GEN. DAVIDSON HAS FINE OFFICES
Charles E. Davidson, Surveyor General and ex-officio Secretary of the Territory of Alaska, is established with his entire office force in their handsome new quarters in the big concrete Goldstein Block this morning. They commenced moving from the old offices Saturday morning and worked all day yesterday. The new offices are probably the finest in all Alaska. They occupy positions along the south and west side of the top floor of the tall building and have commanding views of the town and harbor.
The suite contains five offices all told and two large supply closets and a lavatory. The first office encountered at the head of the stairs and near the elevator is the office of Secretary of the Territory, which is connected with the private office of the Surveyor General. Next to the Surveyor General's private office is the main office of the Surveyor General. This office is in the corner of the building and contains a fire and burglar proof vault. It is also connected with Mr. Davidson's private office. Immediately adjoining on the west side is the office of the chief draftsman, adjoining it the main drafting room, the area of which is greater by far than any of the others. The supply closets are conveniently located adjacent to the drafting rooms.
The elevator is not yet in operation for the carrying of passengers and will probably not be used for that purpose for several days on account of the work that is still in progress on the building below the top floor, but the stairs have been placed in condition so that the general public may use this mode of reaching the uppermost floor.

ENTERTAINERS ARE COMING TO JUNEAU
Bowen and Percell, two of Seattle's best cabaret entertainers, direct from Tarts, have telegraphed the Elks' carnival committee that they leave on the Jefferson Tuesday for the Elks' Carnival. These two clever entertainers have been brought here at a big expense. Two weeks salary and transportation each way have to be paid.

"BILLY" TAYLOR AND PARTY GET THREE
"Billy" Taylor, Julius Sternberg, Art Weston and Orville Oits, form a party of successful almsdeers that returned last evening from Young's bay on Admiralty island with three nice deer. They left Juneau Saturday night on Sternberg's launch "Photo" and put in the greater part of yesterday hunting.

NO GUN CLUB SHOOT - CARTER HAS MEDAL YET
The Juneau Gun club did not hold the regulation Sunday shoot yesterday, and former Mayor C. W. Carter, is still wearing the Truesdell medal and a good-natured smile. Nearly every member of the club took to the water or the trail either Saturday or yesterday to have a crack at something more desirable than clay pigeons.

JUNEAU TO HAVE SERVICE STATION
The U. S. forestry service with headquarters for Alaska in Ketchikan, has determined to establish a permanent station in Juneau. A site has been chosen and the contract let for the erection of a dock and float for the forestry boats on a strip of waterfront between the Alaska Juneau company's dock and powder house. Other buildings will be erected later.
W. G. Weigle, chief of the service, who is staying at the Hotel Cain, said last night that a man would be stationed here at once to take care of the needs of this end of the district temporarily.
Beginning with next spring an office will be maintained here permanently. The growing lumber industry in this section and the fact that the U. S. land office is located here are given as reasons for establishing the new station.
John Salles, who was awarded the contract for erecting the dock and float for the forestry service, has already secured the piling and will begin the work of driving them tomorrow.

ENGINEER MINE IS PROVING VERY RICH
The famous Engineer group of claims, of Atlin, owned and operated by Capt. James Alexander, is proving one of the richest mines in the north if not on the continent. Although working on a small scale, a force of but fifteen men being employed and only a two-stamp mill, an average of more than three pounds of gold is being milled daily, says the Whitehorse Star. The first shipment of gold to the outside was made a few days ago when fifty pounds, the result of fifteen and a half days work, constituted the consignment.
Sufficient development work on the Engineer property has been done to justify the assertion that it is a gigantic proposition. The ledge is eight feet in width and increases in richness as far down as a shaft has been sunk, 120 feet. The ledge has also been tapped at a depth of 400 feet. How much deeper the ledge extends is unknown, but there is already enough ore blocked out to produce millions of dollars worth of gold.
Although the property pays nicely on the small basis on which it is being operated, Captain Alexander contemplates installing additional machinery and increasing mining facilities by an other year.

FAULKNER WILL OPEN LAW OFFICES HERE
H. L. Faulkner, former U. S. marshal for the First division, who was admitted to the Juneau bar Saturday afternoon after passing a very flattering examination with a rank of 100, says, that while it is his intention to open law offices in Juneau, that he has not yet completed arrangements, and does not know where he will be located.

TUG ANNA BARRON IS HERE ENROUTE SOUTH
The big steam tug Anna Barron, Capt. Doyle, of the Thlinket Packing company, is in port, having arrived yesterday. Capt. Doyle has started from the company's plant at Funter for Seattle, when he received instructions to put back to Funter and bring Supt. William Bowmar to Juneau. The vessel is coaling up today preparatory to sailing south.

ADMIRAL WATSON COMING ON HER MAIDEN VOYAGE
The Pacific Alaska Navigation company's Admiral Line steamer the Admiral Watson, sister ship to the Admiral Evans, sails from Seattle tonight on her maiden voyage to Alaska. Capt. Edward Hickman is in command, and Thomas J. Kehoe, popular pursuer on the ill-fated Admiral Sampson, has his office aboard the Admiral Watson now.

