Monmouth's Main Street To Be Paved at Once

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Monmouth, Ore., Sept. 4.—Hobson & Hoskins, of McMinnville, made a short visit in Monmouth last week and while they were here signed the contract for the long planned paving of Main street. The contractors have a short job in Carleton to finish before coming to this city but they expect to start work here on or before the tenth of September. On Wednesday they made inquiries for teams, expressing their desire and determination to hire as many local men as can be secured to do the work. They have 60 days in which to finish the paving and every person in the vicinity of Monmouth is very anxious to see this much needed improvement completed.

Miss McIntosh, the seventh and eighth grade teacher in the training school, returned from Portland last week where she spent her summer's vacation. While away she made two trips

GOOD WORK FOR SICK WOMEN

The Woman's Medicine Has Proved Its Worth.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies were first introduced, their curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of them spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from the use of these medicines, their value has become generally recognized, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women.

The following letter is only one of the thousands on file in the Pinkham office, at Lynn, Mass., proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an article of great merit as shown by the results it produces.

Anamosa, Iowa.—"When I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered with a displacement, and my system was in a general run-down condition. I would have the headache for a week and my back would ache so bad when I would bend down I could hardly straighten up. My sister was sick in bed for two months and doctored, but did not get any relief. She saw an advertisement of your medicine and tried it and got better. She told me what it had done for her, and when I had taken only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my head began to feel better. I continued its use and now I don't have any of those troubles."—Mrs. L. J. HANNAN, R.F.D. 1, Anamosa, Iowa.

up the Columbia highway and another up the Columbia river all of which she enjoyed very much.

Clarence Walker and Jay Knapp have returned from eastern Oregon, where they have been working in the harvest. They both report a profitable and interesting vacation.

Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Elkins left Monday for their vacation for a motor trip up the Columbia highway. While they are away their children will visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woods.

The Misses Gladys and Althea Evans left Monmouth Friday for Walker Bros. hop yard, north of Independence, where they will pick hops.

Prof. E. L. Keesel, who was principal of Monmouth high school for the last three years, was a Monmouth visitor last Tuesday. This school year Mr. Keesel is to be instructor in the department of education and reader in the extension department in the state university. His many Monmouth friends wish him a very pleasant year.

The Misses Wanda and Lenna Key returned home Friday from a two weeks visit at Perrydale.

According to the reports of the threshers the wheat crops in this vicinity are extraordinarily good this year, the yield being about a third more than usual.

The Butler and West automobile party returned Wednesday from their trip through the mountains to the northwest. Scenic places visited by the motorists were Yellowstone park, Glacier park and Banff and the Canadian Rockies.

Miss Helen Scott visited at "Sunshine Farm" Thursday afternoon.

J. A. Murdoch was a visitor in our city Tuesday looking after a bungalow which he is having constructed.

Hazel George, who has been visiting Beth Ostrom for the past week, returned to her home in Salem Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith are home from their auto trip having traveled over eight hundred miles. They visited such places as Crater lake, Harriman's lodge and the Oregon Caves and report them all to be very interesting.

Miss Lila Dobell, who has been spending her summer vacation at the home of her mother, south of the town, has returned to her duties at the O. A. C. where she is assistant in the librarian's office.

The Misses Gladys Evans, Freida Powell and Daphne Ostrom were the invited guests of Miss Neta Harvey at her home north of Monmouth last Sunday.

Mrs. Anes, who was very ill on last Sunday, is reported to be very much better. During the most critical time of her sickness her son from Denver, Colo., and her daughter, Mrs. Stokes, from Wyoming, were sent for, both arriving here Wednesday.

Ivan Wood left this city Monday for his school in Union, Oregon, where he has been elected principal of the grammar grades.

Dr. F. R. Bowersox returned this last week from his vacation at Tillamook.

Mrs. Burkhead and son, Ranie, accompanied by relatives from Corvallis, visited at the Harvey farm north of Monmouth Sunday.

the Yachats on the coast south of Waldport.

Mrs. D. E. Stitt is back from a vacation with her daughter, Mrs. Lenhart, at Springfield.

A great number of Monmouth people are leaving for the hop yards these days.

Mrs. Seaman and daughters, Fern and Carrie, of Independence, were visitors of Mrs. E. R. Ostrom, and daughters, Thursday.

Mrs. Nora Baird made a business trip to Salem one day this week.

Raymond Cornwall spent the past week visiting friends and relatives at Medford and Ashland.

