LESS CATTLE, AVERAGE NUMBER SHEEP ON NATIONAL FOREST RANGE.

Denver.—Grazing applications for national forest range are below normal for cattle and about average for sheep in Colorado and Wyoming this year, according to District Forester Allen S. Peck of the Denver office.

This condition is the natural result of the market conditions last fall and the different positions in which it placed the cattle men and sheep owners. The market was low on all kinds and classes of cattle and there was little preference in selling. Banks were calling loans and pressing some stockmen. Others had to sell parts of their herds to buy winter feed for the remainder.

The market on lambs was not high, but much higher than on old sheep and the owners could reverse their usual plan of marketing, hold over their average number and get off with a smaller loss. They sold ewe lambs and kept old ewes, which should have gone to the packer. In this way the numbers sold were little, if any, above normal.

That plan of selling amounts to a postponement of loss and will be felt this year. The lamb crop is likely to be smaller this spring and the number of old sheep marketed this fall will be above normal, for many of the older "broken-mouthed" sheep cannot be held over another season.

Count Minotto Becomes Citizen.

Chicago.—Count Giacomo Michalich Minotto, son-in-law of Louis F. Swift, multimillionaire packer, who was interned as an alien enemy at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, during the war, has become an American citizen. He renounced allegiance to Victor Emmanuel, king of Italy. Since his release from Fort Oglethorpe, Minotto, and his wife, who was Ida May Swift, have been living quietly at Lake Forest, Illinois.

1,000-Pound Hog Breaks Record.

Denver.—The heaviest hog ever sold in any open market went over the scales at the Denver stock yards recently. The animal weighed 1,000 pounds, against the standard weight of 200 pounds. It was owned by Jake Thompson of Wray, Colo., and was purchased by the Kogel-Doyle Meat Company at 5 cents a pound. The size of the animal makes it impossible to handle it with packing house machinery, and it will be slaughtered by hand. The animal is 4 years old.

Long-Distance Flights Planned.

Washington.—Long-distance flights which will cover practically every section of the country are being planned by the Navy Department with the big dirigible ZR-2, which is now nearing completion in England, and which is expected to arrive in the United States early in July. The flights will be largely experimental to determine the feasibility of the use of rigid airships for commercial purposes, an announcement by the department said.

WANTS OWN FARM

Why One Youth Seeks the Land of Opportunity.

Beckoning Hands of Independence and Wealth Stretch Out From Western Canada to Those Who Have Faith and Courage.

Strolling around the exhibit room of the Canadian government office in St. Paul, studying the grain, and picking up an odd piece or two of literature describing farming and its results in Western Canada, a dapper, well-built, strapping six-footer said to the manager, "I've been having a grand whirl of living for the past few years. I used to work on my uncle's farm in Iowa. I heard of the big fat pay envelopes that the city chaps were getting every week. I went to the city, and I began getting them, too. I had all the excitement they would bring—theaters, dinners, swell clothes and taxis. I surely saw a lot of that life that in days gone by I had anxiously gazed upon and secretly wanted to try."

"But I'm driven to earth now. I'm still working, but the pay envelope is thinner. Not working steadily, you know, and I sort of miss those silk-shirt times. I went to Western Canada once, and I think I'll make another trip."

"I was up there five years ago. I want money, and lots of it; I want to be my own boss, but I haven't much coin to start with. I want to get into that class that don't have to worry about a buck or so. I know fellows out there in Canada who went there, a few years ago, got a quarter section—some homesteaded and some bought on easy payments—and they are well off today. A number of the boys from my own state paid for their lands from a single crop. I may not be as successful as they were, but I want to try."

He wanted to talk, and the manager was a good listener. He continued: "I want to have my own home and raise my own cattle; I want hogs and poultry, and milk and eggs to sell. Can I get a market?"

He was assured that he could, and that he could get a decent-sized crop to thrash every fall.

"You know," he said, "if the farmers on five-hundred-dollar-an-acre land can make money, my reasoning leads me to believe that I can grow as many dollars an acre from that cheaper land in Western Canada."

This period of semi-unrest is causing more thinking and planning for the future than probably at any time in the past. The desire for personal and financial independence is growing. To secure this, the first real source of wealth is the land itself. That is the solution. During the era of high prices, doubtless there was some inflation of land values. So the new man—the young man wishing to make a start on a farm—was confronted with the problem of the land he wanted having gone beyond his limited capital. He must seek elsewhere. Two decades ago, and less, good farming land could be bought in Canada at four dollars an acre, but as the demand increased and its productivity was proven, prices advanced. There has been no undue inflation, though, and prices today are very reasonable. Some day, when the country is settled, land will bring a much higher price in Western Canada. Today land prices range for unimproved, $18 to $25 an acre; improved, at $30 up.

The productive value is almost beyond estimate. The reports of those who have been farming these lands, making money and enjoying every personal freedom, are available and can be secured on application. It is apparent that this last big available farming area of Western Canada will tend, to no small extent, to dispel some of the unrest that is so prevalent today among the younger men, who have had a taste of better things and who intend to have them in the future.—Advertisement.

youngsters in Poland will gather up their hoes, rakes and spades and advance upon vacant lots, determined to convert them into vegetable and flower gardens, just as will young America.

