REDUCTION OF WORLD'S GOLD SUPPLY AND ITS EFFECT ON ALASKA.

THE decrease in gold production that has been noticeable during the last few years is attracting not a little discussion in the world's financial circles.

The Wall Street Journal recently discussed the stoppage of the flow of new gold into the channels of trade that has been prevailing.

Turning to figures, the Journal says the present stock of gold money in the world is about $7,500,000,000 and it thinks that after deducting that used in the arts and the annual absorption of gold by India, which, incidentally, has been increasing heavily in recent years, the present annual addition to the world's stock of gold can hardly be in excess of $250,000,000.

"Accepting this contention to be true," proceeds the Journal, "and further, that no future increases in the production of gold are likely, there will be fair opportunity to test how sound the quantitative theory of money is in relation to prevailing high prices."

The Democrats were accused in the House of Representatives the other day of cleaning their feet on the Progressive party's door mat.

GOVERNMENT BY THE PEOPLE

THE contention that the direct methods of legislation that have been invoked to bring government closer to the people have a tendency to make demagogues and hypocrites of those that would serve in representative capacity is not based on logic nor is it substantiated by experience.

One of the ills from which the body politic has suffered has been the indifference of the citizen. Many of those whose welfare requires constructive legislation have shown so little interest in matters of public importance that they have left the field of discussion to those who pander to the support of classes of citizens that have votes to give, or to those that have special interests to serve.

Where the people are in command of their government, issues involving the public welfare are threshed out before the elections, and the people are informed about them.

If more of the conservative men and women of the country, that are honestly interested in the up-building of the country, would spend more of their time and talent in discussing what they think should be done and why, and less in proclaiming their distrust of the masses they would not be regarded with so much suspicion.

The sane, patriotic, up-building workmen are in a large majority among the laboring classes. Let them have the information necessary upon which to act intelligently, and no legitimate industry will suffer at their hands.

No interest that will bear scrutiny in the light of a full knowledge of its working need fear to trust the people, and no interest that will not bear such scrutiny deserves public support.

A London newspaper says England does not welcome American militant suffragettes on its shores. That is fair. We are not hankering after any of the British militant suffragettes on our shores.

THE WOMAN SUFFRAGE VOTE IN MICHIGAN

THE cause of woman suffrage that came so nearly carrying the election in Michigan last November was lost by a substantial majority in the spring election this month.

ALASKA BUREAU IS WELL EQUIPPED

That the Alaska Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce possesses more information about Alaska than the United States governments itself, was the declaration made by J. E. Boggild of San Francisco, the executive Danish consul of the Pacific Coast, who was a visitor in Seattle.

Circles.

"What is meant by the phrase 'diplomatic circles'?" "Possibly it refers to the lines of reasoning sometimes pursued in international discussion."

Hopeful

"Does your husband play poker?" "I hope so," replied young Mrs. Popkins. "He has spent hundreds of dollars trying to learn."

Advancing Requirements.

"What we need is a campaign of education." "That's right," replied Farmer Corns.

The Tariff.

Again on tariff themes we touch: Their scope keeps getting wider. A thing that needs reform so much Must be a fierce backslider.

PIONEERS OF ALASKA ORGANIZE AT VALDEZ

Representative Frank Aldrich, who is organizer at large for the Pioneers of Alaska, has received a letter from Joe McCoy stating that they have perfected a temporary organization of an igloo of the order which will probably be Igloo Number 7. The charter will be sent for immediately. There were over forty signers to the roll at the first meeting and it is expected to build up a strong organization.

Awful.

"That was a terrible slip of the pencil my stenographer made," said Senator Sorghum.

"In the speech you recently had printed?"

"Yes. I said I was guided by Vox Populi. She had it written 'Vox Pock-etbook!'"
