

LOBBYIST CHARGE STIRS CONGRESS

War Dogs Break Loose in Balkans

LONDON, July 1.—The battle between Greeks and Bulgarians at Salonika terminated this afternoon by the Bulgarians surrendering their garrison here to the Greeks.

The fighting was renewed this morning at the break of day, and is still in progress. The Serbians, apparently prepared for the attack, have resisted it everywhere with spirit. So far as is determinable at this time the honors of war have been even.

War Seems Inevitable.

LONDON, July 1.—A feeling of deep depression exists among those that have watched the Balkan situation with interest and hoped against hope for peace. It is now regarded almost as a certainty that the differences between Bulgaria on the one side and Serbia and Greece on the other must be fought out on the field of battle, unless the powers send an armed force to intervene in the dispute.

War Becomes General.

BELGRADE, July 1.—The Bulgarian army yesterday morning opened a general attack against the Serbian army all along the whole line of Macedonia.

Constitutionalists Capture Guaymas, Mexico

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 1.—Guaymas has fallen. The Constitutionalists have been completely successful in the battle that has been waging in the streets of this city for the last two days, and are now in complete control according to information that comes to this city from various sources.

of the Constitutionalists in this city received a telegram from Guaymas saying: "Everything is in our hands."

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 1.—A battle has been raging for two days between the Constitutionalists and Federalists in the streets of Guaymas. At times the fighting has been furious and streets are red with the blood of the dead and maimed.

GOV. STRONG LEAVES FOR SITKA THURSDAY

Gov. J. F. A. Strong and Mrs. Strong will leave for Sitka on the Georgia early on the morning of July 3. They will reach Sitka on the morning of July 4. Some time ago Gov. Strong was asked by the Sitka committee on Fourth of July celebration, to deliver the address of the day and he accepted the invitation. Another important function to be attended to will be the formal opening of the Pioneers' Home at Sitka, by Gov. Strong, Gen. W. L. Distin will probably accompany the Governor and Mrs. Strong to Sitka.

The Pioneers' Home was created by an act of the Territorial Legislature. The site and buildings were loaned by the federal government to the Territory. They were formerly used as marine barracks by the government. The Pioneers' Home is governed by a board consisting of the Governor and two appointive members, George Kostrometoff and W. P. Mills. While in Sitka Gov. Strong will take up the matter with the other members of the board, of opening the institution for occupancy. Before the place can be occupied it will be necessary to provide the place with furniture and furnishings. It is planned to return to Juneau July 5th.

ROBERT BELL IS SEEKING OFFICE

Robert Forbes, a prominent cannerman of Selma, near Icy straits, and Robert Bell, another prominent cannerman from Excursion Inlet near Icy straits, are in Juneau seeking to have a postoffice established near their establishments. Both are Democratic warhorses. Robert Forbes sought the position of postmaster at Selma, the poetic name chosen for his canning establishment, and was successful, with the proviso that he furnish transportation for the mails destined to that point. He still has his commission—unused and just as good as new—but he did not furnish the transportation.

Robert Bell is now a candidate for postmaster at Excursion inlet, which is the more familiar name chosen for his ballwack—and he wants that postoffice established at once. He is here now with a petition a mile long, more or less. Robert Forbes is one of his enthusiastic supporters. There are over three hundred people in that section that require a mail service. Mr. Bell and also Mr. Forbes want to know if they can have it.

The Daily Empire delivered in Juneau, Douglas and Treadwell for $1.00 a month.

WAR DECLARED ON FIVE-CENT BEER

James McCloskey et al yesterday afternoon filed a protest with the district court against the granting of a liquor license to Al. Carlson, of the Louvre saloon. It is alleged in the remonstrance that Carlson reduced the price of beer to five cents thereby increasing the consumption of beer so greatly that drunkenness has materially increased, in Juneau; and, that the Louvre saloon has become a public nuisance.

There will probably be a hearing on the protest, but no date has as yet been set for it.

WILL BUILD THE HOSPITAL NOW

Gov. J. F. A. Strong will leave for the Interior of Alaska shortly. He is planning to leave Juneau about July 15 for Fairbanks via Skagway and the Yukon. The purpose of the journey is to establish the detention hospitals for the insane at Fairbanks and at Nome for which appropriations have been available for the past two years. Mrs. Strong will accompany him on the journey.

The people of Fairbanks and of Nome have furnished the government with sites for these hospitals and the buildings are now to be built and put into use. As soon as the building in Fairbanks has been fairly started, the Governor will leave for Nome and arrange for the building in that place. It is expected that the trip will consume from six to eight weeks.

