DR. L. O. EGGINTON DIED THIS MORNING

Dr. L. O. Egginton is dead. Although his condition was known by intimate friends to be serious, the suddenness with which the end came has caused a distinct shock to the community.

Besides his wife deceased leaves a father, Joseph Egginton, and brother Gus. Egginton both of whom live in Corning, New York, and a sister Mrs. Rodgers living in New York City.

Dr. Egginton was born in Corning, New York, April 1, 1883, which place was his home until he came to Alaska excepting the years spent in college.

Always a great lover of athletic sports, Dr. Egginton himself a perfect athlete was much sought after by those who take an interest in athletics and was active in that line here in Juneau.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, but the body will undoubtedly be shipped to Corning, New York.

Mrs. Dean, mother of Mrs. Egginton, of Tacoma, is now enroute to Juneau aboard the Mariposa which should arrive tonight.

WHIPPLE RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

J. R. Whipple who was operated on in Los Angeles is gradually recovering from the incisions made and has been removed to the home of Mrs. Thane, mother of B. L. Thane and Mrs. Whipple, at Niles, about 30 miles from San Francisco.

GREAT IMPOUNDING DAM HOLDS TREMENDOUS ENERGY

The impounding dam of the Alaska Gastineau Mining company at Salmon creek has already caught and is holding 10,000 acre-feet of water, half the capacity of the reservoir created by the construction of the dam.

This on account of the elevation gives the water in storage a valuation of 10,000 kilowatt months or equal to a thousand horse power per month if this source was used exclusively to turn the great pelton wheels of the two power stations operated by the company, but the natural flow of the stream furnishes enough yet and the storage will continue to increase.

Mr. Thane said this morning that there is already more water in the reservoir than they had hoped to accumulate this season after the completion of the great dam.

HUSKY NIMRODS BRING HOME THE VENISON

D. A. Thompson, T. J. McCaul, Fred Jaegel, C. Hodson, Jack Johnson form a party of husky nimrods who returned last night from a successful hunting expedition to Seymour narrows. As booty they brought back 11 deer and 60 ducks; pretty good killing for 11 days which was the time the party was out. They had the Clara D under charter.

WICKERSHAM DID NOT READ JOHNSON WIRE

Advices from Valdez say that Delegate James Wickersham denied in his first speech at that place that the telegram from Representative Albert Johnson, saying that the Delegate wrote the Johnson bill, was true. He intimated that the telegram was not true. Later, it is said that he wired to Johnson, and proposed to have proof of his contention at the second meeting. The Valdez Prospector dared him to read Johnson's reply to the second meeting. He never mentioned the subject when he spoke.

INTERIOR LOOKS GOOD TO RUGGLES

The Healey river strike seems to be genuine, says D. M. Ruggles, Alaska representative of the Northwest Mining Journal who has just arrived in Juneau from a tour of the interior country. "I saw six boilers in the country that are being used for prospecting, and I saw three holes to bedrock, all of which contained pay," said Mr. Ruggles.

The Healey river diggings are about half way between McCarthy and the Tanana Crossing. Mr. Ruggles states that there is a well defined rumor of another new strike on an unknown stream lying somewhere between the sources of the Little Delta and a tributary of the Sustum country.

This reported strike is in a section of the country where some Fairbanks people had been prospecting for the past three years and about 20 tons of supplies are now being sent into that particular section. Machinery will be sent in also if the trails are in condition and the machinery can be had.

Coming back over the trail, Mr. Ruggles met several men coming out of the Chisana diggings who had good pokes of dust, and they seemed to be satisfied.

George W. Sias had a good season on Valdez Creek, according to Mr. Ruggles, and has his hydraulic plant installed and working. During the 30 days that it operated after being set up this season, the cleanup indicated that next season's output will reach $300,000.

