Love your enemies and never misuse your rivals; excel others, but do not exalt yourself; honor the men in men that they may own you as their brother.

MUST THINK IN TERMS OF COMMUNITY WELFARE.

Men, in organizations banded together for the community weal, must hold before themselves, at all times, that which redounds to the best interests of the community in which they live.

For individual members of these institutions to think only of their personal prestige and aggrandizement spells failure for the true interests of the community.

Utterior motives and vain-glorious flaunting of an overwhelming ego do not coordinate with true community welfare.

The Nugget stands ready and willing to cooperate with all organizations which practice the true civic spirit and pride, holding as its slogan "the greatest good for the greatest number."

WHAT SEN. WADSWORTH FORESAW IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

It is announced that a delegation representing the Collins-Griffith party in Ireland is on the way to this country to secure support of Americans of Irish blood, and that another delegation representing the De Valera faction is in hot pursuit with a view to securing the same backing for the De Valerians.

Nevertheless, the occasion suggests vividly what would have happened had this country been dragged into the league of nations, a situation the possibilities of which were ably depicted by Senator James Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, in his attack on the Wilson league covenant.

The result would have been unceasing turmoil in our own body politic because the politics of Europe and the rest of the world had been transfused into the political veins of the United States.

Even though the United States is not to be at Genna, there is nothing to prevent this country from endorsing any decisions that may be arrived at by the participants, and aiding in every proper way in carrying them out.

MOVING THE CAPITOL

Much agitated indeed are the people of the western part of the Third division, at Seward and Anchorage, relative to the moving of the Capitol from Juneau to the westward.

All of the candidates for the legislature in the Third division are pledging themselves to work for the removal of the Capitol.

in favor of it could be elected from the Third division.

So, when the next legislature meets the drive will start and it is possible, even probable that the Third will have a substantial backing in the delegation from the Fourth division.

There is a business, an economic tie between the First and Third division that does not exist between the First and Second or Fourth.

So far as Ketchikan is concerned, it makes little difference whether the Capital is at Juneau, Anchorage, Seward or Nome.

And, if Anchorage and Seward are determined to have a Capitol it would appear that it would be to their interest in joining the First division in an attempt to divide the Territory, making the Panhandle one and all the mainland of Alaska another Territory.

MR. PAUL TRYING TO MAKE WATER RUN UP-HILL.

Mr. Paul in addition to urging that the abolishment of the fish traps is necessary in order to provide the Indians with an opportunity to make enough money during the brief salmon packing season to support them for the remainder of the year, contended that it was very clear that it was trap fishing that is causing the depletion of the salmon supply in Alaska.

The thing that is causing the depletion of the salmon supply in Alaska is the catching of too many fish. It is not a question of how the fish are caught but one of the quantity that are caught.

Let the people of Alaska have charge of the fisheries and they would find an equitable method of restricting the fishing unless the packers would do it before they could.

The suggestion that the restriction should be brought about by abolishing scientific and efficient methods of procedure is absurd. Suppose, for instance, when we had a paper shortage Congress had required the newspapers to put away their linotype machines and set their type by hand.

The trouble with Mr. Paul is that he is trying to make water run up hill. Union Labor discovered many years ago that it was worse than folly to oppose the application of scientific methods and labor saving equipment to industry.

ALL TOGETHER NOW—PULL! Spilt on your hands, get a good hold on the Seward Peninsula bonds of affiliation, and pull 'em up closer. A chain may be only as strong as its weakest link, BUT WITHOUT A CHAIN, THERE IS NO STRENGTH AT ALL. Even a paragon and a timber wolf know there is power in E Pluribus Unum. For a long time the different localities of this District have been backsliding into little hermit villages; there has been a frightful lack of co-ordination. We have pulled at Congressional influence from every point on the compass, with the result that we haven't gotten anywhere. We have been like some dog teams we all know of: "Geeing" and "Hawling" when the command was Straight Ahead. The NUGGET wants a weekly news letter from every settlement in the District. It wants to print your activities, social and otherwise, and it wants the feelings and expressions of your community on the big issues confronting us all. It wants your support by subscription. A larger paper means a better paper. Buy it; read it, and send us your suggestions as to how to better it. We would like to be a perfect mirror of the Peninsula's thoughts and desires. This will require teamwork. Just laying back there in your cabin, grumbling and growling to yourself won't help any. Clear, constructive criticism, though, when given the light of day may accomplish wonders. Get together. Appoint someone in your community as correspondent and let the world know you haven't hibernated for the winter. We might suggest that your local school teachers be interested in writing up your activities, and we will make substantial remuneration for their literary labors. Let's show them we are interested in ourselves.
