

THE ALASKA DAILY EMPIRE

VOL. 11, NO. 206.

JUNEAU, ALASKA, THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1913.

PRICE TEN CENTS

BALKAN WAR BLOODIEST IN HISTORY

Another Wood Working Factory Planned for Juneau

The Juneau Construction Company has leased the old Stevenson foundry and blacksmith shop situated on the Franklin street end of the People's wharf, and will convert the old buildings into a planing mill and cabinet shop. The machinery is nearly all here and is rapidly being installed and the construction company will soon be doing all of its own mill work right in Juneau. The company has also leased the big Stevenson gridiron at the rear of the property and will begin building launches and small boats during the winter. The construction company also proposed driving a row of piles along both sides of the big gridiron and will then be able to dry-dock and repair boats as large as the steamer Georgia. Hereafter vessels of this size have had to be hauled up onto the beach when repairs were necessary.

Wilson's Gettysburg Speech is Masterpiece

President Woodrow Wilson's Gettysburg speech, delivered to the veterans of the Union and Confederacy, last Friday, will take place among the classics of American speeches. The speech follows:

Friends and Fellow-Citizens:
I need not tell you what the battle of Gettysburg meant. These gallant men in blue and gray sit all about us here. Many of them met here upon this ground in grim and deadly struggle. Upon these famous fields and hillsides their comrades died about them. In their presence it were an impertinence to discourse upon how the battle went, how it ended, what it signified; but fifty years have gone by since then, and I crave the privilege of speaking to you for a few minutes of what those fifty years have meant.
What have they meant? They have meant peace and union and vigor, and the maturity and might of a great nation.
How wholesome and healing the peace has been! We have found one another again as brothers and comrades in arms, enemies no longer, generous friends rather, our battles long past, the quarrel forgotten — except that we shall not forget the splendid valor, the many devotion of the men

JURORS NOW NUMBER TEN

At three o'clock this afternoon the following nine had been accepted as jurors in the MacDonal case:
Frank Harvey—Grocery clerk.
Peter Schrammen—Laborer.
E. V. Sherman—Carpenter and contractor.
Fred Handy—Teamster.
J. S. Molloy—Civil engineer.
Al Ranier—Hotel keeper.
J. W. Rummel—Steamship clerk.
A. J. Ficken—Manager, Frye Bruhn.
H. L. Dott.
A. H. Motte—Laborer.

A. J. Ficken, the twelfth venireman called and examined, revised Blackstone this morning. According to the provisions of the early English law, as related by Mr. Ficken, butchers could not serve on juries, because, since it was their daily duty to shed blood, they lacked those human sentiments that even a juror in a murder case should possess. So, although 11 jurors had been examined ahead of him, he was the first venireman whose views in opposition to capital punishment threatened to exclude him from the jury box. But further examination by Senator Piles disclosed the fact that he did believe that there were cases so atrocious that hanging might be all right, and the prosecution passed him.

After considering the matter all last night, the defense announced its readiness to accept venireman A. B. Ferguson, a placer operator from the interior, who stated yesterday afternoon that he had interests on Flat creek, and that he intended to return there. He was just as promptly challenged preemptively by the prosecution, making three for the government, out of its total of ten. H. A. Hurlbutt having been challenged by the prosecution late yesterday afternoon.

When the name of H. S. Sokoloff was drawn by the clerk, and Mr. Sokoloff had taken his place in the box, the attorneys for the prosecution announced that one of their number had very fully discussed the case with him. Simon Hellenthal said that he had received information that Sokoloff had knowledge which would make him a witness in the case, and had talked the matter over very thoroughly with him at that time. This was long prior to his being drawn on the jury. It was agreed by the attorneys on both sides that this conversation probably disqualified him, and he may be said to be the first man so far excused by general consent.

John Johnson is a fisherman, a miner, a prospector and a launchman. He stated that he had heard some conversation about the case and about the defendant, and the conversation had made some impression on him. He believed that he could disregard this impression, and try the case fairly according to the evidence, and there was a failure to lay ground for challenge for cause. The defense, however, very quickly challenged him preemptively.

I. J. St. Clair announced that he was under the surgeon's care for deafness, and was excused by the court. E. D. Beattie, a printer, admitted that he had a very pronounced opinion, and said that he knew he would not make a fair juror, and was excused for cause. L. A. Moore said that he would not like to be tried by a juror in the same frame of a mind as he was, and the challenge by the defense was not resisted by the prosecution.

