

E. C. WALTON

THERE is surprise in Breathitt that any jail could be found in Kentucky to hold two Hargises and one Callahan. But Kentucky is getting back to her own, and the surprises are not yet all over.—Louisville Herald. It is to be hoped that they are not. One for which all lovers of law long is that Indiana's new governor may prove a man of honor, with the proper regard for the sacredness of an oath and give Kentucky back her own, even if it means death for Taylor and damnation for the republican party. Won't the Herald, which is so anxious to have the Hargises punished, please show that it is not for partisan purposes by insisting that the Indiana executive honor a requisition for the fugitives, instead of handing the hat around for money to defend red-handed assassins? Until it does, honest people will put no confidence in its sincerity in its demands for the punishment of the guilty.

GOV. TERRELL, of Georgia, in a letter to Secretary Taft, expressing gratitude to the general government for the return of the Confederate battle flags, says most gracefully in part: "Let no man who followed the stars and stripes in the brave days of old believe for a moment that those who stood beneath the stars and bars are today less loyal to our common country than they are themselves. So long as the flag of the Confederacy floated they would have died gladly that it might live, and they love it yet as they love the sacred memory of their heroic dead who fell in its defense, but now they are loyal to the flag of their fathers, the flag of their children and the flag of their country."

THE death at Winchester this week of Dr. George S. Savage removed a well-known figure from the sphere of action. He was for many years agent of the American Bible Society and there was hardly a community in Kentucky that had not seen or heard of the man that devoted his life to the spread of the scriptures. He lived to be 94 years old, thus receiving as his sublimary reward the promise that "thy days shall be long upon the earth" and he no doubt heard this welcome plaudit on reaching the life beyond the grave.

THE insurance companies refuse to pay the policies of Mayor McCue, of Charlottesville, Va., because they claim it would be against public policy. In other words they seem to fear that if they pay his insurance, it will be an incentive for other men to kill their wives and be hanged for it. A great moral agency to be sure, is an insurance company. However, some excuse for not paying over is better than none.

ELIHU ROOT and other prominent New York republicans petition Alton B. Parker to become a candidate for his former position on the bench. This may be a high tribute to his judicial integrity, but the very fact that the judge is thought so much of by republicans made democrats suspicious of him. That's the reason doubtless that he was the worst beaten candidate who ever ran for the presidency.

AT the funeral in Cincinnati of Mrs. Johanna Hickey the rare spectacle was afforded of her five sons, all preachers, officiating at the church services. Like the woman who broke the alabaster box of precious ointment over Jesus' head, she has doubtless heard herself, the welcome plaudit from the Master: "She hath done what she could." Many women have done well, but she excelled them all.

THE free coinage of silver in Mexico will be stopped April 16 or on May 1 the present Mexican dollar will be rated at 50 cents in gold. Col. Bryan's theory will soon have the support of no government but China, through individuals may still clamor for free silver, because of the charm attached to anything supposed to be free.

THE Congregational church has declined to accept a gift of $100,000 from Rockefeller because the money is tainted. This is a little "too too" sanctimonious. Just as well refuse to accept any money because it may have been used to buy whisky or other objectionable things.

THOSE of us who may have disbelieved the story that Eve was made from a rib of Adam must cease to be doubting Thomases. Skeletons of people who lived 8,000 years ago show that men had 13 ribs, whereas now they have but an even dozen.

HON. LABAN PHELPS, a splendid gentleman and a democrat in all the word implies, is a candidate for mayor of Louisville. The Falls City would honor herself by honoring so excellent and clean a man as we know Mr. Phelps to be.

THE Red Men of Jackson elected Judge James H. Hargis Prophet. An honor to be sure, but the chances are that the judge will not be able to attend the lodge's meetings regularly for years to come.

MR. YOUNG E. ALLISON has retired from the tottering Louisville Herald and as he was its mainstay, we may soon hear of a collapse of the leading republican paper in Kentucky. It seems almost impossible for a republican daily to be successful in this State. The average republican, if he can read at all, doesn't take a newspaper and the consequence is that attempts to make one go on a large scale soon ends in failure. If Mr. Yerkes' statement that the republicans are socially, financially and intellectually superior to democrats in Kentucky were true, things wouldn't be thus. But Brer Yerkes was only talking through his hat to people who didn't know any better.

WHILE Russia is having a hard time raising money to continue the war, there is a rush for the Japanese loan of $75,000,000, which is being negotiated in New York and a premium of four points above the subscription price is offered. It is the same case in London where $150,000,000 bonds by the Japs are being disposed of. The courage and determination of the little fighters have won the admiration of the world and made the credit of their government A 1.

PHILADELPHIA is just passing thro' what Lexington and the surrounding section suffered by the collapse of investment companies. Suckers are born every minute and the desire to get rich quick without labor rises eternal in the human breast. The losses in the Quaker City foot up more than a million and in large part represents the hard-earned savings of thousands of poor men and women who were allured by the tempting promises.

