

DEMOCRATS ARE CALLED TO MEET

In a Caucus Session by Champ Clark.

HE OUTLINES PARTY'S POLICY

Revision of Tariff by Separate Schedule is to Be Debated.

PARTY'S PLEDGES TO BE KEPT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—The Democratic get-together bugle blast was sounded to-day and with rhythmic step the representatives of Democracy fell in line.

It was in the form of a call for a caucus of all the Democratic members-elect to the Sixty-second Congress, to be held in Washington on January 19.

Representative Clayton, of Alabama, the Chairman of the Democratic caucus, drew up the call, and every Democratic member of the House who could be reached attached his name to it, Champ Clark, the prospective Speaker, heading the list.

At the conferences of the leaders, which have been going on from time to time, it was agreed to dispense with the preliminary caucus of Democratic members of the present House and to issue the call to all the members-elect to the incoming House.

The caucus will be for the purpose of considering party action and outlining a plan of procedure. This will include the subject of tariff revision, and also the changes in the rules of the House. That there will undoubtedly be such changes in the rules as to provide for a Committee on Committees or some other method to take the appointment out of the hands of the Speaker, seems assured.

Champ Clark, in a long statement, virtually pledges himself to such a change, and declares he does not care "the snap of a finger" for the power of appointing the committees.

More important from a standpoint, so far as the country is concerned, is his declaration in relation to a revision of the tariff. He insists the Democratic victory last month as a demand from the people for further changes in the tariff schedules, and this the Democratic party, he maintains, should respond to.

Personally he prefers a revision schedule by schedule, as has been recommended by President Taft, but he claims that the authorship of this plan is Democratic instead of Republican.

January 19 was selected as the date for holding the conference, because it is two days following the Democratic jollification which is to take place in Baltimore, at which there will be present some two or three thousand Democrats from all parts of the country and representing all shades of opinion, in conference.

KENTUCKY WAS FIRST TO CHAMPION CHAMP CLARK

The first delegation boom for Champ Clark for Speaker was started when the Kentucky Democratic members formally endorsed the Missourian. An Associated Press dispatch from Washington says:

"Friends of Mr. Clark say his election is now assured, and that there is no other candidate in the field and no real opposition. They say Mr. Clark already has received positive pledges, more or less equivocal, from twenty-five others and that of the remaining Democrats in the total of 227 in the next Democratic Congress, virtually all of them are expected to rally to Clark. The Kentucky delegation, endorsing Clark for Speaker and Former Congressman South Trimble for Clerk of the House, adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The Hon. Champ Clark, by virtue of his long experience as a representative in Congress, by his distinguished service as leader of the minority, by his able and attractive defense of the principles of his party, by his tact, his patience, his consummate knowledge of human nature, rare courage and conservatism has done much to bring about perfect union in his party, which is in such striking contrast at the present time with the confusion and disorganization of our political opponents, we are firmly convinced that he is in every way eminently suited for the high and responsible position devolving upon the Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Sixty-second Congress.

"Resolved, That we endorse the Hon. Champ Clark for the position of Speaker in the Sixty-second Congress, and agree to use every honorable means to secure his election."

In Memoriam

Little Sadie May Wright, daughter of A. P. and Fannie Wright, was born Oct. 9, and departed this life Nov. the 28th, 1910.

The golden gates were open wide,
A gentle voice said "Come,"
And angels from the other side
Welcomed our loved one home.

We must bow with submission to Him who hath said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Around the little grave we linger,
When the sun is sinking low,
Feeling all our hopes have perished
With the flower we cherished so.
Her Aunt, Martha B.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

TURKEYS BRING $40,000 TO ANDERSON COUNTY

Lawrenceburg, Ky., Dec. 21.—The turkey pens of Hawkins & Company, of this city, closed to-day for the season. Over twenty thousand of the birds were slaughtered and shipped to Boston and other Eastern markets. Higher prices were paid this year than ever before and approximately $40,000 was paid to the farmer wives of Anderson county.

Their Happy Home.

"What were your father and mother quarreling about this morning, Willie?"

"Ma claimed pa would be married again inside of a year if she died, and he denied that he'd ever get married again if he was lucky enough to get out of it this time."

Just Like a Man.

"O, hurry up there!" growled the wailing husband.

"My dear," replied the wife, waving her curling iron in the air to cool it a bit, "you must give me time for this. You know a woman's crowning glory is her hair."

"Rats!" muttered her husband.

An Impression Corrected.

"Did the audience weep while I was singing?" asked the temperamental soprano.

"No," replied the music director; "you were making that noise all by yourself."

SECOND ENGLISH PIT HORROR

In a Year—In the Former One 130 Miners Were the Victims.

