DOUGLAS EAGLES CARRY OFF PRIZE

The birds were out last night—everybody noticed them. They came 120 strong from Douglas Island and swooping down on the great carnival carried away the big prize.

Just about the appointed hour for the opening of the great auditorium for the evening's entertainment the body marched down main street in uniform headed by Paul Kegel's well trained band from Treadwell.

The drill was a revelation to many who witnessed it. The body of men were under the personal leadership of President Joe Robertson, of the Douglas Aerie and showed evidence of thorough and intelligent training both in their evolutions and in giving the yells of the exercise.

At the conclusion of the drill, Master of ceremonies G. F. Forrest, Exalted Ruler, presented the Aerie with a prize—a handsome leather chair for the Aerie home in Douglas.

The third night of the big carnival shows an ever increasing interest in the great event. Everybody is warming up, and each evening things move with a faster pace.

Harry Brun is taking in so much money at the fishing pond that the management had to get him an assistant.

H. R. Shepard is still dealing out candy at the wheel of fortune and it is a sight to watch him talk money out of the fair sex.

Dave Housel took off his coat last night and ran the roulette wheel for a long time.

"Dirty Dora" is really gone and last night they had a baby whale in the tank formerly occupied by the strange wild girl.

The dance hall seems to grow more popular all the time and Prof. John Sump's famous orchestra is kept busy all the time.

"Baby Contest Growing." If things keep on increasing, John McLaughlin will have to get help in the baby voting precinct.

"Dirty Dora" is Dead. "Dirty Dora" died from mudaritus and confelietic, a complication that is fatal.

"Baby Whale and Caberet." The baby whale will be on exhibition instead of poor Dora.

"Let 'er buck." "Let 'er buck."

Mrs. Deal O'Connor, of Seattle, who has been spending her vacation in Alaska, a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. William Brandenberg, has engaged passage for the south on the Mariposa.

AT THE GRAND.

The feature film "Power of the Hypnotist," will be seen for the last time tonight. It is a good film and pleased a crowded house last night.

"They were eager to see what he had done. They were eager to see how Arizona would lend itself to motion pictures. They were eager to see how a cast of favorites of the speaking stage would appear on the screen."

"All sat in silence while the six reels were run off. Then a spontaneous outburst of applause, which lasted five minutes, from persons unused to applauding, showed their enthusiasm over what they had seen and set an official verdict of unqualified approval. It was unanimous. There was no dissenter, no one lukewarm."

Properly to take up every point in this film would take reams of paper. Further, oft repeated praise gets tiresome. The man who didn't see the film doesn't understand how deserving the praise is, and the man who saw it doesn't need to be told.

YAMAGUCHI-YAMASHITA MURDER TRIAL NEXT

Of the remaining criminal cases on the docket for this term of court it has definitely been settled that the trials of K. Yamaguchi and H. Yamashita for the murder of T. Kagita will be held first.