Prune Spraying Demonstration

An enthusiastic gathering of progressive fruit growers took place Wednesday afternoon at the Hoosier Place in the Sunnyside district, where the department of Plant Pathology of the Oregon Agricultural college is conducting experiments on the control of brown rot and leaf spot disease of prunes. Many of the men in attendance came from a considerable distance to be present at the demonstration which had been planned and arranged for by the Marion County Fruit Inspector C. O. Constable. During the demonstration, great interest was manifested in the experiments and at the close a vote of appreciation was heartily passed, and strong endorsement was given the idea that the growers should use their influence with the coming legislature in favor of an appropriation for the Agricultural Experiment station which would make possible continuation and expansion of such experimental work which is now being hampered for lack of state support.

After an explanation by Prof. H. P. Bars of the experimental side way on the Hoosier tract, the growers were conducted over the ground by O. H. Elmer, assistant in plant pathology, and given an opportunity to see the results for themselves. Bordeaux mixture, Atomic Sulfur, and Lime-sulfur were compared. It was found that Bordeaux mixture is probably the most desirable material for prune spraying. Atomic Sulfur gave nearly as good results. Lime-sulfur, however, in three of the applications produced foliage injury at a strength as weak as one to fifty, showing this material unsafe to use on prunes.

Brown rot was found to be bad in the tract even on unsprayed trees and striking results are not evident. The leaf spot disease caused by the fungus known as Coccyomyces or Cylindrosporium disease was quite general through the orchard, and many were found to result in effective control. This disease is responsible for the serious and wide-spread yellowing and dropping of the foliage in Willamette Valley prune orchards this season and last. It reduces the vitality of the trees probably resulting in greater damage than has been suspected generally. Three applications of Bordeaux mixture, 4-4-50, or Atomic Sulfur, 8 pounds to 100 gallons, were found effective in controlling the trouble. The dates of these sprays this year were May 1, just as the last blossoms were dropping, June 2 and June 28. The use of a resin soap sticker with Bordeaux mixture was shown to add greatly to the spreading power of the spray. The mode of making this sticker is described in the bulletin in Orchard Spraying, issued by the Agricultural college.

After the demonstration, Prof. Bars and Mr. Elmer talked informally with individual growers regarding their plant disease problems after which the college men were taken by auto through some of the finest prune tracts in the neighborhood.

DEATH WAS SUDDEN

A telegram received Friday morning by J. L. Blackwell, announced the death early that day of his son, Archie, at Breitenbush springs, where he had gone with his mother for a few weeks vacation. The rumor quickly spread that the boy had drowned, but such was not the fact. The lad's health had not been good for some time and he was subject to sudden lapses into unconsciousness. For this reason his mother watched him constantly with loving solicitude. Friday, he had gone a few yards from the camp to fish and was evidently seized with one of these attacks, for he was found a few moments after he had left camp, lying on the bank of the creek. Every effort was made to resuscitate him but in vain; his troubles were over, and the spirit of the gentle lad who in his brief life of 15 1/2 years had never done a harmful act had fled into the great beyond, from which the veil of mystery will never be lifted to mortal eye.—Jefferson Review.

AT HORSESHOE LAKE

The neighborhood picnic held at Horseshoe Lake last Sunday is reported to have been one of the most pleasant affairs of the season. A large number of people, all friends and neighbors gathered there and proceeded to enjoy themselves in true, old time fashion. At the noon hour a picnic dinner was served from one long table, around which the entire good humored company assembled. Bathing in the clear waters of the Willamette river occupied a large portion of the afternoon. Those who attended from this vicinity were:

Mr. and Mrs. Al Feller, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bittick, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Cone and family, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Pitcock and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Veger, Mrs. Walker of Salem, Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Kirkland of Portland, Miss Verna Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. V. Allen, Mrs. Jesse Mays, Dave Robinson of Portland, the McCormick family and the Scollard family.

CORN GROWS TO DIZZY HEIGHT

Chas. Linquist, route 2, Silverton, showed us a stalk of corn Monday which was the tallest we have seen since we came west of the Rocky mountains. The stalk measured 11 feet 8 inches and would easily have grown two feet more had it been allowed to fully mature. The stalk measured 5 feet 5 inches to the ear. Mr. Linquist has three acres of corn which average over 11 feet, all eastern seed and 1 day evening for the benefit of the little folks.

Mrs. Susan Lais entertained Mrs. L. D. Yoder, Mrs. D. J. Yoder and Mrs. Joe Fox at supper Tuesday evening.

There were about thirty five guests at the home of D. J. Yoder last Sunday and the day was a very enjoyable one. The guests were Jas. Burkholder and family, Ora Yoder and family, Clyde Yoder and family and Mrs. Fox and children.—Enterprise.

