ROGERS ARRAIGNED FOR NIXON MURDER
W. R. Rogers, who was arrested at Libertyville, Ill. after being indicted in Juneau for the murder of N. H. Wilson, arrived in Juneau on the Mariposa last night in the custody of Deputy Marshal E. P. Holden, of Chicago. He was given until 10 o'clock tomorrow in which to plead, and the court stated further time would be granted if the defendant was not ready at that time. Attorney O. A. Tucker appeared for defendant.
N. H. Wilson was killed on May 23, last year, during the progress of a quarrel over mining properties, in which deceased and Rogers were the parties. They were prospecting on Christmas creek, a tributary of Glacier in the Porcupine mining district. They were all alone and there were no witnesses to the tragedy. Rogers, who claimed the killing was in self-defense, was exonerated by a majority of the jurors at the coroner's inquest that followed.
The indictment charges that Rogers struck Wilson on the head with a carpenter's hammer and shot him with a rifle inflicting separate wounds both of which were fatal and would have caused the death of Wilson.

FISHERY PROSECUTIONS COMING UP IN OCTOBER
At the night session of the district court last night attorneys for the government and the defendants completed the arguments to the demurrers interposed and the matter was taken under advisement. Those who have already entered pleas are anxious to go to trial and have the matter over with, but Judge R. W. Jennings held that until the close of the criminal cases in which many of the defendants were confined in jail. It is not believed that the "fish" cases will go to trial before October 5.
All of the cannery representatives concerned decided to leave, most of them going back to their fishing, while others who have finished left for the South.

JOE KELLY SEEKS DIVORCE.
Joe Kelly yesterday filed suit against his wife, Julia, for divorce. The complaint alleges cruelty and inhuman treatment that the defendant attempted to kill him July 14, 1914; that defendant has forcibly ejected him from the premises where his stock of goods is located and where defendant and plaintiff made their home.
The couple were married in November of last year.

SUCCESSFUL FAILURE.
The "failure" of the President's Mexican policy, which the opposition were making so much of a month or so ago, now wears the aspect of the most successful failure of modern times.—Cordova Alaskan.

PINNACLE ROCKS ARE CHARTED IN ALASKA
The necessity of the wire drag work now being carried on in Southeastern Alaska by a coast and geodetic survey party has been demonstrated by the discovery of several heretofore uncharted pinnacle rocks in Tongass Narrows, just north of Ketchikan and on the route traveled regularly by steamships engaged in the Southeastern Alaska trade.
In the notice to mariners issued by the coast and geodetic survey Aug. 28 is the following:
"The coast and geodetic survey party engaged on wire drag work reports that subsequent examination of the vicinity of the 16-foot rock, 850 yards 55 degrees true (NNE ¼ E. mag.) from the extreme northern end of Vallenar Point, western end of Tongass Narrows, described in Notice to Mariners No. 32, of 1914, reveals the existence of another pinnacle rock, having over it a least depth of seven feet at mean lower low water, which lies 711 yards 54 degrees true (NNE ¼ S. Ely. mag.) from the same point and about 55 yards eastward of the 16-foot rock previously discovered.
Position: Lat. 55 degrees 25 minutes 45 seconds N.; long. 131 degrees 50 minutes 37 seconds W.
A rock, having over it at least depth of one foot at mean lower low water, lies about 115 yards off the shore of Gravina Island, 1,040 yards 303 degrees true (W. ¼ mag.) from Rosa Reef Spindle.
Position: Lat. 55 degrees 25 minutes three seconds N.; long. 131 degrees 48 minutes 55 seconds W.
Caution—All of the above rocks lie slightly southward of a line between Guard Island Light and Rosa Reef Spindle. They are unmarked and there is no help on them. Great care should be used when anchoring near them.

JUNEAU MAN BRINGS HOME SEATTLE BRIDE
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parry Carmien, arrived in Juneau on the Mariposa last night and have taken rooms at the Bergmann for the present. Mr. Carmien brought as a bride to Juneau, the daughter of an Alaskan and Yukon pioneer. Mrs. Carmien, formerly Miss Winnifred Jenott, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jenott of Seattle and was born in the metropolis of Puget Sound. Her father came to Alaska in the early days and stampered into Dawson in 1897, one year prior to the great rush.
They were married in the First Methodist church in Seattle last Saturday by Rev. A. B. Leonard and took passage for their future home in Juneau almost immediately.
Mr. Carmien has lived in Juneau for nearly two years and has a host of friends. He is connected with the purchasing department of the Alaska Gastineau Mining company, the offices of which are located in Thane.

