

Pendleton Normal School Proven Necessity

(Copied from Portland Oregonian.)

MONMOUTH, Ore., June 26.—The Oregon Normal school opened this week. . . students enrolled 785, largest on record for state Normal in Oregon . . . how to care for large student body a problem . . . 800 being crowded into auditorium with seating capacity of 650. Galleries filled with extra chairs in aisles. More than 150 students seated on platform. New boarding houses completed, additions to rooming houses built and tents used. One hundred girls sleep on upper floor of school. The official school report gives 150 grade pupils in Monmouth, for teacher practice.

Read what those you have elected to handle the affairs of your state and who are thoroughly informed regarding school conditions in Oregon have to say concerning measure 308 on the ballot at the coming election:

- By James Withycombe, Governor of Oregon: "Oregon is unquestionably in need of more normal school work and Pendleton is the logical place for a school of this class in Eastern Oregon."
- By J. A. Churchill, State Superintendent of Public Instruction: "I trust that the voters of the State will assist in raising the standard of our schools by establishing a State Normal School at Pendleton."
- By P. L. Campbell, President of the University of Oregon: "At least one additional Normal School is urgently needed in Oregon."
- By W. J. Kerr, President of the Oregon Agricultural College: "Since the people of Pendleton are initiating a measure for the establishment of a Normal School at that place, it will give me pleasure to support this measure."
- By J. H. Ackerman, President Oregon Normal School, at Monmouth: "A careful analysis of the situation will convince any one that Oregon needs a Normal School in Eastern Oregon and Pendleton fills all the government requirements."
- By the County School Superintendents of Oregon: "Resolved, that it is the sense of the County School Superintendents of the State of Oregon, in convention assembled, that the best interests of the schools of the State demand increased facilities for the training of teachers, and that we, therefore, endorse the initiative measure to establish a Normal School at Pendleton."
- By Mrs. Charles H. Gaetner, President of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs: "I most heartily endorse the location of said Normal School at Pendleton."
- Prof. Robert C. French, Former President of the Normal School Located at Weston: "An immediate establishment of such a school at some central point such as Pendleton would prove a great boon to the State of Oregon."
- B. F. Mulkey, Ex-President Southern Oregon Normal School: "I shall support the location of an Eastern Oregon Normal School at Pendleton."

State Board of Regents of Oregon Normal School declares that "the necessity for additional Normal school facilities in Oregon is apparent." Portland Chamber of Commerce endorses measure 308 and says Pendleton most logical location for Normal school in Eastern Oregon.

SOCIETY

By ALINE THOMPSON

Friends of Miss Ethel Hepburn of Vancouver who formerly lived in Salem, will be interested to know that she was selected from hundreds of New York representatives to buy for twelve of the largest organizations in America. She will sail from British Columbia for the Orient on November 30, and will be gone for about a year, visiting Japan, China and Manila.

Mrs. E. H. Houston, the house guest of Mrs. Hubert Graves, was the inspiration for a delightful informal afternoon today, sponsored by Mrs. Geo. Neuner, Jr., at her home on North Jackson street. The guests were a few of the friends of Mrs. Houston and the afternoon was spent with basketry and chatting and renewing old friendships. Mrs. Houston is leaving for Salem in the near future where she has lived since leaving Roseburg and will make her new home at Santa Rosa, Cal.—Roseburg Review.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Grier have returned from a few days in Portland. Early this week Mrs. J. D. Smith and her sister, Mrs. E. M. Beveridge, will leave for a sojourn in Southern California. They will spend the winter in San Diego, visiting places of interest en route.

The suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gritton, near Liberty, was the scene of a merry surprise party Friday, when friends gathered to celebrate the sixtieth birthday of the host. The guests came with well filled baskets and at noon a dinner was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gritton, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gritton, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gritton, Miss Agnes Gritton, John Blankenship, Miss Margaret Oliver and Willard Eugene Gritton.

