BUSH FIRE CAUSES EXCITEMENT AT TREADWELL

TREADWELL, Aug. 6. - A fire near the Glory Hole on the hill this morning caused considerable excitement for a time. POUNDMAN GETS TWENTY CANINES

Twenty dogs have been obliged to shuffle off the mortal coil as the result of their failure to adorn themselves with the license tags required by law. At the present time there are seven heterogeneous canines confined in the pound at the back of the C. W. Young Co. warehouse, and unless they are redeemed within the three days allowed by law they will be shot.

The law requires that a dog taken by the dog-catcher may be released only upon payment of the license fee of $2 and in addition to this a $2 "board bill" to cover pound expenses, making the dog's liberty depend upon upon a $4 expenditure.

TARDY TOURISTS DELAY SEATTLE AT PETERSBURG

Because a group of tourists overstayed their "shore leave," at Petersburg, the steamship City of Seattle was delayed several hours in reaching Juneau, according to Capt. Robert D. McGillivray, commanding the "Seattle."

The steamer left Petersburg yesterday morning, after her half and quarter-hour whistles had been blown. Discovering that nine of the excursionists aboard had missed the ship, Capt. McGillivray put back to port. He notified the tardy passengers that a repetition of the incident might find them stranded in some unforbidden port, and told them that it was up to them to "stay with the ship."

Mrs. Sousa is Passenger. The Seattle arrived late last night. She had a full list of tourists, among them being Mrs. Jane P. Sousa, wife of John Phillip Sousa, the "march king," and her daughters, Mrs. Albert and Miss Jane Van Sousa. Mrs. J. W. Smith, wife of the general auditor of the Pacific Coast Steamship Co., A. Solomon and E. D. Abrams, attorneys of Savannah, Ga., Frank Torrence, manager of the Tacoma office of the Pacific Coast Coal Co., accompanied by his wife and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Munley of Portland also were passengers.

Passengers to Juneau included Charles Goldstein, Master Robert Greenblatt, R. C. Wilcox and Mrs. C. Z. Denny.

Outgoing passengers on the City of Seattle were Miss Frances Stevenson, to Skagway, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Humfrey, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lattner, Gray and Guy McNaughton, to Sitka.

DEAD MAN'S NAME WAS PAIKURICH

John Haurie was not the name of the man who died from insanity in the Federal jail yesterday morning. Reliable information gives his name as John Paikurich. Since the man's death, several incidents have been brought to light which explain his brief insanity and his death after an illness of two days.

About a month ago Henry Brie of Douglas sold out the "Canteen" saloon and offered all his wares at reduced prices. Paikurich, although spoken of by those who knew him best as "not a drinking man" purchased from the stock of the Canteen a 52-gallon cask of wine, 2 gallons of gin, and 5 gallons of whiskey, and took the lot to his cabin. During the early days of the warm weather Paikurich remarked to one of his friends that the wine was getting sour if the hot weather didn't stop and he guessed he would have to drink it to save it.

Whether the man actually drank all of his supply of firewater is not known. The entire supply has been used up in some manner, for there isn't a drop left in the cask. The man was taken to St. Ann's hospital in Douglas and after making a successful effort to escape from the nurses there he was taken in custody by Deputy Marshal Frank Bach and put in the Federal jail to await an examination as to his sanity.

He died yesterday morning about five o'clock. His wife and two little daughters, who live in Flane, Hungary, have been notified. The body is at the C. W. Young mortuary and will probably be interred today at the city's expense.

"LOU" JOINS ISLANDER TREASURE SEEKERS

W. J. Rogers, who is working to find the wreck of the islander, was in town again this morning to make arrangements with Capt. Plunket for the use of the gas boat Lou, which is needed to assist in dragging for the wreck. Mr. Rogers and Capt. Plunket left with the Lou a little before noon. This makes the third boat engaged in the project to find the lost gold of the wrecked steamship. Mr. Rogers says the wreck has not been located.

The Presbyterian Aid Society met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Hellenhalt.

"By Heck," the very latest Rube song, the first copy of which was received on the City of Seattle, will be sung tonight in "The Dream Girl," at the Orpheum by "Dody" Canfield.

NEW HOSPITAL TO BE OPENED

Dr. W. R. Pallister announced yesterday that the building which he has had constructed in South Gold St. is to be a hospital, and not an apartment house. In interviews at the time the building was started three months ago Dr. Pallister asserted it would be an apartment house.

