

A KISS FOR HIS BRIDE

Dan Topping, wealthy New York sportsman, is shown here kissing his bride, the former Sonja Henie ice skating and film star after their marriage on Chicago's fashionable gold coast. While their names had been inked romantically for more six months, Topping and Miss Henie became engaged about a week ago.

Written by a prominent, well known Alaska mining engineer May 31st, 1940, quote "During the period of 1934 to 1940 Macmillian Lubricating Oils have been used for our diesel engines gasoline engines and bearing lubrications. In all this time there has been no stuck piston rings, no deposits of hard carbon around valves or exhaust ports and no evidence of gumming or sludging." SPECIAL MEETING OF
HEALTH COUNCIL

On Friday, July 5, Chairman Henry G. Miller called a special meeting of the Nome Health Council. Special guests for the evening were Dr. Courtney Smith, Assistant Commissioner of Health in Alaska and Dr. Carl E. Buck, Field Director of the American Public Health Association of New York. Dr. Buck came to the Territory at the request of Dr. Council and that of Surgeon General Parran to make a study of health conditions and health facilities with the view of making recommendations for necessary health legislation.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by the secretary, Lorene Hagen, Dr. Smith expressed appreciation for the opportunity to meet the people in Nome. He stated that he hoped those present would give their opinions of the public health problems and needs of Nome and the Territory in general.

Dr. Buck spoke saying that he wished the meeting to be kept in formal and that everyone would feel free to ask questions and give information about things in this community with which he was not familiar. He pointed out that information and recommendations for the present progress of public health protection both in the Territory and in local living, and recommendations for needed health legislation was wanted.

Some of the public health needs mentioned by those attending the meeting were improved sanitary conditions, proper care and isolation of cases of tuberculosis outside the home, malnutrition among the lower economic group and the probability of dental caries being caused by the lack of a balanced diet. Although in many places expectant mothers become negligent in seeking regular medical care before and after the child is born, Nome does very well. Child Health Conferences which afford medical supervision of well infants and preschool children are well attended. Syphilis was mentioned as a public health problem and Dr. Morcom stated that the ratio of Syphilis in the white population here is very low altho it shows more among the native group.

All known cases are being treated regularly. Dr. Buck said that tuberculosis is a problem of real concern. It is not solely a problem of finances as it is the fact that there is no place to put the patients—a lack of hospital beds. The program for legislation which has been prepared consists of terms to place the Territory Department of Health on a legal basis giving it authority to act and funds to take care of its principal business. The rules and regulations of the Department would then have to be enforced and would be so arranged that they would apply to the whole Territory and that the local ordinances of any town could be more strict but not less so than the Territorial laws.

Another provision is to provide for a hospital of about 700 beds, built on a pavilion plan, to care for tuberculosis patients, crippled children, and mental cases. This would take care of all the cases that at the present time we are forced to send to the States. With a hospital of sufficient size, the proper specialists could be had. Several locations have been suggested, Haines, Anchorage, and the Matanuska Valley.

Dr. Buck informed the Health Council that revised editions of the proposed legislation will be sent as soon as they are completed. He asked that the Health Council as one of their projects make all citizens of Nome familiar with the contents which are of vital interest to all.

NEW TAX ON THEATER
ADMISSIONS ANNOUNCED

TACOMA —Official notification of an increase in the tax on admissions to theaters, baseball games, dances and all other forms of amusement was received by Thor W. Hendrickson, Acting Collector of Internal Revenue from Washington, D. C., and will become effective on July 1.

The new rate applies to all admissions of 21 cents or over and the tax rate will be one cent for each ten cents of the admission price or fraction thereof. For example, a ticket costing 25 cents will have added to it three cents of Federal tax; tickets costing from 31 to 40 cents the tax will be four cents.

Theater owners as well as every other person conducting activities to which admissions are charged shall be required to add the additional rate upon all tickets sold the price of which is in excess of 20 cents exclusive of any other state or local tax.

Tickets must show the admission price and tax separately. If new tickets have not been printed to conform with these requirements it will be permissible to use the old ones for a limited time providing the new rates have been printed or stamped on them, and one or more signs are placed in a conspicuous place at or near the box office showing the new rates.

Shipyards Are Booming
While Canada Hustles

VANCOUVER, B. C. — Life has come back once more in Canada's shipyards. Thousands of workers here now contribute their share in the $50,000,000 ship construction program which Hon. C. D. Howe, head of the Department of Munitions & Supply recently announced.

Work is now continuous in this industry so hard-hit by depression days. Each man employed there seems to realize that he is doing something in his own way, to help in the organization of the defense of Canada and its Allies. The vessels actually being built in the 15 Canadian shipyards are designed for anti-submarine warfare and minesweeping.

MAJOR GAFFNEY FLIES
"BLIND" TO ANCHORAGE

Alaska's first long-range "blind flight" was in the Fairbanks' aviation log book last week.

Major Dale V. Gaffney, commanding officer of the Ladd Field Air Corps Station near Fairbanks, returned to the city's airport about midnight last Tuesday night after having completed a flight to Anchorage navigating by instruments only.

The major was accompanied on the flight by Lieutenant Marvin E. Walseth of the Air Corps. The "under the hood" trip provided an authentic orientation test also for the Summit and Anchorage radio range stations. Major Gaffney "flew the beam" to Summit, then bore over to Anchorage on the signal emanated by the Civil Aeronautics Authority's range station there.

The "beam-line" route between Fairbanks and Anchorage was a two hour 45 minute flight for the air corps men, cruising easily in an army observer.
