The Salvation Army.
 They've come, they've come
 With sound of drum,
 And tuncful thrum of tambourine;
 With songs that hurt
 And flaming shirt,
 And flaring skirt not over clean.
 Their looks are sad,
 Their grammar's bad,
 They talk like mad of sacred things;
 They raise a din
 With howls at sin,
 And say they'll win a pair of wings.
 The gaping crowd
 Is somewhat moved
 By curses loud at Satan's crew;
 With groan and yell
 And brimstone smell,
 They picture Hell—and raise it, too!

Mince pies, now.
 Nice nights to hunt coons.
 Three new babies this week.
 Our Indian summer is about over.
 Plankinton's a dancing school.
 Chamberlain has had an Indian scar.

The dog tax is now due. All dogs will be killed on which taxes are not paid.

Mr. R. R. Taylor has severed his connection with Basset & Hunting's elevator.

A good many of the boys are hunting geese over on Foote's claim across the track.

Schwindt & Long have dissolved partnership. See notice of dissolution in another column.

John Lafabre, editor of the Chamberlain Democrat, has returned from a two months visit to his old home in Ohio.

Mr. W. B. Warner, son of F. D. Warner the Alexandria town settler, with his wife is visiting Mr. Fred Warner and family.

The ladies of the Methodist society at White Lake are giving "variety shows." White Lake wouldn't be a bad field for missionary work.

The Ochsner boys have lately purchased a new safe and an elegant chandelier, both of which is evidence of their well earned prosperity.

Parties setting prairie fires should remember that they are committing a states prison offence and are liable for all damages caused by such fires.

Another baby. This time Mr. Ed Dorwart is the happy father. The interesting event happened on Tuesday last. It's a girl and broke down the scales.

The Methodist quarterly meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church on Saturday and Sunday next. Rev. Pardee, Supt. of the Methodist Missions of southern Dakota, will officiate.

Mr. H. W. Johnson, a member of the moneyed firm of Burnham Tulleys & Co., has been here this week looking at claims on which C. C. Akin has negotiated loans, all of which he granted.

We wish that the Waterbury News would, when they copy our locals, please give us credit for them instead of crediting them to "Ex." The above will apply to several other of our exchanges as well.

The past season has fully demonstrated that this is a good country for flax and that it pays as well as wheat if not better. Many of our farmers have raised as high as 15 bushels to the acre and sold the crop for $1.10 per bushel.

Mr. S. M. Sweetser, of Owatonna Minn., and an old acquaintance of J. W. Woodman of this place, has been here this week looking for claims. Mr. Sweetser will move here in the spring and make Dakota his future home.

Bro. Tinsan went down to Mitchell to see the elephant Monday night.—Kimball Index.

And you'd better believe he took it all in.—Mitchell Capital.

That's a pretty way to talk about a brother editor isn't it?

The American Farmer is one of the best papers for the farmer or stock raiser, published. Remember we give it as a premium to all new subscribers and those of our old subscribers who pay up their arrearages and pay a year's subscription in advance.

Any farmer who desires to have a pleasant, prosperous home clear from mortgage must take care of his farm machinery. The ordinary life of a reaper, mower, thrasher, and in fact of most farm implements, is, with good care, about ten years, while with poor care, from three to five years is the limit.

A floating item says that the Queen of one of the old countries has to have a doctor sit by her side at dinner and tell her what to eat. See how much difference there is between a Queen and a real healthy girl of Dakota. Some of our Kimball girls almost need to have a doctor sit beside them at dinner and tell them when to stop eating.

The large prairie fire on Monday night last caught many settlers unprepared. Mr. H. Stille, living in 20-102-67, had no fire breaks and the fire caught his stable and other out buildings. In endeavoring to save his stock, a pig ran between his legs throwing him upon his face into the flames. His hands, arms and face were burned to a crisp; almost destroying his eyesight. Dr. Hollinger is in attendance on the sufferer and hopes to pull him through all right.

"I wish I was a star," he said, smiling at his own poetic fancy.

"I would rather you were a comet," she said, dreamily.

His heart beat tumultuously.

"And why?" he said tenderly, at the same time taking her unresisting little hands in his own. "And why?" he repeated imperiously.

