

NO GUESS WORK

STANDARD DISPATCHES ARE GENUINE AND GUARANTEED BY THE GREATEST NEWS GATHERING ASSOCIATION IN THE WORLD, THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THIRTY-NINTH YEAR--NO. 2

The Ogden Standard

OGDEN CITY, UTAH, SATURDAY EVENING, JANUARY 2, 1909

WEATHER FORECAST

UTAH--THE INDICATIONS ARE THAT THE WEATHER WILL BE PARTLY CLOUDY TONIGHT AND TOMORROW.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

QUEEN HELENA IS INJURED IN THE COURSE OF HER LABOR OF LOVE

During Earth Tremor at Messina Hospital Patients Are Thrown Into Panic, and Queen Is Caught in Crush as They Crowd Through Doors ---King Still Superintends Work of Rescue.

Rome, Jan. 2.—Queen Helena, who has been devoting herself to heroic and self-sacrificing work among the earthquake sufferers, has been slightly injured in the course of her labor of love. An earth tremor yesterday at Messina created a panic among the patients in one of the improvised hospitals and the queen, trying to allay the fears of the patients, who were crowding through the doors, was caught in the crush and sustained slight contusions on the chest. The duke of Aosta also has been slightly injured at Palermo, plaster from a falling wall hitting his face and one of his hands.

The king and queen are still at Messina. The king continues to organize and superintend the work of rescue and the queen is doing everything within her power in comforting and alleviating the sufferings of the survivors. Ambassador Griscom has set forth the best way for relief from America to be sent to the devastated district. He recommends that through the cooperation of a committee of Americans at Rome, steamers be chartered at New Orleans or Marseilles to carry provisions, clothing and medical supplies of all kinds, as well as doctors and nurses, to the strait of Messina.

The hospitals and all other available space for the care of the injured in the nearer coast cities of Italy are filled to overflowing, but now Catania, Palermo and Syracuse have room for no more. Naples is rapidly becoming overcrowded and as a result, the sufferers are beginning to pour into Rome.

In this city private people are competing with the authorities to give the refugees hospitality and care. The king has sent a large number of his own men to the strait of Messina, especially the Americans, are all doing humane work.

It has been decided to cover the strait with quicklime, and this work will be undertaken as soon as the material is available. The walls still standing in Messina and Reggio will be blown down by dynamite.

Much has been done towards systematizing the work, but even so, thousands still face death by hunger. The numbers who are going insane increase with every hour. At Messina the weather is still cold and stormy, and many of the injured are succumbing to pneumonia. The chances of the winter will be pinned in the ruins, decrease with every day that passes, for the rescue workers are still not numerous enough to cope with the work in hand.

Rome, Jan. 2.—The American gunboat Scorpion will arrive at Messina Monday, when her commander will place his vessel at the disposal of the American embassy officials and the consular authorities for the assistance of their interests in Sicily. The Scorpion, like other foreign ships, will transport refugees from the affected districts, carrying messages and co-operating in all possible ways with the authorities in the alleviation of distress. If in the meantime, the bodies of Consul Cheney and his wife are found, the Scorpion may transport them to Naples, whence they will be shipped to the United States.

Returning from a visit to the Calabrian coast north of Reggio, King Victor Emmanuel sent the following telegram to Premier Giolitti: "I have visited Cannitello, eight miles north of Reggio, which was literally razed to the ground. Villa San Giovanni also was destroyed. As at Messina the rescue work is well organized. The fires at Messina have now been reduced to small proportions. Three other British and French warships have arrived at Messina. In compliance with the order of the king that the royal palaces at Catania and Naples be placed at the disposal of the wounded, one hundred injured persons from Messina already are occupying a portion of the San Ferdinando palace, the royal house providing everything. The duchess of Aosta has transferred into a hospital the large hall of her palace at Capo Di Monte. The Duke of Aosta has now gone to Reggio, where he is continuing his work of alleviating distress. It is said here that a train which left Reggio early in the morning of the earthquake, carrying passengers, and of which nothing has been heard since, was overwhelmed by the tidal wave following the earthquake. Almost all the people of Reggio and Messina, it is said, are making up their minds to abandon their beloved cities. As an indication of the progress that is being made in bringing order out of chaos, the railway line from Reggio to Cantanzaro was again put in operation last night. There is a break in the line, however, of six hundred and fifty feet, over which passengers and freight must be transferred from one train to another. The distribution of food also is being made more regular in the affected districts, and many of the starving people have been relieved temporarily. Many persons, living along the coasts of Calabria and Sicily, paddle out in canoes to the large steamers passing through the straits and request and receive food from them.

