COMMITTEE NAME RIVAL TICKETS

GUS STRAUSS HEADS BLUE TICKET AND J. A. STALLCUP HEADS THE RED TICKET.

Business Men's League Race Promises to Be a Warm Affair as Both Tickets Are Made Up of Most Active of Our Citizens.

The Red Ticket.
For President—J. A. Stallcup.
Vice President—Gilbert Hogaboom.
Treasurer—Ralph Grover.
Directors—M. A. Elsels, William Borman, George A. Callahan, Albert Mendel, E. L. Howlett, Dr. A. H. Tribble, Ernest Woodcock, Al Reynolds, Dr. T. E. Holland.

The Blue Ticket.
For President—Gus Straus.
Treasurer—W. E. Chester.
Directors—S. E. Dillon, R. A. Jones, C. N. Rix, W. H. Ellis, Dr. W. O. Jones, E. N. Roth, L. D. Cooper, Ar. M. Katz, W. O. Creason.

With the above rival tickets put in the field yesterday by the nominating committee of the Business Men's League, there is certain to be keen interest taken in the election that will take place between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock of the afternoon of June 1. Of course a whole lot of political flops have to be recorded from the start. For instance, Gus Straus of the nominating committee for the Red Ticket, plunged into sprint yesterday afternoon by announcing that the Red Ticket would win, regardless of who the Blue Ticket nominating committee might name. This morning Gus Straus finds that he is the head of the Blue Ticket, so of course it is up to him to call the reporter of the afternoon paper what Teddy called the nature fakirs, and proclaim over his signature that he meant that the Blue Ticket would win hands down.

Likewise, George A. Callahan will have to do a little explaining among his political following this morning, for yesterday he was certain that the Blue Ticket would be a cinch, and when he saw that he had been nominated for place among the Board of Governors on the Red Ticket, he declared the Red Ticket looked pretty strong and would very likely be the winner over any the Blue Ticket nominating committee could select.

"It's great," said President M. A. Elsels of the Business Men's League, yesterday, when he heard of the rivalry. "There never was a time when we needed more active men at the helm of our single commercial body, and now we find the best of the citizenship fighting for place there. I see that I am scheduled for a place on the Board of Governors by the Red Ticket committee, and probably that binds me to its support, but regardless of which wins, I can see where the League will win by starting off under the new constitution with a spirit of rivalry as to who shall accept the burdens of public affairs. It looks great to me."

Hans Williams, Gus Straus and Arthur Katz nominated the Red Ticket and George A. Callahan, William Borman and Harry A. Jones nominated the Blue Ticket.

Callahan Finds an Issue.
An issue has already been projected into the race. George Callahan proposes that one live issue shall be a pledge to be exacted from candidates to stand firmly for the publication each month of a complete financial summary of the Business Men's League. He does not offer this issue in a critical spirit, but believes that it will go a long way towards shutting off some of the criticism directed to the institution. He said yesterday:

"One of the greatest troubles with all of our quasi public institutions is that they are not frank enough with the public. I do not say this in a critical way or to cast reflection on any individual, but I do say that the Business Men's League would enjoy more of the confidence of the people if every month there were a financial statement read before the meetings and published, showing in all essential detail where the money of the people was being expended.

"It is not an indictment of wrong to demand this. It does not carry that the people believe anybody is getting one cent more from the institution than is due under contract. But it puts before the people the detail of the business in which they are interested.

"Also there is this other side to the plan, for if the money is wisely expended and completely exposed to publicity, then the cry of the critic is hushed and it can not be bandied about in insinuation that the commercial organization is unworthy of support.

"I believe in publicity. I was a supporter of the publicity act that was adopted by the people (though defeated in the supreme court) which requires all public officers to publish a financial statement at regular intervals. I have faith in our public officers, but I haven't the time to go over their affairs, and if they publish an account of their stewardship, I will have my attention called to it, and scan it, and then I am prepared to know that they are handling the trust placed in them in a capable and efficient manner.

"We have got to have a live commercial organization in Hot Springs. The men who accept nomination on either ticket at this time will be assuming a public burden of dead weight. It will take live, enthusiastic men to put vim into public movements again. I believe we have that kind of men in Hot Springs, and I believe that we can find men who will be accepted as leaders, and who will have the strong backing and endorsement of the people at large.

"I am gravely interested in this movement. We have but a single commercial body. It must do the work—or we must do the work through it. We talk of getting together, but we must get together and work. I am not a pessimist. Rather do I choose to be an optimist. But I see the trend of affairs here, and I want to help my fellow citizens stem a backwater tide, and get things moving ahead again.

"I know that we have the best resort in the world. I know that the only rival resorts of this Hot Springs of Arkansas are those of the old world. Certainly there are none here in this country its equal. The resorts of the old world are out of commission and may be for years. It is our opportunity. We must improve it, and if we do, our property values will return to a high maximum, and our business lines will grow, and we will again enjoy a prosperity that our people are entitled to receive.

Best Thing for a Bilious Attack.

"On account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and liver trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. Failing to get any relief from any other treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man," writes H. C. Bailey, Editor Carolina News, Chapin, S. C. #### TO KEEP FLEET ON ATLANTIC COAST

PLAN TO MAKE TRIP THROUGH THE PANAMA CANAL PRACTICALLY ABANDONED.

Washington, May 12.—While Secretary Daniels said tonight that he had not finally determined to abandon plans for sending the Atlantic fleet through the Panama canal next month to San Francisco, it now is regarded in official circles as very certain that the fleet will be kept on the Atlantic coast.

Mr. Daniels had a further conference during the day with Captain Hugh Rodman, marine superintendent of the canal, who told him that although a vessel drawing 30 feet of water could be towed through the waterway at this time, the canal was only being used by day and dredging was going on steadily every night.

Major General Goethals talked with the secretary yesterday and it is understood advised that while it will be possible to put the battleships through now, he could give no assurance of what conditions would be in June and could not promise that the fleet once through would not have its return blocked by new slides.
