SOCIETY

The week has been devoted to the mystic maze of events of the commencement season. Classes of the "70's," "80's," and "90's," have had their gatherings, their jokes and their histories to relate. Banquets have prevailed and addresses have been the morning and evening meals. But above and best of all there has been the Senior. One may multiply one's degrees but one is never wholly and solely a senior but once. The Seniors are not only the pivots of interest and of feasting, but the origin of the occasion. It is well to stretch the week to its length and to its breadth, for not until the next season will the folds of the Senior gown or the tilt of the Senior cap inspire such interest, and then there will not be this particular flock of Seniors but another.

Commencement week, with its accompaniment of tremendous audiences, of festivities with interludes of packing, of busy draymen with their caravans of trunks, and of constant au revours at the station, brings to mind what a great, intricate, working part of the town and state life the University has become.

The Browning club of the Lincoln High school entertained the Ciceronians, the Phlogistons and the Track Team at the home of Miss Alice Huntsinger, on Tuesday evening. The lawn was gay with lanterns. There were cushions and settees about, and the young people enjoyed the refreshing evening air. There were games and music at frequent interludes. Among those present were: Misses Nellie Ludden, Carrie Ludden, Marian Bell, Ruth Bell, Ethel Ames, Inez Everett, Edna King, Grace Trigg, Nellie McFall, Louise Allen, Olivia Boehmer, Jessie Crose, Jessie Roscow, Maude Melick, Dorothy Green, Emily Rowers, Vesta Hubbard, Eliza Williams, Margaret Williams, Nora Hodgman, Lucile Sittler, Mary Benedict, Flossie Erford and Ellen Stutheit. Messrs. Charlie Sawyer, Albert Levy, Roy Ludden, Leonard Ryan, Clarence Johnson, Welden Warren, Joe Pacal, Morey Hodgman, Frank Millson, Mason Wheeler, James Hickey, Rolland Bonnell, Melick and Macdonald.

Miss Richards gave a six o'clock dinner on Monday evening in honor of Miss Ricketts, the bride of next week, and her bridesmaids. The color theme was pink, in harmony with the wedding color, and the table with its pink roses and background of fair, young women, was worthy the brush of a Carolus

Duran. The place cards were beautifully done in water colors with either miniature heads or bits of land or sea and tied with pink ribbons. Seven courses were served, spiced with kindly feeling and happiness.

Lincoln is becoming rapidly acquainted with golf lore. Soon she will be fluent. The brassie, the cleek, the patter, and the lofter are the themes of conversation. The grounds are conveniently located, there being good street car accomodations and then they are not far from town. Picnic energy will soon be turned in the direction of golf, Lincoln will be clothed in golf garments, her life will be more out-of-door, her muscles stronger, her complexion better and the caddies will become the multi-millionaires of the town.

Miss Lila LeGore gave a picnic to her friends on Friday afternoon, June the first. Lincoln park was made the goal of the afternoon's pleasure. The park was much enjoyed, and the supper in the open air and car ride to and from the grounds.

Mrs. F. W. Bartruff entertained the New Book Review club at cards on Thursday, June the seventh. The invited guests were: Mesdames T. J. Fisher, J. H. Stephens, S. C. Hoover, Lynch, H. W. Kelley, R. Rehlaender, Widener, O. M. Stonebraker, Elias Baker, D. E. Cook, E. W. Nelson, A. A. Scott, A. L. Hoover, W. S. Scott, T. J. O'Connell, A. W. Field, Ackermann, W. J. Turner and Miss Howland.

A pleasant camping party left on Friday for Breezy Point, Milford. The outing is to be of ten days duration. Those going are the Misses Hearn, Pearl Hensel, Clara Fowler, Grace Roper, Mabel Roper, Sterling, O'Connell, Philbrick and Walton. Messrs. Roper, Sedwith, Waterman, Welch, Rowe, Pearson, Boomer, Edgerton, Funk, Perry and Wertman. The chaperones are Doctor Philbrick and Mr. and Mrs. Watfield.

Mrs. Clarence Eubank will be at home on Saturday, June the sixteenth, from ten to twelve o'clock, in honor of the Daughters of the Revolution.

Mrs. Hall, Miss Camille Hall and Mr. Bert Hall are visiting friends in Ohio. They will be gone a month or so.

Mrs. Henry E. Lewis has invited a few people to tea this evening in honor of Miss Phelps.

Mr and Mrs. Highland Wheeler, Mr. Mason Wheeler, Miss Margaret Wheeler, Mr. Highland Wheeler, Mrs. Clara
