

SALEM LYCEUM COURSE

Judge George D. Alden

No lecturer on the American platform has a finer right to claim a place in the attention of the people. A descendant of the Aldens of New England, whose names are inextricably woven into the warp and woof of American history, he inherits a deep and abiding interest in things American.

DALLAS LOCAL NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Big Game of Season Dallas, Or., Oct. 30.—The big foot-ball game of the season will be played in Dallas tomorrow afternoon when the eleven of the Dallas high school will meet the big team of the McMinville high school.

Court Presented with Flag The Polk county circuit court has been presented with a beautiful silk flag, a gift of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Sales Day Desired At a meeting held in the court house Wednesday evening at which every business and professional man of the city was present it was unanimously decided to hold a sale day in Dallas.

Forger Caught in Salem Curtis Tucker, a 16 year old lad who cashed a forged check for $5.50 at the Bee Hive store in this city last week, has been captured by the Salem police and sent to the State Training school.

Large Attendance at Institute About 150 teachers from all parts of the county are attending the annual Polk county institute being held in Dallas this week.

Personal Miss Grace Stockwell is in McMinville this week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shultz.

Miss Ella Roy of Portland has been visiting relatives and friends in this city for the past several days.

Mr. Edward Himes and little daughter returned the first of the week from a several day's visit with relatives in Salem.

Harry Hill returned the first of the week from a short business visit at Corvallis.

Miles Davis was a business visitor at Summit, Oregon, this week. Mr. Davis formerly conducted a sawmill at that place.

Mrs. Ella J. Metzger is in McMinville this week called by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Hoebler.

Judge H. H. Belt and J. C. Hayter returned Wednesday afternoon from a fishing trip on the Siletz. They caught many fish.

Mrs. Claud Lynch was a Salem visitor the first of the week.

S. H. Tetherow, a pioneer resident of Falls City, was in Dallas this week visiting relatives.

Miss Iva Staubley and Miss Pearl Uglow were guests of friends in the Capital city this week.

T. J. Winters of Independence was in Dallas visitor this week.

Leslie Wells of Salem visited with his parents in Dallas the first of the week.

WAR SHATTERS INTERESTING ROMANCE

Grand Duchess Olga.

An interesting romance has been shattered by the European war. Grand Duchess Olga of Russia, daughter of the czar, was reported a year ago as engaged to Crown Prince Boris of Bulgaria. Now Bulgaria is at war with Russia and the romance has come to an end.

Miss Vivian Holman is in Falls City this week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Tetherow.

W. D. Gilliam, a prominent sheep man of the Luekenite country was in the city this week on business.

Mrs. George Cutler and daughter, Miss Gladys, and Mrs. E. Zahn have returned from an extended visit with relatives in the middle west.

S. B. Taylor returned the first of the week from Bozzying where he has been doing some surveying for the Portland cement company.

Bert Teas, principal of the Lade, pendence school, is in Dallas this week attending the Polk county teachers' institute.

Mrs. K. N. Woods is entertaining her mother and sister who arrived the first of the week from their old home in Iowa.

Mrs. H. P. Shriver and granddaughter, Katherine Jennings, have returned from a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Hamilton at Hubbard.

Albert Teal of Falls City was in Dallas this week looking after business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Good of Salem were in the city this week visiting at the home of Mrs. Good's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Morrison, on Uglow avenue.

Miss Olga Ribberdy returned to her home in Ribberdy, Montana, Wednesday after a month's visit at the home of her cousin, Miss Ruth Barrett, on Court street.

Mrs. Walter Baker of Portland was a Dallas visitor this week with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lawrence left Tuesday for Richmond, California, where they will spend the winter at the home of their son.

Mrs. C. L. Starr of Portland is visiting relatives in Dallas this week.

W. D. Baneroff of Falls City was a Dallas business visitor this week.

Dr. W. H. Fozzard of Portland was in the city on business Thursday and Friday.

Twenty-Seven Marion Students at Oregon

(Capital Journal Special Service.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Oct. 30.—Marion county is represented by 27 students at the University of Oregon this year.

Every county in the state except four, 11 other states and two foreign countries are represented in the student body.

Marion county students, as usual, are taking an active part in the affairs of the student body.