Pope Plus has made another gift of $200,000 to the relief fund. The pontiff has never so much regretted the loss of the liberty he enjoyed as patriarch of Venice. Now is the time that he would like again to be free to pawn his pectoral cross for the benefit of suffering mankind.

AMERICANS BOOKED FOR SICILY BEFORE EARTHQUAKE
Naples, Jan. 2.—The following Americans booked passage from here for Sicily shortly before the earthquake: Edward K. Rogers, Mrs. A. E. Bates, of Chicago; Mrs. J. A. Hunt, of New York; Wm. C. Boyd, of Short Hills, N. J.; Mrs. Susie Schisholm, Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Hates, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. S. A. McCannon, Danvers; Agnes Feeney, Rochester, Minnesota; James P. Pin, of Indianapolis; James P. Norton of New York, who was going to Palermo.

EXPRESS GENERAL SORROW

Letters of Sympathy Received by Italian Embassy

Washington, Jan. 2.—Letters of sympathy have been received at the Italian embassy from Ambassadors Bryce of Great Britain, and Jusserand of France; from the Greek minister to the United States and from many persons in private life. "This is the greatest tragedy in history," writes the Brazilian ambassador. "Sicily has been an eternal source of human tears. What an end to the year! I cannot tell you my feelings. I have been to all those

VAGRANT OF ROYAL BLOOD

Arrested for Begging, Col. Musgrove Tells a Romantic Story

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 2.—Wearing a Victorian Cross, which he presented to him by the late Queen of England and laying claim to royal birth and fabulous wealth, a man giving the name of Colonel Richard Musgrove, a poorly clad, but withal possessing an air of extreme gentility, yesterday faced a charge of soliciting alms in the city police court. "Beneath this frayed frock flows the blood of English nobility and in the vaults of England a fortune of $57,000,000 awaits the careworn individual who stands before you, humiliated by a tide in a coach of ordinary criminals, an American patrol wagon."

Waxing eloquent under plainly evident chagrin at his misfortune, Colonel Musgrove thus addressed the court. Mayor Sebring was sent for and after hearing the romantic story of the prisoner, he was released and to cheer him on the advent of the new year, several city hall employees slipped a few coins in his hands.

Musgrove, who gives his age as 51, says he is now an orphan of the province in India, Queen Zeleka, and that his father was an English nobleman. He claims that the Victorian Cross was presented to him for services rendered in the English cavalry in New Zealand, when he was a colonel, and that his horse is a well aged with wear, which he claims held a sword when two horses were shot beneath him during a battle. Laying claim to American citizenship, which he places higher than English nobility, Musgrove says: "I now request for the honors conferred upon me in American citizenship, which I assumed in North Dakota 16 years ago, I may be compelled to give up a seat in the house of lords when I come into my estate. Before this assemblage of English nobles, I now solemnly and proudly state that I have foresworn the allegiance to the English crown for the distinction of wearing the toga of an American citizen."

Musgrove declines to give his correct name, but asserts that his elder brother, now in a boat in a belt that upon his death the title will fall to him, and with it the millions which he claims were left by his mother.

MOB STORMS JAIL TO FORCE THE RELEASE OF PRISONER
Seattle, Wash., Jan. 2.—Every reserve policeman at headquarters was needed to beat back a mob of rioters that stormed the city jail yesterday following the arrest of Thomas Peterson for disorderly conduct. The mob, consisting of more than a thousand men and boys, surrounded the jail and called for the release of the prisoner. It was only by using the full reserve force at headquarters including the clerks and detective on duty, that Captain D. F. Willard, the officer in charge, could clear the steps of the police station and scattered the rioters.

