WORK FOR SHERIFF

Special Venire of Talesmen to Appear in Court on Monday

BOISE, Idaho, May 10.—There was noticeable evidence of relaxation in the atmosphere of Boise today. Notwithstanding an outward appearance of apathy and lack of interest in the case, there has existed for some time in Boise an extremely tense condition. Reports as to what might occur, either before the trial opened or during its progress, have tended to create a decided feeling of uneasiness. The presence in the city of a number of private detectives employed by either side and the outspoken attacks by the radical element of the socialists necessarily brought out many rumors and reports purporting to come from authentic sources of probable trouble, such as an attack on the jail or an attempt to spirit away some of the chief witnesses for the prosecution. The proceedings in the courtroom yesterday did much to dissipate this. There was a spirit of give and take. A joke from one or another of counsel or a laugh caused by the answer of a talesman acted as safety valves, and before the day was out the strain was relieved and everybody breathed easier.

EXPECTS LITTLE DELAY
Richardson, one of Haywood's leading counsel, said today:
"We expect the sheriff will select his venire with fairness and with care, so as to enable us to obtain an impartial jury. If the right class of men is selected we will not take a long time to select a jury."

While the number of witnesses to be called on both sides looks formidable there is good reason to believe that a large number of these witnesses will not be in attendance. A considerable proportion of the witnesses for the prosecution live in Colorado or in other neighboring states. This is true also of the defense, as the homes of the prisoners are in Colorado and it is not possible to bring them to Idaho against their will. Lawyers of Boise not connected in any way with the case, but who know as much as is known of what both sides expect to do, said that after the jury was sworn the trial of the case ought not to last longer than two weeks. Judge Freeman said he expected to waste no time and another adjournment on Monday is not looked for. Court will sit from 9 o'clock to noon and from 2 to 5 o'clock and at times until 6 o'clock, with long sessions on Saturdays.

ORCHARD MAY TESTIFY
Several members of the western federation of miners who are in Boise watching the progress of the case do not join in the belief in some quarters that Orchard will refuse to testify. They believe that he will make his statement on the stand. On all sides there is a question as to how far Orchard will be allowed to go in this statement, which, it is alleged, implicates Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone. Around this evidence the whole case undoubtedly will move.

A statement printed by the Chicago Journal charging that one Charles Moyer was sentenced in 1886 to one year in Joliet penitentiary was printed here this afternoon and created much discussion. That the ex-convict and C. H. Moyer, the prisoner now in the jail here charged with the murder of former Governor Steenbergen are one and the same is denied by the prisoner and his counsel. Moyer said today that he was working in the mines in the Black Hills country of South Dakota at the time stated, between February 4, 1886, and January 4, 1887. He said that it would be easy to verify this by the records of the Castle Creek gold mining company at Rockford, S. D., where he was

Scene of the delay in Devisadero street near Geary yesterday afternoon when two cars filled with strike breakers were stopped on account of an accident to Police Captain Gleeson's automobile. During this wait the crowd jeered the men on the cars and Police Sergeant Harry Hook arrested a man who called him a "scab."

Trains From East Bring More Strike Breakers Several Hundred Men Arrive Here Early This Morning

At 4 o'clock this morning 400 strike breakers brought to the city by the Thiele detective agency as an addition to the force of 250 already here came into the city on special trains by way of the coast line, were unloaded at Geneva street and afterward taken to the Valencia street barn, where they are housed awaiting orders to take out cars over the United Railroads' lines.

The trains carrying the strike breakers passed through Sacramento early yesterday afternoon, were shunted around on the east shore of the bay during the evening, and at nightfall were run down to San Jose and back up to San Francisco over the coast line. Assistant General Manager, Handlin and several other officials of the United Railroads went a part of the way toward San Jose last night to meet the trains and arrange for the distribution of the men when they reached this city.

The new men have signed a contract with the United Railroads similar to that under which the first strike breakers who came here are working. This contract is for sixty days from the time of signing. The wage agreement is $3 per day and board and lodging until the men reach the barns, when the daily wage is increased to $3.50. Prior to the arrival of the additional strike breakers this morning several of the men were removed from the Turk and Fillmore street barracks to the Valencia street car barns, where they were joined by the newcomers.

In the barracks in the Turk and Fillmore street inclosure the men quartered have been enjoying their enforced idleness and living on the best that could be provided. The food served them is of good quality and generous quantity. Wednesday there was a turkey dinner. The men are allowed to do anything to amuse themselves

Day's Developments in Strike of the Streetcar Men

Adjutant General Lauck and Brigadier General Wankowski reached San Francisco yesterday. Governor Gillett will arrive today from Los Angeles and will confer with the officers of the guard. The governor will order the Seventh regiment of 600 men rushed from Los Angeles if he believes the situation warrants such action.

Calhoun will attempt to resume car service in the burned district today. Dinan has assigned 400 policemen to special strike duty.

Two cars were successfully operated yesterday by the United Railroads from the Oak and Broderick street barns to Sutter and Larkin streets. Women tossed bouquets to the strike breakers, and there was less violence than on the previous day.

Three peace committees made fruitless efforts yesterday to bring the warring factions together. Both sides assumed a defiant attitude.

Four hundred strike breakers have arrived from the east and are quartered in the Valencia street barns.

Calhoun has offered $100 to the first man who will run a car all the way to the ferry. Strike breakers are under a sixty days' contract at a wage of $3.50 a day, with board and lodging.

Feed wires of the Bay Counties power company have been torn out in order to cut off current from United Railroads.

Five arrests were made yesterday in connection with the strike.

Calhoun, promised police protection, decides not to ask governor to order out state troops.

State Executive Comes to Learn Real Situation Will Decide at Once Whether or Not Militia Is Needed

With the arrival of Governor Gillett in San Francisco this morning a full investigation of the strike situation will be made by the state authorities which will determine within a few hours whether or not military control shall be ordered. The governor has arranged for conferences with both the municipal authorities and his subordinates in the national guard. Adjutant General Lauck and Brigadier General Wankowski are already in the city.

Governor Gillett and Captain Luttrick are on their way north and will arrive in San Francisco this morning. The Seventh regiment is ready to move from Los Angeles at a moment's notice, and a special train stands on a side track ready to rush the troops northward if the order be given.

The situation took a critical turn last evening, when President Calhoun of the United Railroads announced that he was prepared to resume complete operation of the car lines, despite the fact that the police had offered protection for only a few hours each day. Chief Dinan has ordered 400 men to special strike duty. The supreme test is at hand. The governor and the ranking officers of the national guard will witness today's events, and if the police, in their judgment, are not equal to the situation telegraphic orders will be sent to Los Angeles to rush the Seventh regiment.

President Calhoun and the officials of the carmen's union assumed a more defiant attitude yesterday than at any time during the controversy. Calhoun announced that under no circumstances would he treat with the union, and that he purposed resuming complete service on his lines at once. Three peace committees made fruitless endeavors to bring the warring factions together. Both sides refused to yield a single point.

General Wankowski will select a camping ground for his troops today and will make commissary arrangements for a protracted stay. The Seventh regiment has been chosen for service in San Francisco because its 600 members, living in Los Angeles, have affiliations with neither side. They will be given instructions to preserve order at any cost.

The militia officers regard the situation as fraught with grave dangers. The fact that the company has been able to operate two cars over a small section of the residence district, they say, proves nothing. They believe the real test is to come within the next few days, when Calhoun will attempt to restore the full service.

Governor Gillett has announced that he will not wait for the mayor to act if he personally believes that the police cannot handle the situation. The governor and the
