THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE INAUGURATION.

THE inauguration of Gov. Strong marks the final step in the evolution of the rule by the people in Alaska. It is a fitting sequence to the passage of the home rule bill for the Territory...

The extreme satisfaction of the people of Alaska in the course of events that culminated yesterday in the inauguration of Gov. Strong is in a large measure a recognition of the eternal fitness of the climax to the long battle they have waged for self-government in this Territory.

The "back to the people" movement has struck the National capital. Citizens of the District of Columbia are seeking self-government. Somehow that Wilsonian way of thinking has a wonderful grip when it gets fairly at work.

JUDGE JENNINGS

THE induction of Robert W. Jennings into office as Judge of the United States District Court for the First Judicial Division of Alaska Tuesday at Ketchikan meets with the satisfaction of the people of this Territory.

The change in the affairs of the Nation resulting from the election last November when there was a complete reversal in the status of the major political parties on the country is just reaching Alaska.

The retirement of Judge Thomas R. Lyons to private life marks the termination of an official career in Alaska that has been acceptable to the people and creditable to the man that made it.
