

RUSSIA SAYS GERMANY IS BADLY DEFEATED IN EAST Germany Claims Successes East And West ALLIES' LEFT SWEEPING GERMANS BACKWARD

ALLIES WINNING ON LEFT

PARIS, Oct. 5 Dispatches received late tonight from Allies' field headquarters say that the Allies' left this afternoon resumed a tremendous offensive movement that is sweeping the German right backward from position after position.

Pushing forward, the Allies secured control of the highlands both to the north and south along the Allies' left.

END FAR OFF.

London, Oct. 5. — The third week of the Battle of the Aisne which began today finds the Allies' forces many miles farther advanced on both the left and right wings, especially the former, than they were when the battle started, though, it is admitted, there is no indication pointing to an early termination of the conflict.

LEFT FAR ADVANCED.

London, Oct. 5. — The fact that there is fighting in and around the town of Doiki, midway between Arras and Valenciennes, this evening and that the railroad to Mons has been taken, all show how surely the Allies in Northern France have pushed their forward movement which they hope will envelop Gen. von Kluck, commander of the German right in a net of steel.