Tuesday night Mr. and Mrs. H. Z. McClean entertained the members of the Jolly Score club with a Halloween party. The guests were attired in fancy costumes and the evening was devoted to "500." Players circled five tables of the game, score honors being won by Mrs. Ray Lewis and Mr. McClean. Later the hostess served dainty refreshments. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Leo, a Halloween party was given on Saturday afternoon by the members of the Kings Herald, which is composed of the young Sunday school pupils of the M. E. church.

The affair was in charge of Miss Mildred McBride, assisted by the Misses Gertrude West, Eugenia Savage, Loyal Gray, Myrtle Maxwell and Gladys Newberry. Without doubt the largest affair of the week in point of both numbers and brilliance was the home coming reception for University alumni and the dancing party at the armory last night. The spirit of welcome was equally hearty to graduates, ex-students and friends of the university as well as to the large number of University of Washington students and faculty who remained for the social festivities. Across the music platform was a large welcome banner and the pennants of Oregon and Washington colors were equally used as drapery around the balcony intermingled with hanging baskets. The programs were cards bearing the combined colors of Washington and Oregon fastened with gold cord.

Near the southern entrance, rugs were spread and comfortable chairs arranged for a receiving line of alumni who stood to greet those who returned to their alma mater. Although the reception began at the early hour of 1:30, it was well attended and the students finished the evening with enjoyable dancing. The chapters during the evening were President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. John Straub, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, Professor and Mrs. J. F. Bovard, Miss Haverlo, University of Washington; Miss Elizabeth Fox, Miss Mary Watson.

Among alumni noticed during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hixon, of Bead; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Vatter, of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Townsend, of Salem; Mrs. Wm. Barrett, of Albany; Miss Eleanor McClaine and Miss Fielda McLaine, of Silverton; Miss Amy Rothchild, of Baker; Miss

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Jennie Fry, of Salem; Miss Catharine Carson, of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. E. Brooks, of Salem; Miss Jane Knox, of Portland; Miss Ruth Beach, of Portland; Walter Winslow, of Salem; Ralph Moores, Salem; Chester Moores, Portland, and Earl Latourrette, Portland.—Sunday Eugene Register.

Among the charming affairs planned for this week, will be the ten for which Mrs. William H. Lytle and Mrs. Zedac Riggs will be hostesses, Saturday afternoon at the Riggs residence, on State street.

One of the delightful affairs of Halloween week was the informal evening for which Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baker were hosts at the residence of the former, on Monday night.

The house was gaily adorned for the occasion with flowers and decorations suggestive of the season and the guests included the members of the Cherry City Pines club.

Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Legg, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Epley, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. H. Vandervort, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Carrier, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Swafford and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Todd.

Miss Gertrude East, who is attending the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis, came home Friday for a week end visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. East. Miss East who is in her freshman year, has been recently pledged to the Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

About 300 members of the Missionary society of the First Congregational church were entertained at the home of Mrs. E. W. Steunhoff on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, president, presided at the meeting, which preceded a program and chatting. Mrs. Steunhoff was assisted by Mrs. A. Gilbert and Mrs. Ray Baker.

The marriage of Miss Florence Ruth Schultz and John Robert Addison, took place on Sunday at high noon at the parsonage of the First Methodist church. Rev. R. N. Avison officiated and the wedding was a very simple affair.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schultz on the river road. The couple left for a several days sojourn in Portland, after which they will be at home to their friends in Salem.

This Is Opening Day For Chinese War

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—With today the date set by the Hop Sing and Suey Sing songs for opening war on the Bing Kongs and Suey Duas, the police strengthened the Chieftain patrols, and have sent warnings to Portland and Los Angeles to watch for outbreaks here. Owing to a Siney Sing celebration the date of hostilities is declared to have been postponed a day.

