It now transpires that President Roosevelt's "spelling" order was illegal and must be rescinded. The attorney general has called his attention to the fact that a joint resolution of congress was passed once upon a time recognizing Webster's dictionary as authority for spelling and definitions in the United States for all government purposes.

It has been suggested that the failure of the senate to ratify the president's Dominican treaty might be responsible for his pacific attitude toward Cuba. The suggestion is by Senator Furaker, who helped to hold up the Santo Domingo agreement.

The news of the Waskey and Cale combination did not reach the Koyukuk. Gov. Swineford made a clean sweep there. Is that an indication of what would have been the result in the Tanana and Yukon valleys had there been no agreement?

During these days when Reform is spelled with a big "R" it should not be forgotten that Dave Hill made his debut into state politics as a reformer, fighting against "boss rule" and official corruption, under the leadership of Samuel J. Tilden. Some of our "Reformers" might be Hills in disguise.

In the republican primaries in the state of New Jersey the old machine defeated the Colbyites, who under the leadership of State Senator Colby attempted to secure the party organization.

The more Taft talks down in Cuba the better he sounds.

POPULAR SKAGWAYAN'S ARE MARRIED

Mr. George G. Miller and Mrs. Eva McGrath were united in marriage at 9 o'clock last night, the Rev. J. W. Glenk, officiating. The wedding was a very quiet one, only relatives and the associates of the groom in the United States customs service being present. It took place in the parlor of the Fifth Avenue hotel, and was very pretty.

The bride and groom are among the most popular people in Skagway. Mrs. Miller has resided here since the beginning of Skagway's history, and her many graces have won her a wide circle of friends. Mr. Miller is deputy collector of customs at White Pass, and one of the best liked federal officials in this section of Alaska.

TO CLOSE

No Work at Cordova for Coming Winter

The work on the Cordova railroad will close down in about a month, according to statements made at Juneau by M. J. Heney the contractor, and in accordance with statements made in letters received at Skagway from Cordova.

The work will close about the first of November and begin again about April 1st.

J. H. Parker, formerly of Skagway, who has had charge of the railroad hospital at Cordova, writes to Skagway friends that he will leave for Seattle for the winter. With Dr. Whiting about November 15th.

PARENTS MAKE CHILD LEGITIMATE

According to late advices from Seattle, Charles Dilly and Edna Nelson, the parents of the child which Miss Nelson, the mother, and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dilly, parents of the father, are accused of kidnapping from Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Dougherty at Whitehorse last month, were married at Seattle recently. They went east together as husband and wife and they had their child with them.