The building is three stories in height and is of wood. Its owner, who came here last year, formerly was a surgeon in the Royal Victoria hospital, Montreal. He has confined his practice in Juneau to disorders of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

Dr. Pallister declares the hospital will be the finest in Alaska, the arrangement of the details being patterned after the best hospitals in Canada. The plumbing contract was given to G. K. Gilbert, who is soon to return from Seattle with the fixtures. M. S. Sutton drew the architectural plans. The hospital is located on the hill a block east of the city dock. According to Dr. Pallister, the hospital will have X-Ray laboratories, an ambulance service, an elaborate system of heating, portable baths and other conveniences, and the sanitary arrangement will be unexcelled. The hospital will be opened some time within the next two months.

FAMOUS CATHOLIC BISHOP IN NORTH

Among the prominent passengers on the City of Seattle, who are making the round trip and seeing the sights, is Bishop M. J. Hoban, Roman Catholic Bishop of the diocese of Scranton, Pa. COUNCIL CONSIDERS WILLOUGHBY AVE. QUESTION TONIGHT

At its regular meeting tonight the city council will hear the usual quarterly report in addition to other business to come up before the city sponsors. Perhaps one of the most important discussions of the meeting will be concerned with the petition recently filed by several citizens requesting that Willoughby avenue be widened for a distance of 15 feet.

This petition, which is signed by E. P. Nelson, E. M. Kane, Tom Kaudson, T. E. Krigbaum, F. S. Brighton, R. M. Keoney, William Rosch and James Russell, states that they will donate to the city the land necessary to widen the avenue the stipulated 15 feet if the city will agree to construct the docking necessary and bear all the expense of same. That part of the avenue which it is proposed to widen extends from Cash Cole's barn to C. street.

The communication is signed by Carl Heinzen of Chicago, and states that the missing man is a relative of the writer. Karl Heinzen sometimes goes by the name Carl or Charles, the letter says.

The interests of these two parties will be greatly furthered if the writer of the letter can get into communication with them. Any information concerning either of the missing men should be sent to the Governor's office, Juneau. (Other papers please copy.)

HORSEWHIPS MAN WHOM SHE LOVED

TACOMA, Aug. 6. - Explaining that on the night before she had horse-whipped Leo Sargent, the man whom she was going to sue for $100,000 for breach of promise, Miss Bertha Brostnske presented herself to Deputy Prosecuting attorney J. W. Sheldon to inquire if a warrant had been issued for her arrest. She was informed that there was no complaint against her, and left after expressing a willingness to answer for her acts if steps were taken against her.

Miss Brostnske said it was the second time she had visited Sargent during the week, her first visit, she said, being for the purpose of demanding the return of diamonds which she had entrusted to him. She said he told her he had sent them by mail to her. On the first occasion, she told Sheldon, she hit Sargent in the face, but returned again with a horsewhip to administer more punishment.

In her suit against Sargent, Miss Brostnske charges that he promised to marry her after he had obtained a divorce from his wife. She lent him her jewels to obtain the money to pay the costs of the divorce, she alleges, but after it was granted and before the six months period expired in which divorced persons may again marry, Miss Brostnske alleges that Sargent remarried his wife and went to California. A breach of promise suit is pending.

BRITISH LOSSES GREATER IN FRANCE THAN ELSEWHERE

The limited statement of the British casualties on land prior to July 20, which shows a total British loss of 330,995 - 321,889 on land and 9,106 on sea - indicate that the British have probably had more men in France than some writers have given her credit for having. The losses there has been much greater than in any other theatre of the war. The statement also indicates that while the loss has been very great at the Dardanelles it has been very light when compared with the frightful Turkish loss.

The total British losses in France were 268,904; at the Dardanelles, 49,238; other theatres, 5,748.

The total killed were 61,354; total wounded, 196,620; total missing, including prisoners, 63,885.

Of the killed, the officers were 4,000; men, 57,354; and of total casualties, the officers were 13,813; men, 308,076.

The item of naval losses were: Officers killed, 499; wounded, 87; missing, 29. Men killed, 7,430; wounded, 787; missing, 72.

SCIENTIFIC LENSES

It is now known that many eye troubles are caused by certain irritating rays in electric light. These are ultra-violet rays and the infra-reds. And only recently has a lens been perfected that satisfactorily filters them from the eye. It can be worn constantly as the tint is invisible except with close scrutiny. If your glasses are not comfortable - talk to us about this lens. It is really a preventative of cataract.
