Centralia, Nov. 17.—Confessing that Industrialists had planned the Centralia shooting three weeks before Armistice day was made by Lauren Roberts, one of the members of that organization, who surrendered himself at the close of the massacre.

Three Massacre Leaders Surrounded in Cabin

Centralia, Nov. 17.—Three leaders of the Armistice day massacre are surrounded by an American Legion posse at Hansen's Cabin, 24 miles northeast of Centralia, at the headwaters of Hanford creek, where John A. Heney, a rancher and a member of the American Legion posse, was killed in a battle last Saturday between the posse and the outlaws. The second battle is hourly expected. There are also 40 armed woodsmen in the legion.

Industrialists Gather in Outskirts of Spokane

Spokane, Nov. 17.—The National Guard has been mobilized and members of the American Legion sworn in as special policemen. These precautions were taken against an anticipated invasion of a thousand Industrialists who are gathering at the outskirts of Spokane, and will attempt to rescue their leaders, who were arrested shortly after the Centralia outrage.

Many Hardware Stores Burglarized

Seattle, Nov. 18.—Many hardware establishments throughout the state are being broken into and rifles and automatic revolvers taken. The authorities say this is the work of Industrialists.

Supposed Leader of Massacre Captured

Centralia, Nov. 19.—Bert Bland, the supposed leader of the Armistice day massacre, was captured by a sheriff's posse 14 miles northwest of here. He came forward from a little shack where he was hiding with hands upraised. He carried a small revolver, and his eyes were swollen and bloodshot from loss of sleep. Bland escaped from Hansen's cabin. Ole Hansen and a man named Dan are still in the cabin, which is surrounded by an American Legion posse.

REFUSE PROPOSITION TEMPERANCE

Washington, Nov. 21.—An increase in wages of 15 cents per ton, or 20 per cent, over the existing scale, if the miners would return to work was offered by operators today. The miners declared that the increase was not enough.

Mrs. Luella Daun, the Flat dry goods dealer, has been very ill during the present week, her condition causing her friends much anxiety. Yesterday a phone message said the patient had passed a favorable night, and was considerably improved.

Joe McDowell, that old reliable "wheel-hoss" of pioneering, left yesterday afternoon with a horse and heavily-laden double ender for McGrath, to remain several months.
