Dawson Will Send Riflemen To Ottawa

Dawson, Aug. 1.—(Special dispatch to the Whitehorse Star)—Arrangements are almost complete for a delegation of five or six members of the Yukon Rifle team to go to Ottawa and Toronto to take part in the Dominion contest. The government has appropriated $600 toward paying their expenses.

Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins

One of the prettiest social functions that have taken place in Skagway for a long time was the reception to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hopkins at the Presbyterian parsonage last night. The rooms were crowded with guests who called to pay their respects to the bride and groom. Among the features of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful Smyrna rug to Mrs. Hopkins a wedding gift from the friends of Mr. Hopkins of this city. J. A. Clark, on behalf of the donors, made the presentation in a neat speech to which Mr. Hopkins responded.

BIG TIME

Dr. Thompson Given Grand Reception

Dawson, Aug. 1—(Special dispatch to Whitehorse Star)—The barbecue held here last Saturday in honor of Dr. Alfred Thompson, M. P., was a huge success in every detail. No politics were introduced in any of the various speeches and all present entered most heartily into the spirt of the occasion. A large crowd was in attendance.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of Dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Ella Reaches Headwaters of Tanana

Telegraphic information was received this afternoon from Eagle, says the Dawson News of July 28, that the steamer Ella, owned and managed by Henry Bratnober, the mining expert, has ascended the Tanana river to a point 300 miles above the point where the United States government telegraph line crosses the Tanana at what is known as Tanana Crossing.

The Ella also went about 20 miles up the Nebesna river and is 500 miles above Fairbanks.

The Ella is one of the lightest draft caariers ever in Yukon waters. She was built at Whitehorse this spring, and came through to Dawson soon after the ice broke in Lake Laberge.

Body Was That of Woodchopper

The dead body that was discovered recently on the banks of the Yukon river at Calico bluff, below Eagle, was that of Charles Thompson Smith, an old woodman, who was drowned at Stewart river about the first of last month. The identity of the man was clearly established at a coroner's inquest held at Eagle.

A Warning to Mothers

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by Kelly Drug Co.

The Memory Machine.

Amnesia, or loss of memory, is chiefly interesting to the psychologists as throwing some light on the nature of memory itself. A perfect act of memory consists of three distinct acts—preservation or fixation of certain states of the nerve cells, reproduction of these and, perhaps most remarkable of all, recognition of them as reproductions in their relations. Morbid states of the memory may refer to any of these phases of an act which is as marvelous as anything in nature. There are about 3,000,000,000 nerve cells in the surface of the human brain. They never die in health, and they are never replaced or added to. This is memory's machine.

The Dilettante Society.

An interesting old organization which formerly existed in London—the Dilettante society—originated with certain gentlemen who, having traveled in Italy, tried to encourage at home what they had enjoyed abroad. This society of lovers of the fine arts lasted 130 years. Walpole does not seem to have looked upon it with a very favorable eye, for he says, "The nominal qualification was to have been to Italy; the real one was being drunk."

Animals and Seasickness.

A French authority on seasickness makes the statement that cattle and giraffes are almost immune. Monkeys suffer considerably, but are cured by eating a raw onion. Horses suffer much, and some of them die from its effects. Tigers and elephants are also easily affected, whereas ice bears, accustomed to the movement of ice floes, are never so happy as when on shipboard.

Believed In Skilled Labor.

"The organist's wife told me this morning," said Mrs. Thornton, "that several of the pipes of the organ were out of order."

"Well," replied Mrs. Hadley, "I hope they'll get Mr. Jones, our old plumber, to fix them, and not those new plumbers that have just set up on the corner."

AN OLD SUPERSTITION.

The Practice of Consulting Scripture as a Book of Fate.

The practice of consulting Scripture as a book of fate was generally condemned by the church. A council at Vannes pronounced against it in 461 A. D. So did one at Agde in 506 and one at Auxerre in 585. Charles the Great forbade it in his capitularies, and so did Pope Gregory II. Nevertheless curiosity as to the future was so strong in men's minds that the custom continued.

An odd circumstance is that the cathedral chapter at Orleans in 1146 appealed to a prognostic of this sort in a supplication addressed by them to Pope Alexander III. against their bishop. At his consecration, when the gospel was opened above his head, the finger of the deacon rested upon the words, "And he left the linen cloth and fled from them naked." This was a token that the bishop Elias was to be turned out of his see.

The practice of observing the book when opened over the head of a prelate at his consecration was very common. It was thought that a sure augury could thence be drawn as to what sort of a bishop he would prove.—Chambers' Journal.

A Strange Pirate Story.

In the museum at Kingston, Jamaica, there are some tattered ships' papers, brown with age and salt water, and a small tin canister. These articles attest the truth of the strangest pirate story ever told.

In 1799 the crew of the Nancy brig were apparently honest traders, but did some piracy now and then on the side. One day they found it necessary to go into Kingston for supplies. Before doing so they naturally removed all traces of their buccaneering trade. Among other things they threw overboard this tin canister stuffed with papers taken from ships they had sunk, with comments written on the margin by the pirate captain.

Later in the day a British frigate was becalmed near the spot, and the sailors spent their leisure catching sharks. Presently they hauled up a big fellow, cut him open and found the tin case with the papers inside. These were taken to the captain, who as soon as a breeze sprung up sailed into Kingston harbor, found the Nancy brig there and had the crew tried, convicted and hanged in chains at Port Royal.

His Amputated Leg.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writes: "My right leg was taken off at the middle third of the thigh nearly 30 years ago, but since that time the sensation of the presence of the toes, instep, heel, foot or knee is stronger than in the other leg or stronger than it was before amputation. To me it seems that when the leg is at rest, normally, there is no consciousness of any sensation at all in it, whereas there is always more or less sensation in the stump.

"My leg was amputated in such a position that it seems when I stand to be flexed with the foot behind me. I have often tried to get it out of the way of a closing door or of persons passing me on the street. To this day I often fall by trying to put my foot on the floor when springing quickly from a sitting position.

"Year by year, also, there is a sensation of shortening, the foot seeming to come nearer the body. If I make an effort as if to extend the knee a sensation of heat occurs in the stump, although the rest of my body may be freezing."

Dubious Compliment.

"And how did you and grandpa get along?" inquired the doting mamma of the precocious child.

"He was pleasant as pie," replied the cherub.

"As pleasant as pie?"

"Yes, mamma—short and crusty."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
