MOVIE THEATRE ATTRACTIONS

Filmom News

ATTRACTIONS TONIGHT.

COLISEUM — "When It Strikes Home" with three stars. Other films.

ORPHEUM — "The Painted World."

DREAM — "The Clue" with Blanche Sweet and "The Bathers" with Fay Tincher.

GRAND — Hobart Bosworth in "Fatherland."

DOUGLAS LYRIC — "The Broken Coin" and other features.

DOUGLAS ORPHEUM — "What Happened to Father," featuring Frank Daniels.

Human Interest Play.

There is human interest abundant in the play at the Coliseum which opened last night and will be repeated for tonight's performance. This play is entitled "When It Strikes Home" and it does appeal. A pretty and vivacious dancer is won by a son of a wealthy man. The son and dancer marry. The father separates them. Later a son is born to the cast-off wife. The son rewards again. To this marriage no children result and the couple adopt a little boy. This boy proves to be the dancer's child and—but what's the use—this is only the starter of the play which is told in five brilliant acts. Grace Washburn, Edwin August and Muriel Osterlie have important parts.

F. A. Lynch last night delighted the audience by his rendition of three solos between the first and second shows. His clear tenor voice was heard to splendid advantage.

a large force and it is claimed that 2,500 persons are seen in the various movements. There will be an added film or two to go with this big feature.

Farnum at Douglas.

Tomorrow night William Farnum in "The Wonderful Adventure" will be the feature bill at the Douglas Orpheum. On the Island, William Farnum is a prime favorite and in the dual role of "The Wonderful Adventure" he is going to more than satisfy his admirers. The play is a wonderful adventure. There is the wife and the usual siren but it is not a vampire play by any means. The vampire or siren in this play is called the mystic. She is alright but a winsome mystic at that.

Actress Versatile.

Blanche Sweet, the Laasy star in Paramount pictures, has played a wide range of characters during the past year. She has been a child of the alums, a Russian anarchist, a belle of society, a maid-of-all-work, "and everything" as "Jerry" says.

Marie Doro.

Jesse Laasy ere long will present Marie Doro and Theodore Roberts in "Common Ground." Making twelve hats grow where only one blossomed before is one of the accomplishments of Miss Doro in this film.

Plans "Hen" Party.

Winifred Kingston, Dustin Farnum's leading woman, has just finished her last picture for a while, and is planning a motor trip through the northern part of California and to the national parks. This trip will be unique, as not a single man will be invited. Miss Kingston has issued invitations to women exclusively, and the other sex is requested to keep out of sight. Good night, ladies.

LOUISVILLE DOCTOR MEETS BRANDENBURG OLD TILlicUM HERE

Dr. Harry K. Kettig, a prominent physician of Louisville, Ky., is making a round trip to Alaska, his first voyage to the northland. Dr. Kettig is a passenger on the Prince George and while that steamer was in port Thursday night was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brandenburg, the doctor and Mr. Brandenburg were old Louisville tillicums. At a luncheon party served by Mrs. Brandenburg, all of the dishes as near as possible were of Alaska products and Dr. Kettig said that the blue grass state had nothing on the Alaskan territory.

ARE GUESTS OF THANE.

A large party yesterday took advantage of the good weather and visited Anney Creek as the guests of B. L. Thane, manager of the Gastineau Company.

Personal Mention

M. H. Whalen, of Hoonah, is at the Alaskan Hotel. Mr. Whalen was a member of the crew of the cannery tender Agnes W., which sank yesterday off the south end of Douglas Island.

Sidney H. Ball, a mining expert from New York, and formerly of South Africa, is in the city and is registered at the Gastineau hotel for a few days.

E. Noonday and O. Mandle, of Hoonah, are in the city.

G. D. McDonald, of Petersburg, arrived from there last night and is at the Gastineau.

Prof. W. W. Cooper, of Portland is at the Gastineau. Mr. Cooper is blind and is an expert phrenologist. He is traveling through Alaska on a lecture tour.

George Irving left on the Al-Ki for a short business trip to Wrangell and Petersburg. He will appear for the liquor interests there in the hearing to be held before Judge Jennings next week.

Gene Owens, known as the Mayor of Sundum, is in the city for a few days registered at the Occidental.

Breezy Bill Closes.

Fay Tincher in her classy bathing suit and Blanche Sweet in "The Clue" bring the present bill to a close tonight at the Dream. Both women and both plays are enticing.

Last Night of Daniels.

Frank Daniels in "What Happened to Father," appearing at the Douglas Orpheum, closes tonight but his quaint humor and real fun will linger for some time.

"The Broken Coin."

Grace Cunard and Francis Ford in one of the serials of "The Broken Coin" opened last night at the Douglas Lyric for two nights. There are other films that make a good bill.

The "Fox Woman" Coming.

"Madam Butterfly" was written by John Luther Long. This was and is one of the great plays now. Mr. Long wrote the "Fox Woman" in which Signe Auen is to appear in at the Dream next week. Both the play and the woman are unknown to Juneau people but both will leave decidedly good impressions.

Anita Again.

Anita King and Thomas Meighan will shortly appear as co-stars in a Laasy production of a Paramount picture.

War Drama at Douglas.

For the Sunday night attraction at the Douglas Lyric Manager Dyer has secured the Universal feature "The Campbell's Are Coming" a military play in four big acts. The scenario was written by Grace Cunard and the production was staged by Francis Ford. Both take leading parts. Besides these two clever people the many scenes require