HE IS SHOT BY NEW YEAR CELEBRATORS
Chicago, Jan. 2.—Pietro Ceveco is suffering from a bullet in his right thigh, another in his right hand and a third just above his right knee, but

QUEEN HELENA IS SLIGHTLY INJURED
Rome, Jan. 2.—Queen Helena has been slightly injured at Messina. A despatch received here today from Minister of Justice Orlando, who is with their Majesties at Messina, says that a slight shock was experienced at Messina yesterday and the patients in one of the improvised hospitals were thrown into a condition of panic. Her Majesty was close by. She hurried to the scene and tried to allay the fears of the people. She was caught in a crush as the patients were making for the open, and sustained slight contusions on the chest. As the Duke of Aosta was crossing the Via Garimone in Palermo, the wall of a house fell, and flying plaster struck him on the face and hands, inflicting slight scratches.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—In the company of an officer of the East St. Louis police department, C. B. Needham, of Somerville, Mass., a Boston suburb, who is reputed to be wealthy, departed today for his home. His wife is bearing the expense of the trip. Needham was found in the Belleville, Ill.,

work-house serving a sentence on the charge of vagrancy. For three months his wife sought for him, since the day he escaped from her in St. Louis while she was preparing to have him placed in an asylum. He came here in October suffering from a nervous breakdown. He had been working in Florida. Mrs. Needham located him in East St. Louis and came from Boston, and it was while she was arranging to have him placed in an asylum that he escaped from her. Recently he reappeared in East St. Louis and he was put in the work-house until his wife could be advised. The police say he is suffering from mental aberration.

He Escaped From His Wife When She Was Preparing to Put Him in an Asylum.

CAUSE OF ITALIAN QUAKE

Professors of Columbia and New York Universities Give Opinions
New York, Jan. 2.—Opinions given here by two scientific men on the physical features of the terrible convulsion of nature in Calabria and Sicily are highly interesting. Dr. James F. Kemp, professor of geology at Columbia university, preface his opinion with the statement that it was mere conjecture on account of the meagre information at hand, but he added: "I cannot get away from the old theory that the earth was at one time a molten mass, the surface having cooled off sufficiently to form a crust. The earth is continually contracting, which causes the weaker portions on the surface to cave in, and it seems to me that this is what occurred in the case of the Italian earthquake. "I should say that for about fifty miles parallel with the Straits of Messina, the land under the sea and along the coast caved in, causing the sea to rush with great force in on the land, sweeping all before it."

Professor John J. Stevenson, professor of geology at New York university, said in speaking of the disaster: "As a disturbance in the earth's crust, the Messina quake, terrible as were its effects, was only a small affair. It may be compared to the explosion of an immense dynamite bomb, which does frightful execution within a small area, but is without effect a short distance away. Thus while Messina and Reggio were entirely devastated, according to present reports, Palermo was only slightly shaken, Taormina was unharmed and at Naples the shock was not felt at all."

Professor Stevenson then compared the Italian earthquake to the Charleston, S. C., earthquake which he said was felt from the Atlantic ocean to Arkansas and Minnesota, and New York and Maine.

WEALTHY MAN IS FOUND IN THE WORK HOUSE
St. Louis, Jan. 2.—In the company of an officer of the East St. Louis police department, C. B. Needham, of Somerville, Mass., a Boston suburb, who is reputed to be wealthy, departed today for his home. His wife is bearing the expense of the trip. Needham was found in the Belleville, Ill.,

work-house serving a sentence on the charge of vagrancy. For three months his wife sought for him, since the day he escaped from her in St. Louis while she was preparing to have him placed in an asylum. He came here in October suffering from a nervous breakdown. He had been working in Florida. Mrs. Needham located him in East St. Louis and came from Boston, and it was while she was arranging to have him placed in an asylum that he escaped from her. Recently he reappeared in East St. Louis and he was put in the work-house until his wife could be advised. The police say he is suffering from mental aberration.

