Local Briefs

Seward News Stand.

George Sohns, of the Seward electric light works, was an out going passenger on the Santa Ana.

Mrs. Shaw, mother of Captain Shaw, of the Steamer Tyoonie, returned to Seattle on the Bertha.

The Steamer Santa Ana of the Alaska Pacific line arrived about 8 a. m. on Thursday and departed for the south at 2 p. m.

A communication from a correspondent at the Summit, was crowded out of this issue on account of having been received too late.

G. Nordyke arrived from Seattle on the Santa Ana and has begun with his duties as book keeper for the Tanana Construction Company.

Snow began falling on last Monday night, coming one week earlier than last year. About two inches of the beautiful now covers the ground.

A very pleasant social was held at the Sunday School room on last Friday night. The scholars, their parents and friends had quite an enjoyable time.

Matt Troll, who has been suffering from a paralytic stroke for the past month, says that he will be able to pay the Gateway office a visit next week.

Latest books, magazines and papers at the News Stand.

Gould & Conner have built a 13x14 two story addition to their barber shop on Fourth avenue. This will be used for the purpose of enlarging their bath facilities.

Peterson & Brown are adding a 20x30 addition to the rear of the Commerce on Fourth avenue. This will give them additional space for their bar and club rooms.

W. K. Reed, the shoemaker, who carries an ad in the Gateway, is building a comfortable shop in the rear of the town hall, between Fourth and Fifth avenues.

A dance was given at the town hall on last Saturday night in honor of Mr. Ide, who has the contract for carrying the U. S. mail to Sunrise during the winter.

Finest line of candies ever brought this far north at the News Stand.

A new 70-horse power boiler was installed at the company's saw mill last Wednesday. It will be kept in commission all the time during the winter.

J. L. Graff believes in addition and expansion and not subtraction. He has enlarged his stock of goods and increased the size of his space in this paper. Be sure and read his display ad.

Professor Edmund S. Meaney, of the Seattle University, writes the Gateway that he will furnish historical data for this paper during the winter. Prof. Meaney is the Alaska historian, and an old friend of the Gateway scribe.

Mrs. H. Townsend Buckley, mother of Paul Buckley, the successful Crow creek mining operator, was a passenger on the Bertha, returning to her home in Chicago after an extended visit with her son.

Since the rainfall ceased, and clear weather came with cold, crisp evenings, Seward people have enjoyed the most lovely sun set that could be seen in any part of the world. Old Sol disappearing behind the western mountain peaks is indeed a gorgeous sight.

Miss Kittie Bartholf, who joined the Gateway staff recently, is making excellent progress in mastering the intricacies of "the art preservative of all arts," much to the satisfaction of the paper and her many well wishers for success in her chosen vocation.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Cecil Clegg of Valdez, was on the Bertha enroute to Kodiak to attend the hearing in a Jap murder case. The killing was done at Karluk in July, and 20 Japs are held at Kodiak as principals and witnesses.

All those who desire cast top and bottom, air tight heaters will do best by waiting for the arrival of J. F. Graef's new stock. All parts of my stoves are new and before the public makes its selection be sure to examine the stove so that you will not be deceived by purchasing a corroded article.

If you must drink, then drink the best Chase & Sanborns coffee at Brown & Hawkins.

Alexis Woche, of Kodiak, has taken a position with the Seward News Company as clerk.

James Moore, a pioneer of Seward and a heavy property owner, returned from the outside on the Santa Ana, and will now remain here permanently.

Leave your measure for a suit of clothes at Brown & Hawkins, 500 samples to choose from.

Fred Irvine left again for Resurrection river on a Moose hunt. He and his partner have a camp there and they expect to remain until they secure at least one more of these animals.

The "Renown," the best 5 cent cigar made at the News Stand.

P. H. Karfstedt has removed his watch making establishment to the southeast corner of Third avenue and Washington street, where he can be found in the future by those desiring expert work in his line.

The Steamer Bertha of the Alaska Commercial Company's line arrived in this port at 9:45 Saturday evening. After discharging quite a cargo for local merchants, she departed for the westward.

Messrs Bartholf & Collins were awarded the contract last Saturday for removing of stumps and leveling up Fourth avenue from the dock to the north end of town. They have been busy with three additional men and are improving that thoroughfare wonderfully.

A force of workmen were busy during the first of the week lining and improving the interior of the mess house for the Alaska Central Commercial Company. To see the manner in which H. N. Coleman was driving nails with his left hand, one would think it was a rush job.

The finest line of cigars at Hildreth's ever brought to Seward.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Young had arranged to give a farewell dinner in honor to Mrs. Grace Tecklenburg on Thursday evening before she would depart for Seattle to spend the winter, but the departure of the steamer for the south Thursday afternoon deprived the party of much of the anticipated pleasure by the absence of Mrs. Tecklenburg. Those present besides the host and hostess were Mr. Douemus and Mr. Stewart, who enjoyed a repast that could not be excelled down in the states, and certainly was great for Alaska. Later in the evening the party were joined by Mr. and Mrs. George Sexton, Miss Sexton and Mr. Neil Sexton. Games at cards were indulged in, fruits and home-made candies were served. The party took their leave at a late hour feeling that Mr. and Mrs. Young have no superiors as entertainers.

Sunday School.

Meets every Sunday at 2 p. m. at Dr. D. H. Sleems residence,

From Dr. Daggett

Dr. C. T. Daggett, who for the present is journeying at Valdez, writes the editor under date of the 25th instant, that he is doing a moderate amount of business in that burg but will return to Seward soon.

He stated that the Gateway is read with a great deal of interest by the people of the glacial city, and enclosed a card of invitation for the editor and wife to "Ye Red Barn Dance" on Halloween night, to be given by the local lodge of the Arctic Brotherhood. A general invitation is also extended to the people of Seward.

There Are Others

But none of them try quite as hard as we do to protect a reputation made invaluable through years of experience in Alaska outfitting.

Our stock is large, and of high grade, so you need not worry as to the quality of your winter cache when it is too late to replace it.

If you should send an order for goods to us, and the draft or money order was more than the amount of the bill we would not be so presumptuous as to increase your order, but would return to you a bank draft for the difference.