FRANK E. YOUNG'S MINE DOES WELL
Frank E. Youngs who came to town Saturday night with the first cleanup of the season from the Kenal Mining & Milling company's property on Cooper creek, returned to the mine this morning on the car.
The first cleanup of the season was much better than was anticipated and Mr. Youngs is confident that the next month's work will produce more gold than any similar period in the history of the Cooper creek property. The first cleanup is the result of piling a large amount of waste that had to be moved in order to get at the pay. This waste carried some pay, in fact enough pay to put it through the boxes and when the cleanup was taken it was found that it had graded higher than was anticipated. From now on the plant will be working on good pay until the freeze up. Mr. Youngs hopes to be able to work into October before being forced to close down for the season.—Seward Gateway.

MANY LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES AT NOME
The coming fall election is receiving considerable attention just at present and, judging from appearances, there will be a whole host of candidates in the field for the Territorial legislature. Among others Hugh O'Neill announces that he will make the race for the legislature.—Nome Industrial Worker.

PIONEER OF NOME GETS MONUMENT

NEW AUTO TRUCK COMING ON WATSON
The new auto truck ordered for the Juneau fire department was shipped to Juneau on the Admiral Watson, sailing from Seattle last night. Chief Milton Winn received the good news in a cablegram from Agent Payne of the Stewart people who manufacture the particular utility truck ordered. The cablegram reads as follows:
"I am leaving on the Admiral Watson tonight with the truck. Some truck. Payne."
The new Stewart truck will carry hose and other fire-fighting apparatus and is designed to tow the small chemical trucks which the department already has on hand. It can also be used for other purposes. It is expected to increase the efficiency of the department considerably.
Chief Winn, former Chief Ed. C. Hurlbutt, former Mayor C. W. Carter, Mayor John Beck, and others have been working for a long time toward acquiring the equipment that is now on the way enroute to Juneau. They have continually been working toward the end of reducing the fire risk to the lowest possible minimum. It was entirely through their efforts that the automatic Gamewell alarm system was installed and this accomplished the main campaign was started for the auto truck.
Every member of the fire department has contributed toward the purchase of the truck. The total contribution from members reaching the sum of $880.

NEW STORE TO OPEN HERE NEXT WEEK
Uncle Josh Spruceby's new department store will open at the Elks' Carnival anything from Skagway vegetables to an odd wagon wheel will be sold. He won't deliver after seven o'clock.
It is needless to try and describe all that is to take place at the Elks' Carnival, as it would take up too much space, but the committee assures those who attend one of the best times of their lives, and only charges twenty-five cents admission. Of course if one wants the trimmings, they will have them.
Gas boats will be a drag on the market during Carnival week, but they all seem to be engaged for the week after—there's nothing like a hunting trip after a hard week's work.
The C. W. Young Co. has some beautiful prizes in their windows to be given away at the Carnival, a beautiful chair for Fraternal Night, and a handsome clock and bank for the most popular baby on Gastineau Channel, so bring the little one down, and "Let 'er Buck."

PERRY WILEY SUCCEEDS WM. BRITT ON COMMITTEE
At last night's meeting of the Juneau Democratic club, Perry Wiley was appointed a member of the campaign committee to fill the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of William E. Britt. Charles M. McGrath of Sitka, Democratic candidate for the legislature was present and stated that Sitka would work with Juneau for the success of the ticket on election day. Mr. McGrath who left for Sitka on the Georgia this morning will begin the campaign in his home town almost immediately.

Thompson, the government photographer who was sent North to get moving pictures for the government exhibit at the Panama Pacific exposition at San Francisco, secured some beautiful scenery along the Yukon river while with the E. While here Mr. Thompson took moving pictures of the industrial activities, including scenes among the larger mines and ore reduction plants on both sides of the channel.