HE IS SHOT BY NEW YEAR CELEBRATORS
Chicago, Jan. 2.—Pietro Ceveco is suffering from a bullet in his right thigh, another in his right hand and a third just above his right knee, but

QUEEN HELENA IS SLIGHTLY INJURED
Rome, Jan. 2.—Queen Helena has been slightly injured at Messina. A despatch received here today from Minister of Justice Orlando, who is with their Majesties at Messina, says that a slight shock was experienced at Messina yesterday and the patients in one of the improvised hospitals were thrown into a condition of panic. Her Majesty was close by. She hurried to the scene and tried to allay the fears of the people. She was caught in a crush as the patients were making for the open, and sustained slight contusions on the chest. As the Duke of Aosta was crossing the Via Garimone in Palermo, the wall of a house fell, and flying plaster struck him on the face and hands, inflicting slight scratches.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—In the company of an officer of the East St. Louis police department, C. B. Needham, of Somerville, Mass., a Boston suburb, who is reputed to be wealthy, departed today for his home. His wife is bearing the expense of the trip. Needham was found in the Belleville, Ill.,

work-house serving a sentence on the charge of vagrancy. For three months his wife sought for him, since the day he escaped from her in St. Louis while she was preparing to have him placed in an asylum. He came here in October suffering from a nervous breakdown. He had been working in Florida. Mrs. Needham located him in East St. Louis and came from Boston, and it was while she was arranging to have him placed in an asylum that he escaped from her. Recently he reappeared in East St. Louis and he was put in the work-house until his wife could be advised. The police say he is suffering from mental aberration.

He Escaped From His Wife When She Was Preparing to Put Him in an Asylum.

he is cheerful. He received his wounds on a cheerful occasion. They came with the new year when he emerged from his home at midnight to run into a celebration. The three bullets struck him before he had time to dodge back in the house. "I don't know who fired the shots," says Ceveco from his bed of pain, "but I don't think they meant to hit me. They were just celebrating."

FIREMAN PREVENTED A THEATER PANIC
Erie, Pa., Jan. 2.—A fire broke out in the Park Opera House during the performance last night, but owing to the coolness and work of Fireman Abraham A. Loucha, a panic was averted, and all escaped. Before the big audience realized it, the house had been almost emptied. There were many narrow escapes and a dozen women fainted and had to be carried out. Much of the building was saved from destruction. Every one of the fifteen hundred seats in the theater was occupied. Loucha saw smoke coming from the floor of the gallery and sent in a still alarm. He reached the rear of the stage before the audience was advised of the danger, and appealed to the actors to continue the act and then he stepped to the front and called to the audience to file out in order, giving them to understand that the fire was in an adjoining structure. No one tried to crowd until smoke began to fill the building. The act then began. The fire department saved scores from jumping from the third story fire escape by getting ladders up.

PACKING HOUSE AGAIN TO BE INVESTIGATED
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 2.—Wade H. Ellis, assistant United States attorney general, is expected here to confer with District Attorney Sims in relation to the government packing house inquiry. Mr. Ellis was one of those in the conference at Washington when the investigation was planned. Evidence will be submitted to the grand jury. It is said, showing the methods by which the claims departments of various railroads have been reached by packing companies. An effort will be made to ascertain if these methods of indirect rebating. The question of claims on railroads for "damaged goods" is also to be gone into.

VALUABLE JEWELS FOUND
New York, Jan. 2.—The $6,500 pearl necklace lost on New Year's eve by Mrs. Estelle L. B. Hamlen, wife of Dr. George D. Hamlen, has been returned, and Edward C. Wallach starts the new year with $2,000 to add to his bank account. This is the amount he received as the reward from Dr. Hamlen. With the announcement of the loss of the necklace the detective department was on the alert, and plans were under way for searching every cab in the city. Mrs. Hamlen having left her apartment in a cab on the day that the jewels were lost, and the theory being advanced that the necklace had been perhaps mislaid in the vehicle. As a matter of fact it was lying on the sidewalk in front of the Hamlen apartment at 59 Central Park west, and Wallach, who was on his way to visit relatives in the same building, saw it lying sparkling on the sidewalk. Having no particular knowledge of the value of the gems, he thrust it carelessly in his pocket until he noticed the newspapers yesterday. Exaggerated accounts appeared giving the value of the necklace as high as $65,000, which is due to an error of an added cipher made by the police. As soon as he realized that he had Mrs. Hamlen's property in his possession, Wallach made haste to restore the jewels and presented them to Dr. and Mrs. Hamlen last night. The necklace was made up of six Persian pearls, sixty-one Amsterdam pearls and a diamond weighing a karat and a half.

