THIRD ROUND IN NATIONAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT TODAY

Philadelphia, September 11.—Play in the fourth annual singles championship tournament of the United States Lawn Tennis association will enter the third round tomorrow, with two or more crucial matches featured in the day's card.

In the lower half of the draw William T. Tilden, II, of this city, world's champion, will meet Zensu Shimidzu, a member of the Japanese Davis cup team, and Willie M. Johnston of San Francisco, twice holder of the national title, will face Vincent Richards of Yonkers, N. Y., the youthful tennis prodigy. In the upper half, R. Norris Williams, II, of Boston, is drawn against S. Howard Voshell, of New York, and Wallace F. Johnston, of Philadelphia, will play E. M. Edwards, another local player.

The Barons didn't encounter any particular difficulty in winning today's game. Earl Whitehill started the game for the Barons, but was chased from the game in the third inning. Perhaps it was best for Barons chances of winning, though, for Earl had just allowed the winning run when he was chased. It happened this way:

Eddie Bogart was on third. He started for home with Whitey's wind-up, and slid into the rubber first. Umpire Tandy called him safe, and the score was tied. Young Whitey raised so much sand that Umpire Tandy sent him to the showers and also from the park.

The Barons came back strong in the fourth and fifth innings, however, and scored four more runs, putting the game on ice.

Eddie Bogart, except Brandon and Wheeler made at least one run. The Barons left New Orleans to fight for Birmingham, where they play the Memphis Chickasaws a double header tomorrow.

BILL AT LOEW'S BIJOU

"Hubby's Holiday" is the title of a comedy playlet presented by E. H. Murray and Betty Lane, and forming one of the vaudeville offerings for the first half of the week at Loew's Bijou, and is said to be one of the best of its kind, supported by clever comedians and a fine orchestra. Other acts on this bill include McMahoon and Adelaide, designated as a vaudeville diversion "with a punch," followed by Ross & Flynn, in a song and talk fest, both unique and entertaining, while Berry & Nickerson, with their comedy talk, supported by musical specialties, also offer unique features, the bill closing with sensational aerial feats by the aerial Mackas.

"From Hickville to Broadway" is the title of the Fox picture, featuring Eileen Percy and showing the excitement of life with finely drawn lines in an interesting story.

Catholics Declare for Separation of Church and State

By Associated Press

Atlanta, September 11.—Resolutions approving separation of church and state, pledging undivided loyalty to the state and country in all temporal and political matters and denouncing lawlessness were adopted here today at the session of the Catholic laymen's association of Georgia, at which Rear Admiral Benson was the chief speaker.

Admiral Benson's address touched largely on attacks on the Roman Catholic church, and after praising it and its members, he added:

"I have sometimes wondered that if you here in Georgia are not thrice blessed in having an atmosphere of hostility to your ideas that prompts you to live lives of a Catholic conscience, and I wonder if it would not serve a good purpose if in our larger cities a spirit of hostility more definite and less subtle prevailed, to the end that our young Catholic manhood might appreciate more fully the beauty of their religion and be more responsive to the crying needs of the day for vocations to the priesthood."

GIANTS OUST THE BUCS FROM LEAD IN THE NATIONAL

By Associated Press

New York, Sept. 11.—The New York Nationals by their victory over Brooklyn today forged to the front in the league race, while the New York Americans split a double header with Boston, and fell back half a game in their lead over Cleveland. The steady pace of the Giants during the week was featured by good work on the part of their pitchers and the Yankees maintained their lead mainly through heavy hitting.

The pennant hopes of the St. Louis Cardinals were given a rude setback by Cincinnati in the latter days of the week. Their heavy hitting aggregation found enigmas in the Red hurlers. Washington continued on its downward trend in the American.

Crowding the Cardinals for third place in the National were the Braves who went on a batting rampage during the week. Brooklyn, with the majority of games against the Giants this season to their credit, was unable to solve the New York pitchers in the series just ended. They now appear doomed to a berth in the second division.

Pirates Faltering
Pittsburgh has fallen into the Giants' old habit of 500 baseball and the inability of the Pirate club to connect with opposition hurlers lost them several games, although their pitchers performed well.

Both of the Chicago teams showed unusual hitting strength, but their pitchers were weak and opposing hurlers hit bigger scores. The White Sox with Detroit was marked by unusually heavy scoring and the Yankee batters boosted their batting averages considerably at the expense of Athletic pitchers.

The Yankee pitchers have rounded into their best form and with a continuation, Manager Huggins is certain that his team will lead the Speaker trail down to the wire. The New York Nationals are equally as confident of holding the Pirates safe, but the Cardinals, who will meet their weakest opponents in the games yet to come, have not abandoned all hope of overtaking both teams ahead of them.

Columbia Now Has Commanding Lead In Sally League

Columbia, during the week won six games and lost one, while Charleston was winning three and losing four. Augusta won five games and lost four, while Greenville was winning three and losing five, the teams going into a tie for third place. Spartanburg won five games and lost three, emerging from the cellar at the expense of Charleston, which won only one of seven games.

drizzling rain and waited for more than an hour to see Mlle. Lenglen play. When she appeared on the courts she was slow to get into play. After the third game of the set, with the game two to one in her favor, she asked the opposing player to let her rest a moment. Her playing was erratic, her stroking very soft, and at the end of the twelfth game, the score six-2, she was granted a 10-minute rest on the side lines.

Upon resuming play she lost her service and in change courtside formed the referee that she would retire after the set had been completed.

Throckmorton played brilliantly in the last two games, making placements in Mlle. Lenglen's territory at will. She netted or outed every attempt at returns. Throckmorton and Miss Bancroft won the opening game on two service aces and a placement by the former, and a net by Mlle. Lenglen. Hall made one placement after a brilliant rally and Miss Bancroft netted. Mlle. Lenglen won the second game on her service, and Hall played well in the rallies to win their other games.

MINE BUREAU STUDIES LIQUID OXYGEN TO CUT HIGH DYNAMITE COSTS

By HUGH W. ROBERTS

Washington Bureau The Age-Herald

Washington, September 11.—(Special.)—A new application of liquid oxygen, the use of the material in mine rescue breathing apparatus, is attracting the attention of the United States bureau of mines. This innovation has already been tried out in Europe, and Dr. P. G. Cottrell, of the national research council, formerly director of the bureau of mines, is now investigating for the bureau the use of the apparatus in England and on the continent. The new apparatus weighs no more than one-half of that of the present type, while it may be used by the wearer at one charging of the regenerator for double the time of the present standard type.

The bureau of mines is conducting experiments at its Pittsburgh, Pa., station with a view to making the use of liquid oxygen explosives practical in certain mining and quarrying operations. The increasing cost of dynamite and permissible explosives at the time the United States entered the World war caused the bureau of mines to investigate all possible substitutes.

It was found that the Germans used liquid oxygen explosives extensively in non-gaseous coal mines, in quarries, and in iron mines, as well as for destructive purposes in French steel plants. As eminent physicians are promising great improvements in liquifying apparatus that can be used for the production of cheap oxygen, it is possible that the explosive may become so cheap that it will displace dynamite and other explosives where conditions permit its use.