Milton Bothwell was the last juror on the stand before noon. He confessed a pronounced prejudice. He said he had talked to Harry Sterling and to some other witnesses. When he was asked if he would be willing to be tried for murder by twelve men who look upon the juror and the juror's case as the juror looked upon the defendant and the defendant's case, and he answered emphatically, "I certainly would," thereby rather strongly indicating on which side his prejudices lay.

Al Rainer was probably the most a stranger of any venireman who had been examined up to noon today. He had been in town but two weeks, coming here from the vicinity of Ruby, he said, where he has kept a hotel. Both defenses and the prosecution were satisfied with him.

J. W. Rummel, chief clerk of the Alaska Steamship company, was easily satisfactory to both sides of the case, and was readily accepted. Nineteen of the fifty jurors who appeared yesterday morning had been disposed of at noon today. Of these four were excused at their own request, four by the court on challenge for cause, one by the defense and three by the prosecution.

After the noon recess today, the proceedings began to show results more rapidly, and there is every indication

Pittsburg Bankrupts Had Spent Money in Idaho

BOISE, July 9. — The Pittsburgh capitalists, whose failure caused the collapse of two Pittsburgh banks and a trust company yesterday, had invested $16,000,000 in an irrigation and power plant enterprise in this State under the reclamation act. The projects of the enterprise in this State would mean the reclamation of 500,000 acres of land when the work was completed.

Jackling, Bradley and Janney Reach Juneau

Col. D. C. Jackling, of San Francisco, vice-president and large stockholder in the Alaska-Gastineau Mining Company, accompanied by G. O. Bradley, consulting engineer, F. G. Janney, manager of mills for the Utah Copper Company, and H. B. Tooker, secretary to Col. Jackling, arrived on the Alameda last night for the purpose of inspecting the properties at Juneau and vicinity of the Alaska-Gastineau company, and assisting President and General Manager B. L. Thane, of that company, to finally determine the character of the ore reduction plants and the size of them that shall be installed.
This morning Col. Jackling, Mr. Bradley and Mr. Janney, accompanied by President B. L. Thane, Mill De-

RALDA WELLS IS IN JUNEAU

Rolla Wells, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and former Mayor of St. Louis, accompanied by Mrs. Wells and their daughters, Misses Jane and Isabella Wells, is a Juneau visitor today. He is one of the leading business men and capitalists of St. Louis, and has been prominent in its commercial, financial and political affairs for many years. He said today that he is having a very interesting trip to Alaska.

Mr. Wells was drafted to serve the Democratic National Committee last year as treasurer, and it is admitted by all that was connected with the campaign that he handled the funds in a manner that marked his administration as an unusual one. It was the first campaign ever conducted under the corrupt policies act, and Mr. Wells' report has been highly commended as meeting all the requirements of the law.

The national committee expended $1,000,000 during the campaign last year, and all of the money passed through the hands of Mr. Wells. Most of the money was distributed among the various State committees, each of which were required to provide him with itemized statements of the manner of their expenditure.
Mr. Wells called on Gov. J. F. A. Strong today, and was a visitor at The Empire office.

AMERICAN FLAG RAISED AGAIN AT SUMMIT

The American flag was raised again yesterday at the summit of White Pass. It was discovered that the halyards on the staff that stands at the international boundary line, opposite the Canadian flag pole, had rotted and had to be replaced before Old Glory could wave alongside the Canadian ensign that has had the field all to itself this year. Thomas Tuttle, a sailor on the Spokane, was taken to the summit by the Spokane excursionists, and he climbed the staff and rigged the halyards that had been provided. Then the Stars and Stripes were hung to the breeze.
The excursionists contributed a purse of $35 that was given to the sailor lad that had saved the day for the Star Spangled Banner.

tion that the full panel may be secured by the time the adjournment hour is reached. Between 1 o'clock and 3 o'clock this afternoon Jack Lindsay and Lock Mulligan were pre-emptory challenged by the prosecution; C. W. Fries was challenged for conscientious scruples against capital punishment, J. W. Bell and J. A. McKenna confessed preconceived and fixed opinions, and H. L. Dott was accepted by both sides.

