Star Man Eats Crow

During the heat of the campaign in the Yukon the editor of the Whitehorse Star said things about George Black, a candidate, that he perhaps could not prove, and Black, who was defeated, demanded a public retraction and an apology, else he would take such proceedings as the law provides in such cases.

White decided to apologize. What was worth doing was worth doing well and here is the way he did it:

"To George Black, Esq., Dawson, Dear sir:—Not being a lawyer and, therefore, not able to conduct his own case in court, the editor of the Star hereby tenders to you his apology and retraction of the offensive, 'Libelous and Criminal' assertions published in 'Said Newspaper' on the 15th of January. Owing to the fact that the ground is covered with snow as with a mantle, biblically speaking, you will please excuse the formality of the editor rubbing his nose in the dust and will take the statement of a willingness to do so, were conditions favorable, for the deed.

"The statements you characterize 'absolutely false and without foundation' were wired to the Star from Dawson in a telegram signed 'News' and you will accommodate the editor of the Star if you will call at that scissors and paste emporium and lick the Star correspondent. To insure getting the right man you had better take a punch at the whole bunch. (If this can be construed as an attempt to incite a riot, he apologizes for it, too.)

"Anyhow, the editor of the Star apologizes, retracts and hereby requests his readers to expunge, wipe out from their blackboards or their think tanks, the 'Libelous and Criminal' statements contained in the issue of 'said newspaper' of the 15th of January. Angels could do no more.

"Repentantly but lovingly yours,
"E. J. WHITE,

Three of a Kind

"Meyers awoke this morning after a sleepless night," says the New York Times. Can you beat it?—Washington Herald.

Sure we can. How about this from the San Antonio Gazette, relative to a professional horse trainer: "And in a short time had the animal so trained that it did not scare at tin pans, flags or any other kind of noises."—Johnston Democrat.

And this from a popular magazine: "The injured man at last passed into peaceful sleep, and when he woke up he was dead."

"SITKA HOT SPRINGS." Accommodations, American or European plan. For terms apply to Doctors Goddard and Brooks, Sanitarium, Alaska.

Connecticut Blue Laws

From an exchange we take the following "Blue Laws," which, after a fashion, served to make Connecticut famous:

"No one shall be freeman and have a vote unless he is converted and a member of one of the churches allowed in the Dominion.

"Each freeman shall swear by the blessed God to bear true allegiance to this Dominion and that Jesus is the only king.

"No dissenter from the essential worship of this Dominion shall be allowed to give a vote for electing of magistrates or any officer.

"No food or lodging shall be offered to a heretic.

"No one shall cross a river on the Sabbath but authorized clergymen.

"No one shall travel, cook victuals, make beds, sweep houses, cut hair or shave on the Sabbath Day.

"No one shall kiss his or her children on the Sabbath or feasting day.

"The Sabbath Day shall begin at sunset Saturday.

"Whoever wears clothes trimmed with gold or silver or bone lace above one shilling per yard shall be presented by the grand jurors and the selectmen shall tax the estate £300.

"Whoever brings cards or dice into the Dominion shall pay a fine of £5.

"No one shall eat mince pies, dance, play cards or play any instrument of music except the drum, trumpet, or jewsharp.

"No gospel minister shall join people in marriage. The magistrate may join them, as he may do it with less scandal to Christ's church.

"When parents refuse their children convenient marriages, the magistrate shall determine the point.

"A man who strikes his wife shall be fined £10.

"A woman who strikes her husband shall be punished as the law directs.

"No man shall court a maid in person or by letter without obtaining the consent of her parents; £5 penalty for the first offense; £10 for the second, and for the third imprisonment during the pleasure of the court."

The above "restrictions" were printed on blue paper and generally distributed among the population, hence the name "Blue Laws."