All In Readiness for Linn County Fair

Scio, Ore., Sept. 4.—All details have been completed for the tenth annual Linn County Fair to be held here September 6, 7 and 8. Governor Withycombe will make an opening address and will be welcomed as a member of the Salem delegation invited to attend in celebration of Salem and Stayton day. Thursday, the second day has been designated to Albany and Harrisburg with Friday's honors given to Lebanon and Brownsville.

Several fast horses are now in the racing stables ready for the speed events scheduled for the three days of the fair. The Scio track holds the state half mile record of 1:03, a guarantee of close heats and one of the reasons for the representative entries in the various running and harness classes.

Herbert Munster has arrived with his army plane in which he will make daily flights. There will also be balloon ascensions and many other thrillers arranged for the entertainment of fair crowds. Entries in the prize stock exhibit are arriving daily while agricultural displays are being given their finishing touches. Handsome purses will be contested for in all fair exhibits.

Great enthusiasm among the school children over the details of their own exhibits has carried out fully all the hopes held by Mrs. R. L. Devaney in charge of the school children's fair. Then the annual baby show is to be a big feature with nearly 50 youngsters entered for the honor of prize boy and girl of Linn county.

Special arrangements have been made on the grounds for camping parties while a committee has made preparations for housing out of town visitors.

LATE HOP NOTES

California dealers are talking seven and eight cents this fall. Many here, both growers and dealers, have mentioned 10 cents as a possible price, but no business is being done at any price, hence all talk is mere speculation as to what the price may be.

Hop picking in Silverton is not what it used to be. Few hops are grown as compared to former years, and the general rush to the hop yards is not like it was in the prosperous days of 15 years ago. The general harvest will start in a week or so. A Wolf & Son, the largest hop growers in this vicinity, will be in operation about September 3.

Latest reports from England indicated a crop there of about 350,000 cwt., against 254,121 cwt. produced last year. The new English crop and reserve stocks are declared by English dealers to be sufficient for the year's requirements and it is the policy of the British government to allow no hops to be imported unless they are actually required, says the Oregonian.

As hop picking is about to become general, some growers find their crews smaller than expected which will extend the picking period two or three days longer than usual. It is not believed that the reduced price for picking has anything to do with the shortage, as some growers who are paying 50 cents are just as short as those who are paying 40 cents.

While there appears to be absolutely no demand here for either spots or futures, it is reported that some Oregon dealers are offering 1916 hops to eastern brewers at 12 1/2 cents delivered in New York. Some dealers look for unusual activity in October (or as soon as the hops are in the bale.) They explain this opinion by saying that prices may be so low that brewers (who last year nearly all bought springing) will stock up to a greater extent than in years. Hence their prediction of free buying in October.

Hyman H. Cohen and family were in the city Sunday on their way home from a tour of the hop growing sections of the valley. Mr. Cohen is market editor of the Portland Journal. He was at one time, about 10 years ago, the publisher of the Aurora Borealis, the paper which preceded the Observer. As the result of his trip Mr. Cohen states his views of the hop situation as follows:

"The present outlook is for a crop of from 125,000 to 130,000 bales of hops in Oregon as compared with around 110,000 bales a year ago. The crop around Independence is far better than had been expected earlier in the season, although the crop is not likely to reach the totals that section showed a year ago. Last year's crop in the Independence section was an extraordinary one. In Marion county some of the yards will have a third more hops than a year ago, and in most other sections a fractional increase over the 1915 crop is expected."—Aurora Observer.

Mrs. Sarah Mack, a sister, was here from Sellwood.

PRUNE PICKING RESUMED

Eugene, Ore., Sept. 4.—Lane county prune growers, in the midst of the prune season, with a crop twice as large as the greatest previous crop on record, received with satisfaction the news that the railroad strike had been called off. Packers have been ordered back into the orchards and packing operations have been resumed. A car of green prunes will be shipped tomorrow and shipments on an order for 15 cars of green fruit will be made as rapidly as possible.

Two carloads of cattle were shipped last night from Eugene to California.

HER ARM INJURED

Mrs. P. D. O'Connor made a trip to Portland a few days ago for the purpose of consulting a doctor in regard to an injury to her arm which she received several days ago when she was a victim of an automobile and buggy collision. The soreness did not seem to leave the injured member as it should and it was badly swollen all the time. A careful and thorough X-ray examination revealed the fact that she had sustained quite a severe fracture of the arm and it will probably be several days before it is entirely well.—Donald Record.
