MAYOR JOHN RECK.

THE City Council could not have pleased the people more had it tried never so hard than it did when it selected John Reck to be Mayor. It did what the people would have done for themselves had they been given the opportunity.

The great glee that is exhibited by the newspapers and in the political speeches of those opposing the Democratic administration, because of the division of sentiment with reference to the canal tolls question, tells its own story.

WHOSE ERROR?

SPEAKING of the complete change that the last two weeks have brought about in the attitude of the British people toward the two political parties of England, the London Times says: "This amazing government has profited by its error."

Over here it looks mighty as though the "error" was committed by the opposition and not the government, and that the profit has gone where it of right belongs.

It is a very complimentary commentary upon the personnel of the new

City Council of Juneau that it has so many members who possess all the qualifications necessary to make a good Mayor.

KEEN COMPETITION.

THE competition among the members of President Wilson's Cabinet for first place in the affections of Alaska is becoming keen. If Congress only does as Cabinet members have asked it to do, when the Alaskan of the future looks at the Territorial capitol building he will think of McAdoo; when he considers the liberal land laws, the administration of Federal governmental functions and the developing railroad it will be the kindly and handsome face of Lane that will present itself before his mental vision.

Whenever a political party is driven to "twisting the lion's tail" for a political issue it is a sign that it is hard pressed on domestic questions, which, after all, concern people most.

PECULIAR APPRECIATION.

SEATTLE newspapers are exhibiting a peculiar brand of appreciation for the work the administration is doing for the development of the West—for the opening of Alaska to development and the restoration of American principles of government to the administration of the public domain.

The affirmative vote for the free tolls repeal bill in the House was made up as follows: Democrats, 222; Republicans, 24; Progressives, 2. The opposition was: Republicans, 92; Democrats, 52; Progressives, 18.