GARSDIDE BUILDING TO BE ERECTED AT ONCE

Lloyd Hill has operations well under way for the new Garside building at the corner of Seward and Third streets. The excavating is practically finished and work will start on the foundations next week. The building will be 47x76 and two stories in height. The foundations are to be concrete with frame superstructure. The construction is to be modern in every respect, with steam heating system, electric lighting and telephone system, lavatories, etc. The lower floors are to be devoted to the mercantile business and the upper floors will be made into spacious offices eight in number. There will be entrances both on Third and Seward streets.

John P. Benson, the Seward street furniture dealer, will have a lease on the entire building and will establish his business there as soon as the structure is finished. The building is to be known as the Garside building and will be built by day labor under the direction of a superintendent.

CABLE TOLLS NOT TO BE CUT

The War Department has refused to reduce the cost of cable and telegraph tolls on the military cables and telegraph lines in Alaska. Gen. W. L. Distin, secretary of the Territory of Alaska, has received a letter from Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison in response to the memorial of the Alaska Legislature, wherein the Legislature asked for a reduction of the cable tolls. The Secretary of War refuses to grant the request and sets forth as a reason therefor that the cable and telegraph service are now operating at a loss of approximately $90,000 a year.

The Secretary of War says the Alaska cable and telegraph lines cost the United States $1,362,130 and that since their installation there has been appropriated and expended for extensions and betterments $869,000. The operating expenses of the cable lines is placed by the Secretary at $269,984.20 per annum, and the cost of maintaining the cables is placed at $112,844.63.

The average annual receipts have been $198,056.92, and the average annual amount of the official business transacted for the government officials has been $165,905.32.

After setting forth these figures, the Secretary of War says the average annual cost of maintaining and operating the system is about $450,000, and the average annual receipts are about $361,000, indicating that the system is operating at a loss of about $90,000 per year. The Secretary adds: "It is therefore not deemed advisable to make any reduction in the tolls on commercial messages at this time."

House Committee to Begin Alaska Hearings

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The House committee on territories has ordered that hearings be commenced on the Alaska railroad bill beginning July 9th. Representative Scott Ferris, of Oklahoma, chairman of the committee, in announcing that hearings will begin, said that Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane had urged the desirability of the committee's reporting the bill early in order to seek to secure its passage at this session if possible. Mr. Ferris said that the administration desires to get the legislation that will provide for Alaska's development through at an early date, so that the work may begin. It is conceded that the first great need is transportation facilities.

DAVIDSON MUST WAIT ON COMMITTEE

A wire has been received from Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the Senate committee on territories, which states that it is impossible to get a consideration of the nomination of Charles E. Davidson to be surveyor general of Alaska until after the caucus is through with the tariff bill. The Senate committee on territories will not agree to consider the nomination except at a meeting of the committee. Senator Pittman states that he is looking after the appointment and that he will get a meeting of the committee on territories at the earliest possible date.

Lobbyist Involves Many Men of High Station

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Martin M. Mulhall has published a statement in which he says that as a lobbyist for nine years for the National Association of Manufacturers he had "reached and influenced" many Representatives and Senators. He said he had conducted his operations from a room in the Capitol building. The statement has thrown Congressional circles into an uproar.

President Woodrow Wilson, commenting upon Mulhall's charges told correspondents that he favors their investigation.

Mulhall Is Subpoenaed.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Martin M. Mulhall was subpoenaed this morning to appear before the Senate lobby investigating committee July 9th, and give testimony concerning his statement of his operations as the special representative of the manufacturers' association.

In his statement Mulhall says the following former members of Congress were aided in their candidacies for re-election or otherwise rewarded for work done for the interests he represented at different times during the last decade:

John Jenkins, of Wisconsin; James W. Watson, of Indiana; James McDermott, of Illinois; Kittredge Haskins, of Vermont; Charles E. Littlefield, of Maine; Harry Bannock, of Ohio; Henry Coudry, of Missouri; J. J. Gardner, and Ralph Cole, of Ohio.

Statesmen That Were Easy.

Mulhall gives another list of men whom he says could be easily "reached" or "influenced" through business, political or sympathetic reasons. This list includes the names of former President William H. Taft, who heads the list; Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts; former Senator J. B. Foraker, of Ohio; Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota; Senator Isaac Stephenson, of Wisconsin; former Senator Nelson A. Aldrich, of Rhode Island; former speaker J. G.