The allegation of the Bing Kongs that five Hop Sing held up a Big Kong gambling place in Los Angeles Saturday started the trouble. The Hop Sings denied the charge, and met the demand that the accused be surrendered for trial with a declaration of war. The other two gangs immediately allied with the rivals.

HEAT FLASHES, DIZZY, NERVOUS Mrs. Wynn Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her During Change of Life.

Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. LENA WYNN, 2812 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness. For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A. P. A. TICKET IN MARION COUNTY

Folder Bearing Names of Candidates Endorsed Are Distributed in Salem

The so-called A. P. A. ticket has made its customary appearance on the eve of election. Folders containing the names of candidates of the organization were left on doorsteps all over Salem last evening.

The candidates for Marion county endorsed are all republicans except Frank S. Ward, democrat, for representative, and L. D. Ratliff, prohibitionist, for representative, and the folder bears the signature of Davidson Buchanan, Ph. D., 975 Michigan Ave., Portland, Oregon.

The arguments set forth by the secret political society which is now admitted by cutting quite a figure in Oregon elections, are mainly directed against public appropriations for sectarian schools and virtually charges the Catholic church with being a political machine. Quite a lot of bitterness will no doubt be stirred up by this action, since there are many voters who are non-Catholic who hold to the principle that secret political societies are an American and a menace to popular government.

Such a movement always cuts both ways, like a two-edged knife, and will probably lose the candidates endorsed as many votes as it makes for them. So far as can be ascertained there is no Catholic running for office on either ticket.

Candidates Endorsed

- For representative in congress, 33 W. C. Hawley.
- For public service commissioner, 46 Fred G. Buchtel.
- For circuit judges, 48 Geo. G. Bingham; 50 Percy E. Kelly.
- For representatives to the legislature, 52 Sam H. Brown; 53 Chas. F. Elgin; 55 W. A. Jones; 59 Frank S. Ward; 63 Levi D. Ratliff.
- For county clerk, 69 U. G. Boyer.
- For assessor, 76 Ben F. West.
- For county superintendent of schools, 77 W. M. Smith.
- For county recorder, 78 Mildred R. Brooks.
- For county treasurer, 80 D. G. Drager.
- For constable, Salem district, 88 Percy M. Varney.

Woman for Wilson

By Mary E. McDowell
Head of the University of Chicago Settlement at the Stockyards, co-worker of Jane Addams and known throughout the country as "the angel of the stockyards" today, gives her reasons for working and voting for the re-election of Woodrow Wilson. Her statement follows:

I am not a member of the Democratic party, but am now and always shall be an independent. But I am no because he never blunders, or makes mistakes but because at this critical moment in our affairs I prefer to trust the next momentous four years of our government in the hands of a man who has been tried, who has his party in hand and has the confidence of the people.

If Mr. Hughes is elected he will not be governing a state in times of peace with a party ready to help him. He will have differing factions, factions which will be as expert in dealing with problems that are in the process of making. It seems to me unwise to change Presidents at this critical time. I believe, in general, in Mr. Wilson's foreign and domestic policies, though some acts I do not understand. Mr. Wilson's legislative program is remarkable and his later appointments indicate that if re-elected, he will improve in that line.

I believe woman's suffrage to be the most urgent domestic question before the nation and I rejoice that all the presidential candidates on all tickets stand for it in principle though varying in method of securing it. There is momentum enough to carry on the work after this election. Therefore, in the present crisis of our international life, woman's suffrage does not seem to me the paramount issue in this presidential election.

The child labor law, which Mr. Beveridge urged a Republican congress to pass five or six years ago, was passed this year after Mr. Wilson urged congress to bring it to a vote. The Republicans, hard pushed for ammunition in this campaign, have foolishly attacked this law, trying to discredit it. William B. Wilcox of the Republican national committee gave out the word to his workers that it was "one of the biggest jokers ever concocted in the mazes of congressional verbiage."

I have before me a pamphlet issued by the national child labor committee, in which they answer questions put to them by both Republicans and Democrats who want to know the truth. I cannot give all the answers, but this one I quote as a telling one.