THE KING OFFERS SYMPATHY

London, England, December 21.—Another mine horror must be added to the catastrophes of 1910 before the dawn of the new year. This time the scene of disaster is in Bolton, in the North of England, where 300 colliers lost their lives to-day in an explosion in the little Hutton Colliery, of the Hutton Colliery Company, located a short distance outside of this city.

The explosion occurred early in the morning soon after the miners had entered the pit to begin work. Its force was terrific, and later investigation showed that the lower passages had been blocked.

Heroic efforts were made by rescuers all day, but a fierce fire, which followed the explosion, prevented the rescuers from penetrating beyond 400 yards into the workings.

At 9:30 o'clock all the rescuers were called out of the mine, and a conference was held at which Governor Inspector Gerrard, the engineers and the mine manager were present.

Inspector Gerrard issued a report, after making a descent into the pit, in which he stated that it was impossible that any of the miners were still alive. He added that nothing could be done except bring up 20 bodies found lying near the shaft.

This report was communicated to the anxious crowds around the pit mouth, after which the Bishop of Manchester conducted a touching service in the open air, and the people slowly dispersed.

No explanation is given as to the cause of the explosion which completely wrecked the mine.

This is the second great mine disaster in England this year, an explosion having occurred in the Wellington Colliery at White Haven, Cumberland, on May 12, in which 130 miners were killed.

The disaster to-day resulted in the temporary disablement of the machinery whereby the cages are lowered and drawn to the surface, and it was considerable time before the rescue party reached the bottom. In all they brought out eight men, still living, but the most of them were in a serious condition from the noxious gases.

Ten bodies were also moved and 20 additional bodies were found partly covered by heavy falls of coal. The fire is still raging fiercely, and it is supposed that many who were not killed by noxious fumes were burned to death. The scenes of mourning were indescribably sad. As always on the occasion of such disasters, the anxious throng included half-crazed wives and wailing children and the pitiable spectacle familiar to coal-mining districts.

One of the miners who escaped said that the force of the explosion was such that the limbs of many were blown off. The report was heard at points several miles distant.

Among the incidents was the death of a rescuer, who, anxious to save his sons, who were entombed, went in advance of his comrades, and forfeited his life in aftermath.

The King has sent a touching message of sympathy.

POWER OF MONEY IN CHINA IS INESTIMABLE

The rich Chinaman, if condemned to death, easily procures a substitute. Some poor wretch without money to secure his spirits from becoming wandering devils, with the price of his miserable life can purchase proper care for his spirit. Anything, in fact, can be done if you have the money.

It is this belief that causes the Chinaman to commit suicide by taking his life on the premises of his enemy to take vengeance on him. His spirit, he believes, will forever haunt him. There is another reason also; he knows that as sure as fate the officials will under such circumstances come down upon his enemy and strip him of everything.

Poor Chinese have been known to sell everything they possessed, tear down their houses to sell the timber, sell or rent out their wives and children, and even sell themselves to procure money for the proper rites for the peace and comfort of the ancestral spirits. One thing alone he will not do—namely, sacrifice his son.—[National Geographic Magazine.

OBITUARY NOTICES.

It would be a pleasure to publish obituary notices of friends without charge, but owing to the large territory covered by The Herald and the fact that several columns of space would be required every week for that purpose, it is impossible for us to print obituaries entirely free. Therefore, we are compelled to charge for such notices at the rate of one cent per word for all over 150 words. To ascertain the cost, count six words to the line and remit accordingly. News items concerning deaths are published free.

Frequently obituary notices are sent with no name or post-office address given, merely the given names or none at all, in which cases we are unable to notify the senders by letter of our rule. In a case of this sort no disrespect is meant by seeming to ignore the communications, but we have no way to reach the party.

Mr. Holme—Annie, here's a hole in my shirt.

Mrs. Holme (a club woman)—That's all right, your coat will cover it.

Mr. Holme—Yes; but there's a hole in the coat, too.

Mrs. Holme—Well, you've got an overcoat, haven't you?

True to Their Names.

A New Jersey man named his twin sons Roosevelt and Taft. A friend asked him recently how they were getting along.

"Famously," was the answer. "Taft digs steadily into his breakfast bowl, while Roosevelt yells and pounds him over the head with a spoon."

"Have you forgotten that $5 you owe me?"
"Not at all. Didn't you see me try to dodge into that doorway?"

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had never been strong; and this, with the shock of her death, was too much for me.

"I failed in health. I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for company. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains. A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Women's pains are relieved or prevented and women's strength is quickly restored, by Cardui, the woman's tonic. You yourself know best if you need it, or not. If you do need it, do not delay, but commence to use it at once. Every day of delay, only lets you slide further down the hill.

Don't wait, then, but begin to take Cardui today, for its use, no matter how prolonged, cannot harm you and will surely do you good.