$1,000,000 IS SPENT IN TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN
New York, Jan. 2.—A million dollars in round numbers was spent in the United States last year in the campaign against tuberculosis, according to the annual report of the National Association for the Prevention and Study of Tuberculosis. The fight, the report says, was the history of medicine. All classes of people are taking up the crusade, including labor unions, churches and laymen. An important factor was the work of the Red Cross with its millions of stamps and the International exhibit held first at Washington and now open in this city impressed upon thousands the necessity of properly combatting the disease. During the year more institutions and organizations for the cure of tuberculosis were established than the total number of such institutions in existence prior to January 1, 1908.

Wool.
St. Louis, Jan. 2.—Wool, steady; territory and western medium 17a 27; fine medium 15a17; fine 12a14.

PEKING IS GIVEN A SHOCK BY THE ISSUING OF A SURPRISING EDICT

Manchu Plot, to Which the Japanese Have Been Privy, is Supposed to Be Back of the Dismissal From Office of the Grand Councillor Who Befriended Foreigners During Boxer Uprising.

Peking, Jan. 2.—An edict issued today dismisses from office, Yuan Shi Kai, grand councillor and commander-in-chief of the forces. The reason given for this action is that he has rheumatism of the leg. The edict orders Yuan Shi Kai to vacate all his offices and to return to his home, adding: "Thus our clemency toward you is manifested."

A second edict appoints Na Tung, comptroller of customs and ex-governor of Peking, grand councillor, presumably in Yuan Shi Kai's place. The members of the diplomatic corps at Peking are well-nigh thunderstruck at the sudden dismissal of Yuan Shi Kai. The step is believed to be the outcome of a Manchu plot and there are indications that the Japanese representatives alone had any inkling of what was on foot.

DOWNFALL OF COUNCILLOR EXPECTED AT WASHINGTON
Washington, Jan. 2.—Though the news of the downfall of Yuan Shi Kai was not entirely unexpected in official circles here, it was received with regret, for the state department has been recollection of the great services rendered by Yuan Shi Kai to the Chinese government in securing communication by secret means with the legations besieged in the famous Boxer uprising. At that time Yuan Shi Kai was Taotai of Shanghai and did not hesitate to use all of his great power to secure news from the compound which gave the first assurance to the outside world that the diplomats, their families and attaches were holding their own within the legation precincts. It was this information which Yuan Shi Kai conveyed through the American consul general at Shanghai to Mr. Hay that encouraged the European governments to join with America in the remarkable allied march to Peking that resulted in the liberation of the legations. It was Yuan who organized the modern Chinese army; dropped out the spearsmen and the bowmen and the bearers of stink pots and the makers of loud noises, and substituted well-drilled, khaki-clad soldiers, educated by European officers. During the Boxer uprising, with his trained troops, Yuan was almost the only viceroy in China able to extend protection to foreign life and property, and in his later position, with extended powers, he had planned to make the Chinese national army a force to be reckoned with by any nation.

Insane Laborer Attempts to Occupy the Pulpit
Spokane, Wash., Jan. 2.—Stark naked, Frank Mays, a strapping laborer, 26 years old, went suddenly insane in the Billy Sunday tabernacle about 6 o'clock last night, and attempted to occupy the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements by singing hymns. Before making his spectacular attempt to enter the tabernacle, Mays went into a waiting room where he begged the pulpit to deliver an exhortation to the assembled early-comers on "The Devil." The mad man was prevented from carrying out his purpose by ushers with whom he fought like a tiger. Wrapped in a blanket, the insane man was taken to the city hall, bound hand and foot. At the station, Mays declared he had disobeyed to prove that he was an angel from God. Still manacled, the man was locked up in a strong cell, where he squirmed out of the blanket and began to shout that he was the devil come to put Billy Sunday out of business. He varied these statements