wrecked by the storms of competition.

Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are unshakable, unexaggerated truths about a household remedy of real and actual worth.

The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil medicinally perfected with glycerine and hypophosphites to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from alcohol or opiates—a wholesome food-tonic, truthfully advertised.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSENG, Route No. 1, Florence, South Dakota.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

WILLAMETTE NOTES

Dean Geo. Alden appeared at chapel this morning for the first time in two weeks. He has been sick during that time, suffering from an attack of bronchitis. The dean's convalescence produced a marked change in him for he is now wearing a pair of bushy sideburns.

Rev. J. C. Spencer addressed the college Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. His talk was of special interest to those present as it dealt with the philosophy of the student. A few of the many striking statements made were: "The man who stands for power in any group of men, is that one who is a bit reserved."

"The age that has decreased man's physical importance, has at the same time increased his mental and moral responsibility."

"Distinction in personality is the reason why we go back to God as the source of power, outside of nature."

"Every persecution has developed the truth, that there is that within man that the mechanical or material aspect that the mechanical or material aspect of life."

"There is no great movement but what has the life-blood of some great man sacrificed for it."

Miss Leila McCaddam sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Esther Cox on the piano, and Miss Lucille McCubby on the violin. Next Sunday President C. D. Doney will address the Y. M.

The chapel platform was resplendent with beauty this morning; Caretaker Clark had potted some of the red geraniums and placed them on the rostrum.

Yesterday's beautiful weather called forth a number of the students to a study of nature, and the many places of interest in and near Salem were visited by the new students. Canoeing seemed to have been a popular sport for many.

PRESIDENT WILL NOT

Berkeley, Cal., Oct. 18.—California's hopes of having President Wilson and his bride visit the California exposition received a blow today, when A. G. Briggs, city clerk of Berkeley, received a letter from the president's secretary, J. P. Tumulty, stating the chief executive will not be able to visit the Pacific coast at this time.

A short time ago the city council of Berkeley addressed a formal letter to

GASOLINE STEAMER IS WRECKED; EIGHT DEAD

Hits Rocks In Dense Fog and Is Kindling Wood Fifteen Minutes Later

Point Arena, Cal., Oct. 18.—Rammung head-on into the mass of jagged rocks that line the shore 12 miles north of here, the gasoline steamer Alliance Number 2 was dashed to pieces early today in a heavy fog.

Eight of her crew and passengers perished, after they had sought safety on a pile of rocks and had been swept off by a giant wave. Two others were saved after a desperate fight with the sea.

The little steamer, bound from Vancouver, B. C., to Mexico, was in kindling within fifteen minutes after she struck.

Captain Stitt, and life savers from the Point Arena station put out into the fog, groping their way through the heavy curtains and reaching there only after a perilous trip. While no storm blew, the fog was so dense it was impossible to see ahead.

Two Are Saved.

Arriving at the wreck, they found only a pile of wood, pieces of clothes and papers.

Later however, they picked up the body of a girl named Lena Miller, of 357 Cordova street, Vancouver, a passenger.

Soon after daybreak, a farmer's wagon brought to the Point Arena station Raphael Medina, a Mexican, exhausted after buffeting the waves for 150 to 200 yards. From his disconnected speech, the station guards learned that Paymaster Ballie, a man named Johnson, a girl named Lena Miller and a Mrs. Jones, all passengers landed on the rocks after the boat crashed, but were swept off the next instant by the wave. Only Medina, and another man, picked up later, it is believed, were saved. Medina said he saw no one when he came to the surface and struggled for shore.

Girl's Body Found.

The life savers search during the morning revealed the Miller girl's body, but up to early this afternoon none of the others had been found.

Captain Stitt, of the life saving station, F. H. Warren, public administrator and several life savers, however, still continued a careful search in the hope that somewhere along shore a body with some life still in it might be found.

The Alliance II was purchased recently at Vancouver by Miguel Abitia, a Mexican and was heading for Mexico when the wreck occurred.

How the vessel got off its course, even in the heavy fog, Medina was unable to say.

SEALS SURE TO WIN.

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—The Seals, scheduled to arrive home tomorrow from Salt Lake City, where they encountered disaster last week, have not clinched the Coast league pennant, as many fans believe but Los Angeles or Salt Lake, the contending teams, have about practically no chance of supplanting the Wolverines crew.

Los Angeles and Salt Lake might have had a chance this week but for the schedule which falls for a series between those clubs at Salt Lake. Both clubs must win every game while the Seals are losing seven contests to Oakland, to win the pennant, therefore one victory for San Francisco will clinch the rag. Incidentally, one of the contending teams will be counted out after the first game.

There is always a chance of the unexpected happening in baseball, however. Oakland has always proved more troublesome to the Seals than any club in the league.