"Oh," she said, with a brooding earnestness that fell freezingly upon his soul, "because then you would come around only once every fifteen hundred years"

Editor J. H. Graham, of Dakota City, whose suicide was mentioned in our last issue, died yesterday morning at four o'clock. From the carefully written letter which he left, it is evident that the deed was planned beforehand, and executed with deliberation. He hinted that drinking was the cause of the rash act. He gave directions as to the whereabouts of his friends and desired that his body be forwarded to them for interment. His friends at Dakota City raised the required amount and the body will be forwarded as requested.—Mitchell Republican.

The Graphic and Index at Kimball have started a mutual admiration society and when one vomits the other goes through the motions. The Index man so far has done most of the vomiting, but the Graphic man's turn will come by the time he has entirely swallowed the puke in the Index office.—Buffalo Herald.

We beg our readers pardon for inserting the above paragraph from the gifted pen of Rev. Cooley's baby, but publish it simply as a sample of one of the Herald's literary gems. We hardly know which to admire the most; the elegant flow of language, the brilliant wit and cutting sarcasm displayed, or the thorough manner which the baby has covered himself with glory and —. In the meantime want some of the motherly ladies up there please "change" him.

On Tuesday morning last, two young bloods stopped at the Kimball House and registered as S. M. Baker and Frank Souther, from Worthing, Dakota. About an hour after their arrival in Kimball, Baker had filled up with cheap whiskey and proposed to make things howl around the hotel. Landford Cilley gave the pair their traps, including a shot gun and a dog, and hustled them into the street. Baker then proposed to return to the hotel and increase Cilley's avoirdupois by an ounce and a quarter of shot, but Marshal Ryan put in an appearance and pulled the pair in before his honor, Justice White, for disorderly conduct. His honor said he was down on dog fights but inasmuch as they had not been fighting dogs, would let them go, and advised them to buy a dozen pickles and sober up.

The largest turnip that we have ever seen, grew on Mr. Booth's claim. It weighed 9 1/2 pounds.

We see no signs of a school-house as yet. We think it will soon be time if school is to commence by the first of January.

Rev. Garlock has his house moved over to his well and is having it weather-boarded. We note he has got his calves home.

Mr. Edgecomb has purchased a team; a grey and a bay, which indicates he is going to stay and make Dakota his future home.

Charlie Booth took a trip to Chamberlain last week. We hope he had a pleasant trip and was entertained by—I have forgotten her name.

One of Kimball's barbers with another young man was down here Sabbath breaking. We are inclined to believe they didn't get any geese, but froze their toes, for they did not remain long.

It is very dull around our little village at present. Nothing to write that will be interesting to your many readers. Were I only on the hills, that I could view the grand landscape spread before me and draw therefrom inspiration from the glorious expanse of our lovely prairies. I could then write more in one hour than I can now in a fortnight. How delightful it must be to view the rising sun from the top of most hills, while it pours forth rays above the summit of the hills, awakening the world to the toils, trials and pleasures of another day, while upon the face of Nature it casts a smile and adores the whole works of providence. Its rays are not only upon the deep, but causeth all the works of nature to sing praises unto the God who first gave them life.

GERTRUDE.

BIJOU HILLS.

Granville, Dak., Nov. 13, 1883.

Editor GRAPHIC:—
 Everything is quiet in town; the farmers all being busily employed in preparing for the winter. It seems that the winters cannot be so severe as generally supposed, when persons can live here through that season with only an inch board between them and the weather, as some of the inhabitants did do a year ago.

There is to be a select dance tomorrow night in Coats & Loyd's drug and hardware store.

Messrs. Stroube, Grinnel and Powers, from Chamberlain, have been among us the past week. It is rumored they are looking after "fair claims."

A large and destructive prairie fire has been burning on the Indian reserve the past two weeks and some the boys, among them Jacob and John Barnett, have taken advantage of the fires driving the deer and other game to the river, to go across the Big Muddy on a hunt. But as no word has been yet received from them and as they were expected back last week and only took food for one day, their friends feel somewhat uneasy about them.

Mr. J. W. Nichols and son have about completed arrangements to furnish the good people between here and Kimball and north from Kimball to Wessington Hills with fresh meat, weekly. They will run two wagons, "Peek a boo," "Uncle Sam," "Max" and "Round about" have great times trying to find each other out. But we do not use two or three cognomens, but simply sign ourselves
