

New Year Calls

FOR NEW OFFICE SUPPLIES

Here they are!

JOURNALS. DAY BOOKS, LEDGERS

We have School Supplies too,
at the right price

Seward Drug Co.

The Rexall Store

South Africans, Opposing Titles, Omitted from New Year's List

(By Associated Press)
PRETORIA, Jan. 26.—General Hertzog declined to make any recommendations to the British government regarding the inclusion of South African names in the New Year's honors list.

The general held that titles other than academic distinction and decorations conferred for state services are in conflict with the spirit of the people of South Africa and with the principles and policy of the party at present in power.

Sheaffer's Life Time Pens, at the Alaska Shop. tf

Brunswick Phonographs and Records. The Alaska Shop. tf

Eaton, Crane, Pike Stationery at the Alaska Shop. tf

Are you a subscriber to the Daily Gateway? If not, why not?

Eastern Market Sought for Apples of Virginia

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—Apple growers of Virginia are making a concerted effort to recapture the eastern market, now held by western growers, by means of cooperative enterprise and advertising. Records of the Department of Agriculture's fruit inspection service reveal that 500 farmers of the Old Dominion are using the methods of the westerners to re-enter the competition.

The Virginians agreed to harvest and pack their 1924 crop as a unit and arranged for fruit inspection by federal and state agents at the shipping points.

They agreed also to use the United States apple grades.

Chas. A. Ristine, of Pearl Harbor, was an outgoing passenger on the Alaska.

H. K. Karlish and wife of Fairbanks were guests of the Van Gilder over Sunday.

Charles Balhiser On Way To Anchorage

Charles Balhiser, the well known railroad man and manager of the Alaska Hills mine, returned from Washington, D. C., on the steamship Alaska, after a one month's conference with Secretary Work and railroad leaders, regarding wage agreements and working hours as applicable to the Alaska railroad. Mr. Balhiser secured practically all concessions asked for, and is quoted as saying the men are satisfied with the agreements made by their representative, and becoming effective January 1, to exist one year.

The men have every confidence in Noel W. Smith, as head of the organization and predict a smooth-running road from their standpoint. One hundred and twelve men are affiliated with the various organizations, and the rules and regulations now adopted are similar to those on continental roads in the States. Mr. Balhiser had a short conference with the local railroad men Saturday evening, continuing on to Anchorage yesterday morning.

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS

Mrs. Stump of the Seward Beauty Shoppe will leave here Thursday for a short visit to Anchorage. She will return Saturday night. Anyone wishing work done please make their dates before Thursday.

2t MRS. STUMP.

FOR SALE—Dried Silver Salmon for dog feed at 10 cents a lb. See C. M. Brosius. k28

Mr. and Mrs. L. Bezanson, formerly employed by the advertising department of the Anchorage Daily Alaskan, were outgoing passengers on the steamship Alaska, en route to Juneau on a business trip. Mr. Bezanson believing that all things come to him who hustles while he waits, has improved the advertising department of the Alaskan in many ways, by illustrations and excellent copy writing. Mrs. Bezanson has also added prestige along that line aside from teaching piano lessons in Anchorage.

FOR SALE—Household furniture; Anyone interested call at the house or phone Main 94. H. A. Weckwerth. tf

Harry Kawabe, proprietor of the Seward steam laundry was a passenger for Anchorage on today's train.

Haas Fresh Candies at the Alaska Shop. tf

Ray C. Larson, of Anchorage, who returned on the Alaska from a trip to California, says that business is good down the coast. Ray is returning to his home in Anchorage with a keener vision of the game of bridge than when he departed from our city southward.

Parker's Duofold Fountain Pens, at the Alaska Shop. tf

Z. J. Loussac, the wide awake drug merchant of Anchorage, was a weekend visitor in Seward and as usual is optimistic regarding business conditions in Seward and Anchorage. Mr. Loussac is one of the best known druggists in the Northland.

Ladies' and Gents' Alfalfa Harvesting—O. K. Barber Shop. tf

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCutcheon left on the Alaska for a visit to the States, where Mr. McCutcheon will rest up for a time. Last year while running on the snow plow he was severely gassed and has not yet recovered from the effects.

Picture Framing at the Alaska Shop. tf

W. C. Stiner, deputy collector of customs, who arrived on the Alaska, is located in room two of the Federal building, where he will assist Sewardites in the preparation of their income tax returns. Mr. Stiner states that unless his services are taken advantage of his chief may not return him to Alaska next year. He can be of great service and material saving to those having income tax reports to make out. Contrary to popular opinion his duties are not to ferret out delinquents but solely to advise taxpayers how to make out an intelligible and comprehensive report.

