SENATOR RODEN TO LIVE IN JUNEAU

Senator Henry Roden arrived in Juneau on the Jefferson this morning coming direct from the Iditarod where he spent the summer. Senator Roden says that he made a grubstake out of the "Guggs" and will now set the down in Juneau and make this place his future home.

Speaking of the interior Senator Roden says that the Iditarod had plenty of water for mining operations during the season and that the output will be satisfactory. Ruby is showing up much better than was expected and the cleanup for the season will probably be over a million dollars, he thinks. Everybody in the camp is cheerful and satisfied.

Charles E. Bunnell, Democratic candidate for Delegate to Congress has a good chance in the Fourth division, Senator Roden believes, because Democrats in that section are much more plentiful than in former years.

The Senator is staying at the Occidental and has been busy all day chalking hands with his many friends in the Capital City.
