SUNDAY NIGHT PROGRAM AT THE LYRIC THEATRE

DOUGLAS, April 4.—The Lyric presents the following excellent program for Sunday night:
"Gaumont Weekly." Latest events of the world.
"The Children of St. Ann's."—A two-reel feature, depicting life in our orphan asylums. How a boy made good.

"Burning of the Studio." A film portraying the actual fire scene of the Thanhauser studio burning to the ground.
"Canine Rivals." A comedy in which two dogs display their jealousy.
Good music throughout the evening.

MEN OF DISTINGUISHED PATRONYMS GO WRONG

DOUGLAS, April 4.—Alexander Dumas and Stephen Constantine, two Greeks, and members of the party who were day before yesterday god-speeding their friends to the Chisana, as announced in last night's Empire, got into some trouble on Beach street early this morning and it cost them some hard-earned money to adjust themselves with the law as applied by Magistrate Hensen.

During the course of their hold-over celebration, as the story was told in court, these two gentlemen started to clean up a Jap barber shop. Constantine began the cleaning process by kicking in a couple of inoffensive doors. Then Alexander Dumas cleaned the windows and smashed them in the purifying process. The Japs, though noted as a spotlessly clean race, could not appreciate the Greek system of cleaning up a Nippon barber shop; so they reported the matter to Marshal Shafer and he took the cleaners before the judge who cleaned them for twenty and ten dollars respectively. Steve paid his twenty and then added another five with which the Japs are to buy two new doors. Aleck then contributed ten dollars to the court, together with a dollar and a half for the restitution of the broken windows.

REGISTRATION BOOKS OPEN UNTIL NINE O'CLOCK P. M.

DOUGLAS April 4.—The clerk's registration books for the city of Douglas will remain open until nine o'clock for the accommodation of those who desire to register for next Tuesday's election.

Two hundred and seventy voters had registered up to noon today and it is probable that the number will reach the three hundred mark by the time the books close.

Gus Grundler and Ray Richardson, nominees for school treasurer, have withdrawn their names from the lists.

DOUGLAS NEWS NOTES

DOUGLAS, April 4.—A crowded hall witnessed the entertainment at the Northern last night when Hellock and Armstrong gave their free show, that included five reels of pictures, an orchestra and a free lunch.

There will be a big dance at the Alaska Star Temperance hall tonight. Joe Snow, special officer for the suppression of illegal whisky peddling, came over from Juneau yesterday in response to a request from a leader of the Indians, who claims that illegal whisky peddling a few days ago, resulted in some of the Natives becoming intoxicated.

Mrs. Mugford is reported as recovering from her recent illness.

Prof. R. R. Bell took a number of Boy Scouts from the Douglas schools over to Juneau on the 8:30 ferry and will go with them for a hike into the hills back of Juneau. These days of warm sunshine give opportunity for enjoyable outings and recreation parties in the hills are becoming frequent.

Mrs. King, of Valdez and Mrs. McIntosh, of Seattle, were guests of Mrs. Brinley at the Hotel Northern yesterday. The ladies were on their way to Valdez and left this morning on the Admiral Evans.

Mrs. L. P. Phillips was a Seattle-going passenger on the Jefferson yesterday.

A new Peerless electric piano will arrive on the City of Seattle this afternoon, and be installed in the Salt Lake Bar. The instrument was ordered through the Juneau Music House.