The following are registered from Marion county: Salem—Karl Becke, Howard Bull, Donald Byrd, Constance Cartwright, Marie Churchill, Edwin P. Cox, Harry Cronise, Fred Deekebach, John Elliott, Bert Ford, Chester Higgins, Walter Kirk, Harry Lynch, Max Lynch, Kenneth Moore, Mary Tischer, Lamar Toose, Leslie Toose, Silverton—Louise Adams, Albert Hartley, Jessie Hartley, Ralph Service, Woodburn—Clair Ogle, Lynn Parr, Conby—Royce Brown, Torcer—Olia Hadley, Mill City—Joe Mizner, Halsey—Homer Morabuey.

Carranza should gather an idea from Uncle Sam's chin whiskers and depilate his chin a trifle or so.

THE MARKETS

Wholesale markets in all lines are steady. Wheat and oats are quiet at the prices prevailing for the past two weeks. The Salem egg market is higher in proportion than Portland or Seattle, and many grocers are offering an advance on the Portland quotations.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Hay, Timothy, Oats, Wheat, Corn, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Butterfat, Creamery butter, Country butter, Eggs and Poultry, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Pork, Veal and Mutton, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Cabbage, Tomatoes, String yam, Potatoes, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Oranges, Valencia, Lemons, Bananas, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Eggs, per dozen, fresh ranch, Sugar, cane, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Portland, Or., Oct. 30.—Wheat—Blue-stem, 90c@92c, Oats—No. 1 white feed, $24@25, etc.

A worthy feature of Stepek-ton's store is the bringing of Artist W. E. Gunn to Salem, giving the people of this vicinity a chance to deal directly with the artist; also to obtain portraits at actual cost of production.

Notice to Taxpayers. Notice is hereby given that we, the undersigned resident tax payers, representing ten per cent of the resident tax payers in road district No. 4, Marion county, Oregon, hereby give notice to the tax payers of said district, that there will be a meeting of the resident tax payers of said district at the school house at Champong, Oregon, on the 1st day of November, 1915, for the purpose of the preparation of an itemized estimate of the amount of money proposed to be raised by the levying of an additional tax for road purposes, in said road district.

Those Queer Advertisements. That Ladies Home Herald is starting a demoralizing fashion. "What's that?" "Why, here's a picture of a girl playing golf in a gaudy under vest and corsets."

The Home Question. Solve any day in our To-let Ad Advertisements—Houses—Rooms to-let—Fry only. 50

A Galley o' Fun!

FROM A FUTURE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

The House being in Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, and having under consideration the bill (H. R. 987654321) to grant a pension of $10 a week to every native-born or naturalized citizen who would have fought in the War of the Revolution if he had been there—

Mr. Chairman: In offering this measure I believe that I have put in a tangible form the sentiment of every loyal, patriotic, red-blooded American citizen. (Applause.)

Mr. Chairman—Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. Chairman—Certainly.

Mr. Chairman—I should like to ask whether the gentleman in offering this measure intended the pension to be $10 a week instead of $10 a month? (Prolonged Applause.)

Mr. Chairman—I answer the gentleman with pleasure. The bill is as it should be, $10 a week. (Great applause.)

May I ask the gentleman to return whether he would limit to a paltry $180 a year the return which this great nation should make to those heroes who should have given their lives freely for it in the very hour of his birth? Does he believe we should deprive them of that which every nation owes its gallant defenders because a mere accident of fate has decreed that they were not to be at Bunker Hill, at Valley Forge, at Yorktown? (Renewed applause.)

I ask rather, should we not recompense them the more liberally for the magnificent spirit with which they would have rushed to meet the oppressor because their willingness so to do is voiced without the artificial stimulus of the need itself? Nay, since the gentleman questions the amount, I say here that $40 a day would be none too much were it not that we would seem to offer no cold and artificial incentive to that priceless heritage of patriotism which is our boast as a nation. (Prolonged applause.)

Shall the nation that would limit its tribute to its heroes by the fortunes of time and chance rather than by the great underlying spirit of it. In gratitude, thy name is reason! Let us have none of it here when considering the nation's obligations to its own people! (Renewed applause.)

The question was taken, and the Committee unanimously recommended the measure to the House amid singing and cheering from both sides.

A BASE MOTIVE.

Von Blumer—I didn't come down to this hotel over Sunday to spend the night dancing, or the day in playing golf, or the interval in talking to a lot of idiots.

Mrs. Von Blumer (indignantly)—No; of course not! The only thing you care about is getting rested.

A FATAL OMISSION.

"This," said the editor, "describes the invention in graphic style, but you haven't made it complete."

"No," said the reporter. "No. You haven't said that it is destined to revolutionize the industry."