"The bill as passed by the senate and concurred in by the house was in

Hartridge Whipp Was Delight To All and Will Be Here Again Nov. 23

On account of the regret expressed by a large number of Salem people who were not able to hear Hartridge Whipp in his song recital here Wednesday night, he will be heard in Salem on the evening of November 23, when Wallace MacMurray opens his series of lectures on Little Theater or Class Room Plays. Mr. Whipp has consented to be the soloist of the evening on that occasion, and it is being looked forward to by a large number of music lovers as reparation for the treat they missed last Wednesday.

Even though the largest part of the population of Salem was viewing the style show, there was a good sized audience in the First Presbyterian church to hear the singer. Mr. Whipp is the possessor of a full, rich voice that has wonderful possibilities. Although he has been singing a few years he has already made a reputation that has carried his name the length of the Pacific coast. He has a baritone that is very pleasing, and a manner that puts dramatic fire into the selection. One of the features of the song recital was his informal talks concerning the songs and the composers, which feature was very much appreciated.

His program was composed of three general groups of songs—Italian, German and English. The Italian songs were of the period when Italian opera was first beginning to be recognized, which was in the latter part of the century. It was at this time that "bel canto" first made its appearance.

The first two selections, "Come Ragazzo Di Sol" and "O Cessate Di Piangere," the first by Antonio Caldara and the second by Alessandro Scarlatti, were melancholy in theme and told of unrequited love. Scarlatti was the original creator of the cantata. The first of the Italian numbers was in distinct contrast to the others and was bright, joyous, triumphant, as the lover had thrown off the thralls of love and was a free man again. The notes were exulting and had a swing and lilt to them.

The selection was "Vittoria, Mio Cor!" by Gian Giacomo Carissimi. "Allerseelen" Richard Strauss, was the first of the German group, and in this Mrs. Whipp rendered exceptionally sympathetic accompaniment. "Zur Ruh, Zur Ruh," by Hugo Wolf, was followed by Carl Loewe's setting of the famous "Erlkönig," which Mr. Whipp sang with feeling and a keen appreciation of its dramatic possibilities. In this setting the three voices—the father's, the child's and the fairy king—are brought out clearly, it is generally conceded, than in Schubert's composition. Mr. Whipp likes to sing it better than Schubert's setting and he gives a satisfying rendering of it.

"Hear Me Ye Winds and Waves," a recitative and aria by George Frederic Handel, was the first of the English numbers and it gave him an opportunity to show the flexibility of his voice in taking the florid passages. "To a Messenger," by Frank La Forge, was one of the charming selections of the evening. "Deep River," an old Negro melody by Harry T. Burleigh, a negro, gave him an opportunity for long and sustained tones that were full of sweetness and melody. "The Fate of the Flamingo," by Arthur Borg, was a selection designed to bring out articulation and diction. The wonderful qualities of his voice were shown in the aria "Vision Fugitive," by Jules Massenet, which he sang in French, good French at that.

Two songs of contrasting theme were "Yesterday," and a "Bag of Whistles," which last is an Irish piece set to an accompaniment of Scottish bagpipes. The first is sad in theme but the latter is full of lilt and lightness. "Life and Death," another song by a negro, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, lent a heavy tragic note to the program. This was followed by a charming selection "The Fiddler of Dooney," a whimsical piece by Sidney Homer. He closed his program by singing "Danny Deever," Kipling's poem which Walter Damrosch set to music. It will be remembered that David Bispham sang this when he gave his concert here. Mr. Whipp sang it well. He was in Salem when Bispham sang the selection, which was about four years ago.

The Misses Grace McDonald, Olga Gray, Hazel McGilchrist and Shirley Wheeler, Mrs. William Galloway, president of the Woman's club, presided.

