CULLEN DEFEATS PORTLAND HEAVY

Seattle Man Who Fights Here Whips Darcy in Seattle Last Tuesday.

Fred Cullen, the Seattle lightweight champion, who meets Ford Butler at the Legion smoker Thursday night, decisively defeated Jimmy Darcy in a six-round main event at the Rainier Valley Ball Park last Tuesday afternoon. Darcy is a former sparring partner of Jack Dempsey, was taken East by Jack Kearns and was good enough to meet Harry Greb in a title bout.

The Post-Intelligencer in referring to Darcy-Cullen fight says in part: "The Portland scrapper (Jimmy Darcy) while not exactly easy meat for Cullen, didn't show to any great advantage. Jimmy kept mauling away and trying to get in a crusher but Cullen was weaving around, with the blows, and evading a lot of punishment. Darcy was aggressive enough and made a fight of it."

Cullen is now enroute to Juneau, having left either on the Yukon or Alameda and while he will not have much time on the ground before the fight, yet he will be in the pink of condition as he has been fighting in and around Seattle on an average of once a week for the last several months.

Champ Butler has trained hard for this go and from all indications the match between Cullen and him will be one of the best ever seen in Juneau.

Both Dixon and Lang, who meet in the special event, are working hard to get in the best possible shape for their ten round mill. Lang is a newcomer to Alaska, and while on the quiet order, states that the fans will see the best that is in him Thursday night. He is extremely anxious to make a good impression as he hopes to have other battles in the Territory, and as this is his first, his future here depends somewhat upon his showing with Dixon.

Dixon made a very favorable impression with the fans in his ten round go here last year for his gameness, clean sportsmanship and ability, and desires to keep this good impression, and he states that he is going in for all that is in him, and that the best man will win.

On any other card than one on which a championship bout is billed, this ten round match between these fast welters would be a main event, and is one that will keep the fans in a frenzy from the tap of the gong. Both Dixon and Lang have shown up well in their work-outs and it looks as though the result is a toss-up between them.

The Legion committee has signed up several fast preliminaries, and it claims there will be more fast, clever boxers on this card than ever seen before on any one card in Juneau.

Seats are selling like hot cakes and the arrangement of them is such that an excellent view of the ring is obtained from every part of the house. A good many out-of-town reservations have already been received and from present indications there will be calls for more seats than can be supplied. The fans are showing a keen interest in this smoker as has ever been shown in Juneau and the night of the third bids fair to put the town on the fixie map.

DOUGLAS ISLAND NEWS

COMMUNITY PICNIC BEST OUTDOOR EVENT OF SEASON

The first community picnic given for the people of Douglas Island was successfully held yesterday at Auk Cove under the auspices of the fraternal organizations of Douglas. Excellent weather prevailed during the entire stay at the grounds and the rain which threatened at various times during the day did not fall until after entering the channel on the return trip home.

Scheduled to start at 7 o'clock in the morning, the picnic committee called the affair off before the starting time as it appeared then that a heavy downpour of rain was inevitable which might continue all day. Later on the clouds suddenly broke and with everyone all ready to go, the committee decided to go ahead and have the picnic, setting the time to start at 9 a. m. Word was passed around as well as possible and the Alma remained at Douglas an extra half hour until 9:30 to allow everyone to make it.

Calls were made at Treadwell and Thane and when the boat finally started down the Channel close on to 100 persons, lunches and everything had been gathered up for a day's enjoyment.

The run to Auk Cove was made in about three hours and the picnickers transferred to the beach on a scow. Lunching, tramping around, picking wild flowers, swimming and fishing were enjoyed during the remainder of the afternoon. After lunch in the evening the sports were pulled off with the following results:

50 yard dashes—Boys under 6, Albert Stragier 1st, Jack Mills 2nd. Boys under 8—Archie Edmiston 1st, Ernest Weschenfelder 2nd. Girls under 6—Jessie Fraser 1st, Martha Hobson 2nd. Girls under 8—Tun Wahto 1st, Phyllis 2nd. Boys under 10—Jack Mills 1st, Ernest Weschenfelder and George Guerin tied for 2nd. Girls under 10—Margaret Pearce 1st, Bluette Uberti 2nd. Boys under 12—Arthur Judson 1st, Donald Lundquist 2nd. Girls under 12—May Fraser 1st, Elizabeth Sey 2nd.

Fat Ladies Race—Mrs. Felix Gray, 1st, Mrs. J. R. Guerin 2nd.

Girls 16 to 20—Ethel Sturrock 1st, Alberta Gallwas 2nd. Thin ladies race—Mrs. Wm. Jarman 1st, Mrs. Frank Pearce 2nd. Men's race—Felix Gray, 1st, J. O. Kirkham 2nd.

The start for home was made about 8 o'clock, and the Alma arrived shortly after 1 o'clock.

HOME FROM LODGE SESSION.

Miss Mary Gann arrived yesterday on the Queen after a month's vacation in which she attended the Kobekah Grand Lodge which met in Bellingham.

"CALL OF THE WILD" AT LIBERTY THEATRE MONDAY

Every lover of dogs and Nature will respond to the tremendous outdoor appeal of "The Call of the Wild," the picturization of Jack London's famous novel which is at the Liberty tonight. It is the first dramatic feature production of Hal Roach, who produced the Harold Lloyd and other comedies.

There is tremendous punch in "The Call of the Wild," and Buck, a wonderful St. Bernard and a remarkably clever dog, supplies the most of it in his fight with a rattlesnake, a battle with one of his own kind and his famous fifty-two mile run through the snow at the head of the pack. Fred Jackman adapted and directed the story he understood his work and, what was equally important, he understood his dog actor. No chance is given for a let-down in the performance of either dog or the humans who support him.

Broad human sympathy is expressed in a manner that grips every one who knows the worth of an animal like Buck. Jack Mulhall, as the hero worshipped by the dog, gives a neat performance. Walter Long, as the man feared by the animal whom he finally kills to avenge his master, gives a splendid contrast portrayal. Sydney D'Albrook, Frank Butler and Laura Rossing relieve the tension at a timely moment with a little comedy. There are several other hits played by actors whose names are not mentioned on the program, but stand out.
