GOLDSTEIN BLOCK READY SEPT. 15

This morning Contractor A. W. Quist stated that the new Goldstein Block would be ready for occupancy throughout by September 15. It was feared for a time that the electric elevators for the big building were lost on the Admiral Sampson, but it is now believed that the only equipment of any consequence for the building that was shipped on the wrecked vessel was the plumbing fixtures and this order was duplicated by cable instructions and shipped on the Dolphin.

The two upper floors that are devoted to offices are ready for occupancy now except for the finishing hardware that should also be here almost immediately. Many of the prospective tenants expect to move into their new quarters in the big structure within the next few days.

Mr. Goldstein hopes to begin moving his stores into the new quarters early in the month, but it is not likely that they will be fully settled in the new home before September 15.

SUPT. HAYES PLEASED WITH ROAD CONDITIONS

J. C. Hayes, superintendent of the Alaska Road Commission, for the Southeastern Alaska district, yesterday visited all of the roads leading from Juneau and reports that no damage has been done during his last visit some weeks ago. The Sheep Creek road is dry and sound, he says, while the Salmon Creek road is in good shape except where gravel is needed. This is now being provided. The Salmon Creek road was covered with water for a short distance in the neighborhood of Lemon creek on account of the excessive rains of the past few days. He has a crew graveling the Douglas Island road between Douglas and the point where it is designed to span Gastineau channel with a bridge.

Mr. Hayes arrived from Lynn canal points on the Jefferson and reports that the roads in that section have not suffered much although some damage was done during the past few days by the Klahna river cutting out portions of the road above Wells.

ITEMS FROM HAINES.

HAINES, Aug. 29. -- Two soldiers who deserted from the Fort the other night taking some government property with them, were caught up the Chilkat river and brought back, and will very likely have to stand trial by Court Martial.

J. C. Hayes, the genial superintendent of the Alaska Road Commission for Southeastern Alaska, is in town. He took a run up the road between here and the Porcupine country for the purpose of seeing what can be done in the way of improving the road. He has returned and will probably leave on the first boat out.

B. A. Barnett, in charge of the Haines wharf in the absence of Ira H. King, has started in to repair the wharf. He has a crew of half dozen men working.

A man by the name of Erickson was severely injured the other day by falling off of the flume at Porcupine, and was brought down to the hospital, where he is now receiving medical treatment.

THIRTY-TWO JOIN SHRINE IN JUNEAU

Thirty-two candidates were initiated into the Order of the Mystic Shrine at a special service held for that purpose in Elks' hall Saturday night. The ceremonies followed a business session of two hours duration and began promptly at 7 o'clock in the evening.

After the ceremonies were over the Shriner Club of Southeastern Alaska held its second meeting. B. M. Behrends former president, retired and Lloyd V. Winters was chosen his successor. David J. Kinzie was chosen secretary for the club. At this meeting plans were discussed for organizing a patrol in Juneau and the meeting of the Imperial Council to be held in Seattle in 1915, was touched upon.

This has been one of the most successful Shrine meetings ever held in the North. Many made the journey from the States to participate in the ceremonies, including John Rex Thompson, potentate of Nile Temple, Seattle. Other officers who assisted were V. A. Payne, illustrious chief rabban; G. H. Graham, assistant illustrious rabban; R. Reed, illustrious high priest; J. R. Crawford, oriental guide; J. R. Jones, first ceremonial master; J. F. WILLOUGHBY AVENUE ATTRACTING ATTENTION

Willoughby avenue attracted a good deal of attention yesterday while the fine weather prevailed and was a favorite parade for those who wanted to enjoy the healthful exercise of walking. The planking is now all laid and there remains but about 300 feet more to lay until the turn is made toward solid ground. The piles are all driven and the stringers laid and it is estimated that before the week is gone the thoroughfare will be connected up with the Casey-Shattuck addition and furnish North Juneau with a splendid highway to the business section.

There are evidences of building under way at different points and saving the tract in front of Auk Indian village, which the government reserved especially for the Indians of the village, little remains that does not show some attempt at physical improvements.