Servians Win After Losing 11000 Men

VIENNA, July 8. — The Servian forces at Kocatepa won the bloodiest battle in modern times when they routed the Bulgarian forces early this morning after two days' fighting. The victory, while decisive, was won at a terrible cost. Out of 15,000 Servian troops that went into action, 11,000 were either killed or wounded, leaving 4,000, or less than 30 per cent, to escape unscathed.

Whole Companies Destroyed.
LONDON, July 8.—The fighting between the Servians and Bulgarians at Kocatepa is represented by the news-

Preparations Under Way for Battle at Juarez

EL PASO, July 9.—Preparations are under way for the rebel attack on Juarez that has been promised for August. The rebel Gen. Pancho with 1,200 men is at a villa near by and says that he is ready to march against

BUD ANDERSON MAY BE VICTIM

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Bud Anderson, the prizefighter, is seriously ill and may die as the result of his fight with Leach Cross at Los Angeles.

SUFFRAGETTES STILL BUSY

LONDON, July 9.—Suffragettes yesterday burned and plundered the home of Sir William P. Leor. The loss will amount to many thousands of dollars. Several arrests have been made.

NEXT MEETING TO BE AT MEMPHIS

SEATTLE, July 9.—The next meeting of the National Convention of Carities will be held at Memphis in 1914. That was decided at this place yesterday.

AL-KI ARRIVES WITH LARGE PASSENGER LIST

The Al-Ki arrived last night at 7 o'clock and sailed again three hours later. She had the following passengers for Juneau:
M. B. Stevens, Frank D. Black, Mrs. Sloan, L. Buckley, Mrs. Thos. H. Ashby, Chas. T. Ashby, Edw. L. Ashby, Miss Inez Ashby, H. L. Stockman, E. C. Ritzler, P. A. Anderson, Mrs. P. A. Anderson, J. F. Chamberlain, F. L. Larson, Dr. J. L. Myers, and Geo. Bayers, and six steerage.
The Al-Ki took the following passengers from Juneau:
Mrs. J. S. Anderson, D. F. Leach, Fred Geiger, Mrs. Geiger, F. W. Lamb, Mrs. A. Olsen, J. F. Smith, P. Jacobs, Helen Grant, C. S. Sagger, W. J. Ryan, F. Muna, Mrs. M. J. Benedictsson, Miss Inez Benedictsson, John Schell, Frank Nessley, Robert Proctor, G. H. Brown, Chas. Wood, John Anderson, and 16 steerage.

DO NOT SUFFER FROM HEAT

Nineteen women were prostrated from the heat while ironing with the old-fashioned flatiron. They could have done twice the work with an electric iron and not "got tired."

We are selling electric flatirons that are guaranteed for ten years, at $25 each.

Alaska Electric Light & Power Co.
Third and Franklin sts. 6t.

paper correspondents whose stories of it are coming in to the London papers as terrific. The Bulgarian artillery wrought awful havoc with charging Servian battalions. In many instances whole companies were completely destroyed. In their flight the Bulgarians lost their artillery and most of their accoutrement.

NINE BATTALIONS OF BULGARIANS ANNIHILATED

BELGRADE, July 9.—Nine battalions of Bulgarians that invaded Servia at Nikkeviz, were entirely annihilated in Soapstar pass yesterday. The news of the fighting has caused tremendous enthusiasm here.

Preparations Under Way for Battle at Juarez

EL PASO, July 9.—Preparations are under way for the rebel attack on Juarez that has been promised for August. The rebel Gen. Pancho with 1,200 men is at a villa near by and says that he is ready to march against

ELKS MEET IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 8.—The 49th annual convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks met at this place yesterday and were welcomed by Gov. William Sulzer, of New York. The Governor was warmly greeted. There is an immense crowd here, and the session will be a great success.

P. H. ROSE IS NOW LOS ANGELES MAYOR

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—P. H. Rose, formerly police justice of this city, is now mayor of Los Angeles. He was inaugurated today. The new council consists of nine members, all of them non-partisan except one, and he is a socialist.

Lauterbach Caught In Bad Game

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Edward Lauterbach, the New York lawyer, confessed today before the Senate lobby investigating committee, that he had at different times represented to Lewis Cass Ledyard, attorney for J. P. Morgan & Company, that he was the personal representative of Speaker Champ Clark, Senator W. J. Stone and other prominent members of the Senate and House of Representatives, unauthorized by them to say that he could help New York bankers and brokers in preventing investigations that would do injury to business.

