A smart reception was given by Mrs. Jaques and Mrs. Stein in honor of Mrs. Randall of New York, on Wednesday afternoon. The two homes in the double house were thrown into one. Mrs. Jaques and Mrs. Stein received their guests in Mrs Jaques' drawing room and the refreshments were served in Mrs. Stein's rooms. The following ladies assisted in receiving: Mesdames Garten, McCreery, Jaques, Babcock, Huntington, J. D. Moore, Robinson and Sullivan. Flowers were used in great profusion. The parlors of Mrs. Jaques were in meteor and La France roses. A mandolin club was hidden by a bank of palms in the library. Miss Robinson served punch in one of the upper rooms, assisted by Miss Kathrina Jaques and Miss Frances Stein, yellow being the color scheme used. White hyacinths decorated the rooms where the guests removed their wraps. Upon entering the hall of Mrs. Stein the guests were greeted by a burst of music from a mandolin club. The drawing room was decorated in red, and the dining room was beautifully decorated in pink and white. The table was covered with Battenburg lace over pink, the centre piece held a mirror that reflected a bunch of pink roses, and the table was aglow with pink candles. The mantle was decorated profusely with pink roses and candles and the chandelier was covered with simlax and pink roses. Miss Garten served the ice and cakes and was assisted by Misses Noren, Haggard, Hyde, and Lindley. Chocolate was served in the library and was presided over by Miss Cochrane. The room was entirely in white. Mexican drawn work covered the table and a beautiful bunch of white pinks was the centrepiece. White candles lighted the room. Miss Miller and Miss Howland assisted in serving the chocolate and cheese straws. Over three hundred guests called during the afternoon.

Miss Emma Outcalt will give a luncheon this afternoon for Miss Louise Tukey of Omaha. The invited guests are: Misses Welch, Tukey, Jackson, Wood, Cole, Edminston, Macfarland, Hayes, Whiting, Jenkins, Sarbach and Hargreaves.

Miss Oakley and Miss Hoover gave a tea in honor of Mrs. Rollius, on Tuesday afternoon. About eighty guests called during the afternoon. The drawing room, where the ladies received their guests was decorated with pink roses and pink colored lights. Mrs. Rollius was gowned in a pink and blue Dresden silk elaborately trimmed in Duchess lace. Miss Oakley looked very charming in a pink silk gown and Miss Hoover was daintily gowned in white organdie trimmed with black insertion. The following ladies assisted in receiving: Mesdames Oakley, Yates, Campbell and Muir. Punch was served by Mrs. Dorgan in the library. Meteor roses and red shaded lights decorated the room. The dining room where Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Walsh served coffee and ices, was in American Beauty shades. The table was covered with Battenburg and a mirror as a centrepiece held a gorgeous bunch of American Beauties. Silver and cut glass was placed about on the table and a silver candelabrum held red shaded candles. Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Hargreaves and Mrs. Marshall assisted in the dining room.

A large music box was placed in the library and played during the entire afternoon. The receiving party and the ladies that assisted made a pleasant little party in the evening. Miss Oakley and Mr. Thatcher sang a number of beautiful songs and Miss Hoover played in her usual brilliant manner.

The executive committee having in charge the coming auditorium benefit ball and promenade concert held a meeting at the Commercial club rooms on Monday and now have matters specifically placed in the hands of the various committees.

Tickets may be purchased of Mr. W. H. Raymond, secretary, or any member of the committee. "Old Glory" will be used in decorating and any person having flags, large or small, which he is willing to loan for this purpose, will greatly assist in the work by notifying Mr. George W. Fawell, chairman of that committee. By sewing your name to the flag all danger of loss will be obviated.

For the benefit of many who have made the inquiry, it is stated that a promenade concert of one hour will be given from 8:30 to 9:30, the remainder of the time will be devoted to dancing. The committee is determined to reap the full benefit and with that object in view the expenses are to be kept at the lowest possible mark, so that citizens purchasing tickets can rest assured that the auditorium will be benefitted and not newspapers, musicians, florists, etcetera. The city has been divided into districts for the sale of tickets and it is hoped that citizens will assist the committee by helping in every way. Three dollars will buy a ticket admitting one gentleman and ladies. The auditorium is the property of the city and this concert ball is entirely for the benefit of the auditorium fund.