Join the Chamber of commerce.

Earrings of Long Ago Period Become Fashion, Germany

(By Associated Press)
DRESDEN, Jan. 26.—Now is the time for women who desire to be in fashion to bring out their earrings from the time Napoleon I. Fortunate is the woman who has among her heirlooms earrings dating back 100 years and more.

Dame Fashion prescribes an ear dress made up of rather long golden chains fastened into the ear and ending in a beautiful pearl or precious stone. Some of these earrings extend down to the seam of the low-neck cut, and are made up of a series of precious stones. Contrasts of color, by which attention is to be called to the costly nature of the various stones making up the hangings ear decoration, are as much in fashion now as they were taboo the last time earrings were in style some 25 years ago.

Pious Sojourners Crowd Church Building of Florida

(By Associated Press)
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 26.—The influx of winter visitors to this city has brought about a situation in local churches that is believed to be unparalleled in the religious history of the country. So large is the attendance at two of the churches that the preachers have resorted to double services every Sunday afternoon to accommodate the throngs who wish to worship in their buildings.

At both places, the Congressional Church and the First Avenue Methodist Church, the complete program of music, scripture reading and sermon are given at both services, the second services following the first with only an intermission for changing congregations. The Congressional church has a seating capacity of 2,000, while the Methodist edifice has a very large auditorium. Other churches in the city are contemplating inauguration of the double morning service program during the winter months. All the churches here also have filled auditoriums at the evening services. Reports from other parts of the state show that many churches are planning to enlarge their quarters to take care of the visitors.

Read The Gateway "Ads."

Bjornson to Direct Theater

(By Associated Press)
CHRISTIANIA, Jan. 26.—Bjorn Bjornson, son of the great Norwegian poet and novelist, Jornsterne Bjornson, has been named director of the Norwegian National Theater here. The son also is a man of letters. During the war he stirred up so much discussion on the war-guilt question during a lecture at Copenhagen that the Danish government issued a decree prohibiting speeches on war issued by foreigners.

AT THE HOTELS

Hotel Sexton—James Callias, Elizabeth fox island, Seldovia; Dr. Swanston, Nenana.

Hotel Overland—Charles Ristine, C. W. Overturf, Tacoma, M. F. Lynch, Alaska railroad.

Hotel Seward—G. Kristiansen, C. has, Anderson.

Hotel Van Gilder—Mr. H. H. McCutcheon, B. Landsdowne, J. Boyer, E. A. Williams, John Rodeneck, F. Oleson, E. F. Allen, W. C. Stiner, L. Thafter, Herb Fink, all from Anchorage.

H. S. Balderston left on today's train for Anchorage.

Interior papers report a temperature of ninety degrees below zero at Dawson during the recent cold snap. Several old Dawsonites declare the report to be incorrect, as 72 below is the coldest yet known at the Yukon town.

Remington Portable Typewriters at the Alaska Shop. tf

MADAM X REDUCING CORSETS

ASK TO SEE
THEM

ELLSWORTH'S

IF IT GOES INTO YOUR PANTRY
WE HAVE IT

M'MULLEN'S GROCERY
PURVEYOR OF PURE FOOD

MAIL AND PHONE ORDERS
PROMPTLY FILLED
TELEPHONE MAIN 34

P. C. McMULLEN

SEWARD WATER & POWER COMPANY

SEWARD, ALASKA

"Good Water a Necessity in Every Home"

JOHN NELSON, Manager, WAYNE BLUE, Agent
OFFICE ARCADE BUILDING

FRYE'S DELICIOUS BRAND HAMS AND BACON

Telephone Main 94

Frye-Bruhn Company

H. D. McGHIE, Manager

QUALITY COAL

NONE BETTER

Lump Mine Run Steam

YOU need our coal. WE need your business.
Give Us A Trial

EVAN JONES COAL CO.

Office Mines
ANCHORAGE, Alaska. JONESVILLE, Alaska

WHEN DOWN TOWN AT NOON OR AFTER THE SHOW WHY NOT TRY ONE OF
THE APPETIZING LUNCHES AT THE

Seward Bakery

SEWARD NEWS COMPANY

GEORGE PHELPS, Proprietor

BOOKSELLERS STATIONERS NEWS DEALERS

Plumbing, Steamfitting, Oxyacetaline Welding

R. F. TILLMAN, Next to Crawford's Shop