R. C. KINKEAD, the Louisville lawyer who renounced his democratic principles and got a little notoriety by defending Powers and handing around the hat for him, is at Washington seeking reward. He not only wants an office himself, but for the entire male membership of his family also. Kinkead is the rule and not the exception of his class of renegades.

A BALTIMORE man advertised for a wife and got 62 women to promise to marry him. It seems that it would be easy to start a Mormon church, even in the highly cultivated Monumental City.

POLITICAL.

Elias Burnett has been appointed postmaster at Knox Fork, Knox county.

The Tennessee Legislature has increased the tax on bucket shops in that State from $400 to $1,000 a year.

The republican committee for Russell and Casey will meet at Liberty Monday to name a candidate for representative.

The Tennessee House by a majority of nearly two to one, voted to reduce the tax rate from 50 cents to 45 cents on the $100.

The President has decided to recommend the selection of Prof. Rhoades, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, as one of the Collectors of Customs at San Domingo.

The Wisconsin Senate, after a long debate, passed the Evans anti-cigarette bill. The bill, which absolutely prohibits the sale or manufacture of cigarettes or cigarette paper, has already passed the assembly and now goes to the governor.

The democratic committee of the 14th judicial district refused to postpone to a date later than April 5 the primary to select a successor to Circuit Judge Robert L. Stout, of Woodford, Gov. Beckham's appointee. Attorney Ira Julian and Judge Stout are the only candidates.

Under directions from the president, Secretary Taft sent a note to the members of the Isthmian Canal commission asking them to tender their resignations. The request was promptly complied with. It is expected that he will announce the new commission during the progress of his Southern trip.

President Roosevelt, in obedience to an act of Congress approved March 3, has issued a proclamation inviting the nations of the earth to join in a naval, marine and military celebration in Hampton Roads of the founding of Jamestown, Va., the first permanent settlement of English-speaking people in America. The celebration will be held between May 13 and November 1, 1907.

WHAT LOVE IS—What is love? An electric spark that flies at irregular tangents and ricochets wildly from heart to heart. Now it soars upward and finds lodging in the superior brain, then it descends, boomerang fashion, and leaps at the smile of a girl! The poets have babbled of love since the first introduction of rhyme; philosophers look through their glasses, chemists dissect and grammarians parse—but all that we know or need know is that Cupid is young.

Mules were higher in Columbia, Tenn., last week than for many years. Four were sold for a total of $900, while many more changed hands at good prices. Half a dozen Southern buyers were there and bought all the good, fat mules offered.

W. W. Hays sold for Dr. J. B. Owsley a horse to Sam C. Thurmond for $125.

Solitude. Laugh and the world laughs with you; Weep and you weep alone, For the sad old earth Must borrow its mirth, It has troubles enough of its own. Sing and the hills will answer; Sigh, it is lost in the air; The echoes bound To a joyful sound, But shrink from voicing care. Rejoice and men will seek you; Grieve and they turn and go; They want full measure Of all your pleasure, But they do not want your woe, Be glad and your friends are many; Be sad and you lose them all; There are none to decline Your nectared wine, But alone you must drink life's gall Feast and your halls are crowded; Fast and the world goes by; Succeed and give And it helps you live, But it cannot help you die. There's room in the halls of pleasure For a long and lordly train; But one by one We must all file on Through the narrow aisles of pain. —Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

MATRIMONIAL. C. R. Cook, aged 20, and Miss Daisy Terry, 15, were made one at Highland a few days ago. G. M. Grubbs and Miss Maude L. Girdler were married at the courthouse by Judge Balley Wednesday.

A FOOLISH PLAN

'Tis a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hour; Because I rout indigestion with August Flower! Constipation is the result of indigestion, biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself. "I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—who persist in "letting nature take its course." What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Flower, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills. August Flower gives new life to the liver and insures healthy stools. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Every man at the Lexington track has seen his get accomplish what has never been done by the produce of any other horse; they have seen his yearling step quarters in 15 1/2 seconds and then sell for starting prices; they have seen his older representatives show as much speed, gameness and genuine race horse qualities as those of any sire ever quartered in Kentucky. Clay King will make the season of 1905 at the low price of $12.50 to insure a living colt. A lien retained upon the foal to secure the payment of the season. MASTIC MIXED PAINT. Can't Be Touched. For painting houses. The reason's plain. Mastic is the purest, therefore the most durable and economical. There is a whole string of "other fellows" claiming "just as good as Mastic" but they don't prove it. Maybe they can't. The analysis of Mastic is published. It's made of pure lead, zinc and linseed oil—the most durable kind of paint—and its purity is therefore unquestioned. As purity means durability, the splendid wearing qualities of Mastic have given it the title of "The Kind That Lasts," and this title is backed up by our absolute guarantee. Mastic is made by PEASLEE-GAULBERT CO., Inc. LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY and we heartily recommend it to your trade. FOR SALE BY PENNY'S DRUG STORE, Stanford, Ky.

Lien retained on all colts until season is paid. Mares parted with or bred elsewhere forfeits insurance and money becomes due. Will make the season at my barn in the West End of Stanford, not at home call on James G. Reid at St. Asaph Hotel. E. H. BEAZLEY, Stanford, Ky.