SUPT. HOADLEY HERE; LIGHT FOR SHEEP CREEK
Milo Hoadley, superintendent of the U. S. lighthouse service arrived in Juneau on the Ella Rolfe, under charter to the service, in which he has been cruising the waters of Southeastern Alaska. It is understood that while Mr. Hoadley is here arrangements will be made for establishing a light on the Sheep Creek bar near Thane.

DONNELLY AND HENDRICKSON GET ANOTHER BIG JOB
Donnelly and Hendrickson who had the contract and put in the plumbing on the Goldstein building and also in the Alaska Juneau company's new boarding and rooming house in Juulpa basin, have also just been awarded the contract to put in the steam fittings for the latter buildings.

TIDE LANDS OF NORTH JUNEAU IMPROVED RAPIDLY
The tide lands adjoining Willoughby avenue and its extension through North Juneau, is rapidly being appropriated and filled with improvements except in front of the Auk village which has been reserved by the United States government for the benefit of the natives.

MUSICAL CLUB MEETING.
The Juneau Ladies' Musical Club will hold its first meeting of the season at the school house next Tuesday evening, Sept. 15th, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to attend. MRS. E. H. KASER, Secretary. 9-12-21.

SEVEN CANNERIES ARE INDICTED
Seven corporations engaged in the fishing industry appeared in court this morning by attorney to answer to indictments charging unlawful fishing or of operating unlawful contrivances for the taking of fish. In one instance individuals as well as the corporation, are indicted. The corporations concerned are Glacier Fish Co., Z. R. Cheney, attorney; Taku Cannery and Cold Storage Co., J. G. Heid, attorney; Astoria and Puget Sound Cannery Co., Pure Food Fish Co., Gunnison & Robertson, attorneys; Pacific American Fisheries Co., Tee Harbor Packing Co., Thlinket Packing Co., Winn & Burton, attorneys.
All of the defendant corporations except the Pure Food Fish Co. are indicted for maintaining traps alleged not to be constructed so as to allow of the full width required by law for the passage of fish through the traps during the closed season each week, from six o'clock Saturday night until six o'clock Monday morning. The Pure Food Fish Co. is indicted for unlawful fishing with purse seines, Patrick Hamilton, Nick Bez, and J. Pecar, employees of the company are also indicted and made defendants for the same specific act. It is alleged that they fished within 100 yards of the mouth of the Kartia river a red salmon stream on August 19.
The matter was put over until four o'clock this afternoon when it will be decided whether the defendant corporations through agents will be formally arraigned or whether the appearance by attorney will be sufficient.
Salmon packers from the various canneries in Southeastern Alaska that have been engaged in the business during the season just coming to a close began arriving in Juneau last Friday and there are at present quite a number of them in town.
Some of them state quite frankly that they, or the companies they represent, have been indicted for maintaining traps that are unlawful. Attorneys for some of those indicted claim that there is only a technical question involved and that the trial, if there be one, will determine what is to be recognized as a legal trap.
Among those who state that they have been summoned here by the court are R. E. Davis, superintendent of the Tee Harbor Packing company, operating at Tee Harbor; Thomas Ryan, and Robert Forbes, of the Pacific American Fisheries Co., operating at Excursion Inlet; William Bowman, of the Thlinket Packing company, operating at Funter Bay; Robert Bell, of the Astoria and Puget Sound Cannery company, operating at Excursion Inlet. Others who are engaged in salmon packing who arrived in Juneau recently are J. P. Nelson, superintendent of the Glacier Fisheries Co., operating at Idaho Inlet; John A. Carlson, of the Taku Packing company, operating at Taku Harbor; John Beagle, of the Pure Food Cannery Co., operating at Ketchikan; Otto Burkhardt, of the Alaska Pacific Packing company, operating at Chilkoot Inlet.

MUSICAL CLUB WILL ELECT NEW OFFICERS
Tomorrow, Tuesday evening the Juneau Ladies' Musical Club is to meet at the school house at 8 o'clock. This will be the first meeting of the new season and the regular election of officers will take place at this time. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.
Recently the club received a lot of new music and members of the organization are eagerly looking forward to the work that will be taken up. The Juneau Ladies' Musical club is deservedly one of the most popular organizations in the Capital City. The annual public rehearsal given by the organization is a matter of absorbing interest to the public in general and is always generously supported. Last year the net receipts from the rehearsal amounting to $180 were donated to the Juneau public library fund. Mr. Willis E. Nowell is director for the organization.

ROOF FINISHED ON NEW POWER STATION
The iron has all been laid on the roof of the Alaska Light and Power company's new power station in North Juneau and the building is rapidly being placed in condition to resist all sorts of weather.
The grading is all done and the foundations laid for the new 15,000-gallon tank for fuel oil to be used in connection with the operation of the steam plant. The steel ordered for the tank is expected to arrive any day. When the new tanks is finished the efficiency and capacity of the power station will be increased 50 percent.
