PERSONAL MENTION

John F. Pugh, who succeeds Fred S. Williams in the United States customs force at this place, arrived on the Jefferson with Mrs. Pugh and their little girl to reside permanently in the city. They are at the Golden North hotel at the present time.

F. M. Caldwell, a Nome business man, arrived on the Jefferson and will go down the Yukon with the ice to Nome. He desired to beat the ocean-going boats there and took the short and quick route for that purpose.

Charles Fox, one of the leading merchants of Douglas, whose house is one of the largest in Alaska, arrived on the Jefferson for the round trip.

Mrs. W. B. King returned on the Jefferson from a visit to the states. She was accompanied from Juneau by Mr. King, who went there on the Humboldt to meet her.

Edgar J. Wright, recently city attorney of Juneau, left on the last trip of the Dolphin for Seattle where he will reside in the future.

J. M. Shoup, United States marshal, arrived from Juneau on the Jefferson. He will return to Juneau tomorrow.

H. B. Dunn, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, went to Juneau on the Jefferson.

Miss Lora Caswell was a Juneau bound passenger on the Jefferson this afternoon.

John Herberger was a passenger for Juneau on the Jefferson. He goes to serve as a juror.

A. Stanich left on the Jefferson for Juneau, where he will serve as a juror during the term of court at that place.

A Good Family Liniment

Every family should be supplied with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For cuts, bruises, burns, scalds and similar injuries, which are of frequent occurence, there is nothing so good. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain, but causes the parts to heal in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment. As it is antiseptic all danger from blood poisoning is avoided. Sold by Kelly Drug Co.

The Professor's Letters.

A professor in a German school in order to teach his pupils letter writing recently conceived the happy idea of having them compose business letters which were inclosed in envelopes and correctly addressed to various merchants in the town. In the evening Herr Professor, having carried the varied epistles home for correction, left them on his table and, as was his custom, hied himself to the cafe. It happened that he had a careful domestic, who, seeing all the letters properly addressed, at once concluded that her master had forgotten to mail them, and out of the goodness of her heart she stamped them and hurried to the post. The stupefaction of the village merchants upon opening their mail the following morning may be imagined, and the amusing part of the incident is that many of the letters, which contained lengthy orders for goods, were taken seriously and the orders promptly filled.—St. Louis Republic.

Curious Land, Curious People.

Near Cape Horn, in the island of Tierra del Fuego, live the most curious people in all South America. It rains or snows or sleets nearly every day, and yet they look on their country as the finest in the world. They wear hardly any clothing and seem not to feel cold. Because he saw fires on the shore the explorer Magellan, the first European that rounded the Horn, called the island "the Land of Fire," which is almost the worst name he could have chosen. Their huts are made of bent boughs and covered with grass and give only the poorest shelter. The folk are vain, too, wearing necklaces of the teeth of fishes or seals and painting patterns on their bodies. Among them some colors have a novel meaning. White is the sign of war and red of peace. They are great mimics and will imitate voice and gesture perfectly.

Bamboo Fascination.

The secret of the charm of bamboos is so subtle and elusive as to defy analysis. Bamboos are really grasses on a large scale—a tropical scale—yet they do not impress us as being coarse—in fact, they are slenderness personified—and they seem to fit well into a northern landscape. Their decorative character is so clearly recognized that they are often grown in large pots or tubs for porch and greenhouse decoration—even the hardy species. Bamboos are generally thought to look best on the bank of a stream or among rocks on a hillside, but they are also becoming favorites for the hardy border, and they are often used most effectively in cities at the base of public buildings—for example, at the national capitol.—Country Life in America.

Preserved In Water.

Water is a wonderful preservative of the human body. There exists an entry in the parish register of St. Andrew's, Newcastle, England, bearing upon the point: "April 24, 1695, wear buried James Archer and his son Stephen, who in the moneth of May, 1658, wear drowned in a coal pit in the Gallaflat by the breaking in of water from an old waste. The bodys were found intire after they had lien in the water thirty-six years and eleven months."

A Clew to Happiness.

If it be my lot to crawl, I will crawl contentedly; if to fly, I will fly with alacrity, but as long as I can possibly avoid it I will never be unhappy. If with a pleasant wife, three children and many friends who wish me well I cannot be happy I am a very silly, foolish fellow, and what becomes of me is of very little consequence.—From a Letter by Sydney Smith.

A Good Suggestion

Mr. C. B. Walnwright of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufacturers that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoe Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drank. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get to the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by Kelly Drug Co.
