Americans Are Wild With Spending Says J. J. Hill

ST. PAUL, Mar. 1.—The modern industrial community, in its widest as well as in its narrowest scope, rests on credit, according to James J. Hill, Principal speaker at the eighteenth annual banquet of the St. Paul Association of Credit Men.

Excessive capitalization of trusts and some less spectacular enterprises and the increase of public indebtedness everywhere were given by Mr. Hill as the principal abuses of credit at the present time.

"The invention of money was a long step toward civilization, but the invention of credit was a greater," he said. "The world deals ever more largely with credit. It is the motive power of current enterprise.

"The whole American public is wild with spending. Public economy is a lost art. A bill that carries or requires an appropriation needs little else to commend it to any legislative body. All bonds of municipalities are now refunded, instead of being paid when due. The excuse for a bond issue is always that 'prosperity' ought to bear part of the cost of public improvements.

"It is, perhaps, the meanest form of stealing ever invented; because it adds to the criminality of breach of trust, the baseness of embezzling the future resources of our own children, who, since there must come an end of borrowing some time, will have these debts to pay."

MAKES NATIVES GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

The natives of Knik are resenting the manner in which the whites were trying to educate them. There was a great deal of friction between the white and the native children over being forced to attend the same Sunday School. The matter was solved by a Mrs. Harrington, who went to the native chief and offered to conduct a Sunday School for the native children alone.

The idea made a hit with the old chief, who issued a proclamation to the effect that all native children attend the new Sunday School every Sunday. Some held back, but the chief armed himself with a dog whip and every Sunday morning makes the rounds of the cabins and starts all of the children for the Sunday School, and once inside, the chief stands at the door during services and refuses to allow any one to leave the building until the school is dismissed.

DAWSON LETTER ALMOST OF AGE

Not satisfied with being distinguished as getting part of the mail some of the time, and some of the mail all the time—Dawson has just captured a new mail laurel. This time it is on an outgoing letter. It was thought Dawson mail which reached the wonderful outside world seldom had troubles there, but somehow a Dawson-mailed letter has been traveling more than a decade, and has just reach its destination, almost old enough to vote. The following tells the story:

SEATTLE—Twelve years ago Geo. F. Russell, proprietor of a merchandise store at Dawson, Yukon Territory, and for a time cashier for the A. C. store, mailed a letter to a Mr. Fell, president of the Bank of Holland, The Hague. Sunday the letter, battered and almost undecipherable, was returned to its sender, who is now postmaster of Seattle.

The return of the letter, bearing by Russell in December, 1900, and the postmarks of Amsterdam, Holland; of the Canadian dead letter office; of an English man-of-war; and of at least ten other stopping places, is pronounced unparalleled in postal annals. Since it was mailed no less than four different persons opened it, scribbled their names across the face, and passed it on, after it had reached its destination at The Hague early in 1901.

BIGGEST POTLATCH OF THE NORTH COAST

One of the biggest potlatches held on the northern coast for some years past, was held at Alert bay last week. The attendance of Indians numbered in the neighborhood of a thousand.

Illuminated by large fire and innumerable torches the Indian village presented an animated appearance, while the various chants, accompanied by the indispensable beating of drums and clapping of hands, resounded far across the bay.

NOTICE OF FORFEITURE

TO L. A. Moore, Berta Jarma and Fred Stevenson: You and each of you are hereby notified that you co-owner, the undersigned, have performed all the necessary labor as required by Section 2324 United States Revised Statutes and the amendments thereto and approved January 22nd, 1880, concerning annual labor upon mining claims, upon the Sum Dum group of placer claims and upon the Duck creek group of placer claims, for the year ending December 31st, 1912, for the purpose of holding said claims.

And unless you, within ninety days after the first publication of this notice, pay your proportion of the cost of said annual labor as required by law, and the cost of this notice, your interest in said group or groups of said claims will, in accordance with law, become the property of the undersigned; the proportion to be paid by L. A. Moore, holding one eighth interest in each group is $25.50, and the cost of this notice; the proportion to be paid by Berta Jarma is $12.75, and the cost of this notice, holding one-eighth interest in the Sum Dum group; and the proportion to be paid by Fred Stevenson, holding one-eighth interest in the Sum Dum group is $12.75, and the cost of this notice.

Said claims being located in the Harris mining district, near Power's creek, and about six miles from the office at Juneau, Territory of Alaska; and recorded in book eleven (XII) on pages 51 and 52 of Placer records, on the 5th day of February, A. D. 1912, in the office of the Juneau Recording District.

First publication March 1, 1913, last publication June 1, 1913. ANDREW JOHNSON.

"AMERICA'S FINEST FLOURING MILLS"
Plant and Product one and inseparable
 Pronounced by experts "America's Finest Flouring Mills" the plant of the FISHER'S BLEND FLOUR COMPANY, was designed and constructed to produce America's Most Efficient Breadstuff,
Fisher's Blend Flour
 Separate machinery is provided for grinding hard and soft wheat. Every grain is washed in the famous pure Cedar River water and thoroughly dried before being ground. It is no idle boast to say that this product is the cleanest, most scientifically blended, most economical flour offered for sale today. Combining as it does Eastern Hard Wheat and Western Soft Wheat, it gives to public and private bakers a material which has all the advantages of both hard and soft wheat flours, is better than either, and decidedly superior to any other blend heretofore produced.

One price at all dealers