LADY SACKVILLE WILL GET THE FORTUNE

LONDON, July 8.—The will of Sir John Murray Scott, leaving a fortune of $5,000,000 to Lady Sackville, was sustained by the judge before whom the will was being contested by heirs at law of deceased.

PENFIELD GETS AUSTRIAN POST

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Frederic Coulter Penfield, of Pennsylvania, was today appointed American ambassador to Austria-Hungary.

NETERER'S NAME IS SENT TO SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The nomination of Jeremiah Neterer, of Bethlehem, Washington, was finally transmitted to the Senate yesterday. He was named for the post of district judge for Western Washington.

PATRICIDE IS SENTENCED TO HANG FOR MURDER

QUINCY, Ill., July 9.—Ray P. Fanchmid was sentenced to hang yesterday on October 18th for the murder of his father, mother and sister.

A. B. DELEGATES EXPECT HARMONY

The delegates to the Grand Camp of the Arctic Brotherhood that are in session in this city are confident that order will result from chaos as a result of the present meeting. The meetings thus far have been largely devoted to conferences on the good of the order. The report of the Grand Arctic Chief was presented by Gov. J. F. A. Strong, who holds that office, yesterday afternoon. The committees were all given more time in which to report, except the credentials committee the report of which was approved. Gov. J. F. A. Strong, as Grand Arctic Chief, addressed the delegates. The speech was enthusiastically applauded, and it encouraged the delegates in the work they are trying to accomplish.

MINER-NEWSPAPERMAN VISITS IN JUNEAU

G. F. Kilroy, newspaper man, who has been mining for the last several years in the Iditarod, is a visitor in Juneau. He is waiting here for Mrs. Kilroy, who has been visiting at Skagway. When she arrives they will leave for the South and visit with relatives of Mr. Kilroy in Montana. Before becoming an Alaska miner, Mr. Kilroy was a newspaper writer in Montana, where he was employed on the Butte Evening News, and later in Seattle on the Post-Intelligencer. He was employed as a newspaper man for many years in South Africa.

SEATTLE CAPIEALIST VISITS IN JUNEAU

Frank A. Black, a Seattle capitalist and former Mayor of that city, arrived on the Al-Ki yesterday evening accompanied by M. B. Stevens, who is his guest on the trip North. Mr. Black is one of the owners of the Northland Steamship Company that owns the Al-Ki and Northland. He also is heavily interested in the Seattle Hardware Company, of which he was one of the organizers and the first president.

D. W. Terwilliger, the well-known commercial agent, returned from Sitka on the City of Seattle.

ARCTIC BROTHERS GOVERNOR'S GUESTS

The delegates to the Arctic Brotherhood Grand Camp, that is in session at Juneau, were guests of Gov. and Mrs. J. F. A. Strong last night. With the delegates were members of the order from various sections of Alaska. An impromptu program was rendered and refreshments served. Most of the evening was spent in telling "sourdough" stories and relating reminiscences of Alaska pioneer days.

Judge H. B. LeFevre, of Skagway, sang character songs in Chinook and read some of Sam Dunaham's poems; G. F. Kilroy, of Iditarod, sang Irish character songs and told amusing anecdotes, and Mrs. Strong entertained her guests with selections on the piano.

There were about 25 persons present.

CASE AND ANDREWS TO ILLUSTRATE FISHERIES

The fishing industry of Alaska will be told in picture form. W. H. Case, the photographer and curio dealer of Juneau, and C. L. Andrews have formed a combination to make pictures of all phases of that industry in Southeastern Alaska. Mr. Andrews will leave tomorrow on a gas launch, and will make a tour of the canneries and fishing grounds. He will get views of the canneries, of men at work on the fishing boats, of the fish packs, and other interesting things about the business. Not only will he secure views, but he will take motion pictures of the iron chink at work, of men brailing the fish traps and nets and at the other lines of work. The purpose is to illustrate the fishing industry in Alaska so completely that the pictures will tell those that see them all that can be learned about it without actual experience among the fisheries.

Mr. Case and Mr. Andrews will, also, similarly illustrate the mining industry of Southeastern Alaska.

Mr. Jackson, president and general manager of Lowman & Hanford's, of Seattle, is a round trip passenger on the Jefferson, making his first visit to Alaska. Mr. Jackson is an old time friend of B. M. Behrends, of Juneau.