Mr. Ruggles brings optimistic reports from the Fairbanks section. He says that the gold output for the Fourth division including Ruby will equal, if not exceed $4,000,000, for the season just closing, and that there is more gold yet to be mined in the placers of the Fairbanks section than that part of the country has already produced.

The prospects are also good, according to Mr. Ruggles and all the country needs to go ahead is capital to develop the mineral resources, especially the quartz properties. The U. S. Smelting and Refining Company, he says, have a man on the ground, investigating conditions and properties.

The Kantishna country, Mr. Ruggles declares, will develop into a producing section in both placer and quartz as soon as conditions are right to make development possible.

Mr. Ruggles is a guest at the Hotel Cain while in Juneau and says that he is pleased with the development that is going on in this section. He expects to leave for the South soon.

GRANITE MINE PRODUCES $80,000

VALDEZ, Oct. 15.—The Granite mine has produced $80,000 up to October 1st, and according to estimates made by Senator Millard, president of the company—fully $250,000 worth of ore is now blocked out and ready for the mill which is capable of crushing 22 tons of rock each day of 24 hours.

The company is having more buildings constructed and expects to install a larger plant during the winter. In the meantime development work continues and more ore will be blocked out and further prospecting will be continued.

The mine is ideally situated and a water power plant will be installed in the spring to furnish power. At the present time the company is using gasoline for its operations.—Valdez Miner.

GREATEST SHOPPING PORTS OF THE WORLD

THANE, Oct. 20.—To the Editor—Please give the names of the three greatest shipping ports of the world for the year 1913 and the amount of tonnage passing through each.

Differences in the manner of measurement makes it difficult to answer the questions categorically. The latest available figures are: (1) New York, 1913, 28,824,780 tons entered and cleared; (2) Hamburg, 1911, 27,404,989 tons; (3) Antwerp, 1911, 26,656,480, Rotterdam, with 21,852,676 tons in fourth, and London, 20,977,222, tons, and Hongkong, 20,490,520 tons rank fifth and sixth. Owing to the differences in systems of measurement, one authority places the first three shipping ports in their order as New York, Antwerp and London.

In the value of the exports and imports the order is changed, as follows:

(1) New York, again taking first rank, with $1,966,226,517; (2) Hamburg $1,960,779,855; (3) London, $1,866,930,782; with Liverpool, $1,816,983,279, a close fourth, and Antwerp, $1,120,047,300 completing the billion dollar group.

DELEGATE ADMITS THAT HE NEVER SAID THE PRESIDENT

Delegate Wickersham admitted at his second speech at Valdez that he never held conversation with the President. He said that his communications with the administration were through the Cabinet officers.

Hand of the Law at the Grand Tonight

The Hand of the Law—in 3 parts, featuring Thomas J. Tynan, warden of the Colorado State penitentiary, at the Grand Theatre tonight.

This shows his wonderful honor system, which has gained recognition throughout the civilized world. Joe Willard escapes from prison, although pursued by bloodhounds, he escapes officials, and saves little Miss Hunter from drowning in the river and takes her home. You also see how the prisoners are treated in the Colorado penitentiary and many other series of hair-raising incidents take place showing how well bred and trained the bloodhounds are, etc.

Thomas J. Tynan, warden of the Colorado penitentiary, has set a praiseworthy example by his humane treatment of the convicts. This is a great 3-reel Warner's feature—one you have never witnessed before. If you want to see how a model penitentiary is managed, don't fail to see "The Hand of the Law."

Besides we close with a very laughable comedy, "Her Surrender," a sure hearty laugh; and one extra reel. ***

BUNNELL TO GET BIG VOTE IN IDITAROD

Among other things, Mr. Bunnell big vote for Delegate to Congress in the Iditarod is the information received last night from Albert Wile, postmaster of that city.

Mr. Wile says: "Bunnell will get a big vote here. The Pioneer is supporting Wickersham, but it is not winning votes. Democrats are plentiful here this year, and all of them are supporting Bunnell. We are going to help elect him Delegate to Congress."