ONE VIEW OF HER.

Business Caller (looking at photograph)—This is a picture of Mrs. Peckington, I suppose?

A COMPLIMENT.

She—Ah! We can't tell what the future has in store for us!

Her Husband—Well, don't worry, dear! Whatever it is, you'll get it at a bargain.

IN OLYMPUS.

Diana—Well, you are a wonder! Where did you acquire all that stock of scientific information?

Minerva—Oh! I read the Sunday papers.

OPEN FORUM

A CITY MAN'S OPINION.

Editor Journal: Being somewhat of a sportsman myself, and living on a very small portion of God's created soil, I will say that I do not quite agree with L. H. McMahan in his editorial of October 27th.

I claim that the city man has no right to have a right to occasionally go to the country and roam over God's fields and through the timber planted and reared by the Almighty, as long as he keeps the peace and does no harm.

It is a sad fact that there are a few hawk-shy among the city people, a few who are not fit to carry a gun, or to go upon a farmer's property, but you also find a few such men upon the farm. I once knew a farmer who murdered a city man. That man must have been a criminal, at least he was convicted of the crime. I do not remember that any farmer was blamed for the crime other than the man who committed it.

Too often we see in the papers an editorial of some farmer who has lost a chicken or a sheep through the carelessness of some boy, and he immediately condemns the whole city population of the state, threatens to prosecute any city man who dares to enter his gate, plasters his place with trespass notices, and appears mad enough to eat a buzz saw running at full speed. Thank God that all the farmers are not like this, however, we have too many of them, judging from the notices we see posted in this country.

Now, Mr. Farmer, please bear in mind that sixty per cent of the entire population of this great nation dwell in the city, while forty per cent are farmers. Do you owe these city people a pleasant look or a cordial welcome to your farm for the important part they perform in this great nation? If not, why not?

They furnish a market for and consume three-fourths of your entire produce. They furnish you with the great schools to educate your children, they furnish you with the labor-saving tools that you run your farm with, they also make it possible for you to live in a modern house equipped with modern plumbing.

The cook stove and the knife and fork that you eat with its products of the city, more than all this, the farmer is cordially invited to enjoy all the pleasures and pastimes of the city and is received with a welcome by all when ever he comes to town.

The city man has thirty days out of a year to hunt in this valley. Some do not take advantage of it, very few of them hunt but little. Those who do immediately upon getting outside of the city limits, are confronted with the unsightly trespass notices plastered on the trees and fences on both sides of the public highway. (Trespassers will be prosecuted. No hunting allowed) placed there for the special benefit of the city people. Yet I do not remember of a single instance where the city people have complained through the newspapers. It must be remembered also that the farmers hunt and kill a great many more birds than the city people. In conclusion I would ask: Has the city man a right to complain? If not, why not?

W. H. DALRYMPLE.

He Wants Information.

Editor Capital Journal: I would like to use a small space in your valuable paper in asking a few questions of the State Fair Board. First, in making the arrest of the men at the entrance gate at the fair ground during the last fair, if more than one man was guilty why was the name of one of them kept out of print.

Second, if the board has the proof that these men were guilty why this matter been apparently dropped? If there is any reason why they should not be prosecuted will the board please explain it to the curious public and oblige.

Yours truly, A CITIZEN AND TAX PAYER.

Here is a Chance For Salem Philanthropists

Who will offer a home to a boy who was obliged to sell his high school books to keep from starving? And who will offer a home to a girl whose mother is sick in bed, and the family almost on the point of starvation, and yet with too much family pride to beg? Mrs. Charles Pickett, attendance officer for the Salem public schools reports these two cases of absolutely urgent need.

Not only did Mrs. Pickett find these two cases where the family did not have even the necessities of life, but she is continually coming in contact with families, where the man of the family has left his wife and children with no means of support.

In her rounds as attendance officer for the schools, Mrs. Pickett has found many families where the children not only have not the books, but hardly the clothes to permit them to attend school, and where the mother is the only means of support. Right now, she wants a home for the little girl whose mother is sick and really in want of food, and for the high school boy who sold his books to purchase food. The boy and the girl are both of good families, and are willing to work. As the need is urgent, Mrs. Pickett can be reached by telephone 2224, or the matter can be taken up through Superintendent Elliott, telephone 446.

We Challenge you to get Better results than we can for you with a little Want Ad try one to-morrow.

Did It Ever Happen to You? - - - - - By Mort Burger

