BY THE DOLLAR AND CENTS STANDARD.

THERE are some people who refuse to measure a foreign policy—or a domestic, for that matter—by any other standard than dollars and cents.

The President and Mr. Bryan are not only right in principle but they are pretty good business men.

If the centralization process should continue, the President and his Cabinet will become big policemen.

PROHIBITION AND CENTRALIZATION.

REFORMERS with but a single panacea for all the ills to which man is heir have contracted the habit of taking their troubles to Washington.

FEATURES OF THE CAMP FIRE GIRLS' ENTERTAINMENT

Besides the character songs and Wobelo ceremony that will be included in the program on Friday, May 8th, in Elks' hall, the Camp Fire Girls will dance some quaint old folk dances that will be seen for the first time in Juneau.

Photographs have today been placed on view in the stores, and they all form striking pictures.

circumstances as their warrant for making the question a National one. Do the prohibitionists fully realize where the success of their program would lead? It would mean the polling of the country by the Federal government.

We have seen this class of legislation used to regulate all manner of local matters. The Federal internal revenue laws and the statutes regulating the use of the mails and prohibiting the white slave traffic have been fruitful in placing local police matters in the Federal rather than State courts.

One would think the prohibitionists would be satisfied with capturing State after State, as they have been doing, rather than to take the risk of aligning State right advocates against their cause.

The return of prosperity to the mining industry of Ketchikan indicated by a particularly lucid interview given The Empire by B. L. Thane the other day is one of the pleasing features of the year's developments.

The success that has thus far attended the efforts of the Draper Club to provide Juneau with a public library is another evidence of the unity of the Juneau spirit.

An least the Dirigo's mishap was not chargeable to an uncharted rock. Whidby Island was located on the maps sometime ago.

This weather causes the fans to have increased interest in Jackson and Molloy's wonders.

YAKUTAT TO HAVE OFFICER.

The Attorney General has advised the marshal's office that authority has been granted to appoint a deputy marshal at Yakutat as soon as arrangements can be made for suitable quarters for jail and office.