On Thursday morning Mr. Whipp gave a half hour of song at the Salem high school, which treat was appreciated very much by the students. Mr. Whipp does this in order that students may early form a taste for better music. Mrs. Whipp acts as his accompanist and is herself an artist on piano and pipe organ and she enters into the spirit of the songs with keen sympathy and intuition. She is also interested in the developing of the taste of the students in the schools. They are sent out under the direction of Mrs. Herman A. Heppner, who is founder of the Portland Monday Musical club and head of the music department of the Portland Woman's club.

Mr. Whipp has charge of the Grace Methodist choir in Portland and Mrs. Whipp charge of the First Congregational church choir. They have been prominent in musical circles in Portland for the past five years.

It is impossible at this stage for either party to monopolize the credit or blame. When Mr. Wilcox says that the law contains "one of the biggest jokers ever concocted in the mazes of congressional verbiage," he brands the leaders of his own party, for only two Republicans in the senate—Oliver and Penrose of Pennsylvania—voted against the bill, while two others were paired off against it.

GERMANS REPULSE DO YOU SUFFER FROM BACKACHE?

Advances north of the Somme likewise have made possible flanking operations against Bouchavesnes and Baches. Expectation of such a movement is strong, since, if successful, it would straighten the French front from Saillies to Peronne and give General Foch positions that would bear seriously on Peronne itself.

British victories on the Aisne bank have made German positions at Grandcourt and Pys dangerous to hold much longer.

East of Les Bouefs the British consolidated the positions taken in their gains of yesterday. General Haig reported, and three times made successful raids on enemy trenches near the Armentieres and Ypres sectors.

Fighting Was Fierce.
London, Nov. 6.—Renewal of the allied offensive on the Somme front has been met by furious German counter attacks.

Reports from General Haig, from Paris and Berlin agree that bitter fighting marked yesterday and last night. The German statement declared the British and French attacks were made with general force and supported by almost unexampled artillery fire. General Haig reported the necessity of relinquishing positions near Butte De Warlencourt in the face of strong German attacks last night. Butte De Warlencourt is at the head of the new British line toward Rapaume and the positions evacuated had just been wrested from the Germans.

German reports declared the allied attack was on a front of 20 kilometers between Lesars and Bouchavesnes.

Fighting is Furious.
Petrograd, Nov. 6.—The violent offensive undertaken by the Germans with the object of capturing commanding heights east of Lipitzadvaia and unshaken fury with the issue still in doubt the war office announced this evening.

East of Lipitzadvaia and west of Silaventin the enemy several times took the offensive," the statement reads. "The object was to capture the commanding heights thereabouts. All attacks were frustrated. With rifle fire and artillery violent the battle continues."

Germans Make Gains.
Paris, Nov. 6.—German counter attacks which followed yesterday's important advances against newly entrenched Silaventin is continuing with consolidated French positions between St. Pierre Yansf wood and the village of Saillies-Saillies, were partially successful in the wood and at Saillies, the war office announced today.

The Tenth counter attacks were made late last night and some ground was gained by them. Elsewhere the enemy was repulsed.

Violent cannonading was reported about Demolou, but no infantry action in that region.

Rumanians Victorious.
Bucharest, Nov. 6.—Advanced Rumanian detachments after sharp clashes with the enemy in the Dobruja region, have won several successes and forced him to retire, the war office stated today. Before retirement the enemy fired the villages of Daenicalic, Rosanu and Haidar.

Roques at Salonika.
Paris, Nov. 6.—The French minister of war, General Roques, arrived at Salonika this morning, the war office announced.

Austrians Check Italians.
Berlin, via wireless, Nov. 6.—Violent fighting in the Italian war theatre in the past 48 hours has resulted in the capture of many prisoners and gain of some ground by the Austrians, the war office announced today. At some points the Italians suffered great losses.

Repeated and increasingly powerful Italian attacks continued at some points without result. About Karst the Italians again attempted to resume the offensive but their troops were checked by curtain fire.