Of the many things which the Junior Red Cross introduced to the children of Poland, community gardens made the strongest appeal. It not only gave the children a chance to take up gardening, but also provided beautiful recreation for thousands of stunted, undernourished little bodies fighting an un-

British Adopt French Ruins

London to Restore Verdun, but Cemeteries Prevent Work on Outlying Villages.

NEWCASTLE ASSISTS ARRAS

Manchester Raising $250,000 to Lift Mezieres Out of Heap of Dust and Ashes—Raise Money for the Rheims Cathedral.

New York.—Despite the burden of their war debts and the heavy taxes in the billions of pounds sterling they poured into Europe to save civilization, the people of Great Britain still are finding means to help the stricken populace in the devastated regions of France.

Under the stimulus of a campaign directed by the central committee of the British League of Help, they are donating millions of dollars to repair, rebuild or restore public utilities, houses, villages and towns in the war-swept zones of France. More than 50 ruined towns and villages have been adopted by English cities and towns.

Verdun, that became immortal as one of the bloodiest battlefields of the entire war, has been adopted by the city and county of London. So great was the havoc wrought there by the enemy guns, so great the loss of life, and so numerous and thickly populated the cemeteries of the soldier dead, that many of the outlying villages may never be reclaimed. But Verdun proper, the city that "They Shall Not Pass," is to be restored in its entirety.

Boroughs Take Individual Action.

Aside from this several London boroughs are taking individual action. According to reports received by the foreign information department of the Bankers' Trust company, Kensington has adopted Souches, Wadsworth has undertaken to look after the needs of Villers-Plouch, and other boroughs are forming committees to raise funds to take care of other villages.

Manchester is raising $50,000 to help to resurrect the dust heap that once was Mezieres; and of this amount $11,000 already has been subscribed. Newcastle has undertaken to provide $20,000 for Arras, and has paid its second installment of the gift. On February 5, when the mayor of Arras visited Newcastle a check for 250,000 francs was handed to him.

And Oxford, Sheffield, Exeter, Evesham, Eastbourne, Cirencester and Birmingham have given and are giving to their capacity.

Oxford proposes to restore the water supply and to rebuild the school at Fayet. For this object, nearly £700 already has been collected.

Sheffield has adopted three towns and villages—Bapume, Puisseux and Serre, all made famous in the battle of the Somme and in the great German drive in 1918. The fund in the hands of the lord mayor of Sheffield now stands at £5,000. Of this a first installment of 30,000 francs has been sent to Bapume toward the establishment of a day nursery; and, at the special request of its mayor, a motor tractor has been forwarded to Puisseux.

Evesham Orders Cider Fruit Trees.

Evesham is undertaking to restore the water supply at Montdidier, where the American troops first went into the battle line, and has forwarded $2,000 to the mayor of that city. Evesham is raising $1,000 for Helmerie, and has ordered 300 cider fruit trees from Holland. Eastbourne has sent to Bray-sur-Somme a gift of 5,900 francs, besides supplying that ruined village with goods and foodstuffs to the value of $200. Cirencester has equipped and is supporting a food kitchen for the school children of Passel and Ville, to which agricultural implements, sewing machines and clothing have been sent. Birmingham has adopted Albert. As a first step, clothing, boots and blankets to the value of $500 have been sent, and more is to follow.

Apart from the organized assistance of the British League of Help, the British are raising a special fund for the restoration of the Rheims cathedral, and the Royal Agricultural society has organized a fund to supply cattle to the raided farms of French agriculturists. To this fund $70,000 already has been subscribed.

URGE NATION TO SAVE FORESTS

Joint Action of State and Federal Governments Necessary to Stop Destruction.

FOREST FIRES ONE PROBLEM

Largest and Most Important Field for Co-operation is Fire Prevention—Cost of Protection Should be Shared by Private Owner.

Washington.—Need for public action to save the remaining forests of the United States from devastation, and to provide for timber production on lands already laid waste, was strongly urged by Col. W. B. Greeley, chief of the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture, at the hearings before the house agricultural committee on the Shell bill.

The bill authorizes and directs the secretary of agriculture, in co-operation with the various states or other suitable agencies, to recommend the requirements essential for protecting timbered and cut-over land from fire, refreshing denuded lands, and cutting and removing timber crops so that continuous production of timber will be promoted. To bring into effect these requirements, and with a view to furnishing a continuous supply of timber for the use and necessities of the public, co-operation between the federal government and the states is authorized, on such conditions as the secretary of agriculture may determine to be fair and reasonable.

Expenses Borne Jointly.

Federal expenditures under co-operative agreements with states would, under the bill, have to be at least equal by state expenditures derived either from general taxation or from owners of forest lands under state requirements. The bill also provides for a survey of the forest resources and requirements of the country, for experiments and investigations in reforestation and methods of cutting and utilizing timber, for enlarged purchases of lands for federal administration as national forests, and for various other features of a national program of forestry.

In urging the necessity for action, Colonel Greeley pointed out that the essential problem of providing for future needs is a national one.

"New York," the colonel said, "imports nine-tenths of the lumber which she requires. Pennsylvania imports four-fifths, while a large group of middle western states import 90 per cent of their wood. The bulk of our paper comes from half a dozen states. The growing of timber on enormous areas of land adapted by nature to that purpose and scattered throughout 39 states is just as much a national necessity and just as much a matter for national action as the encouragement of agriculture or the maintenance of interstate transportation.

"The growing of timber cannot be left to private initiative alone. Under the bill the federal government will assume the technical leadership of the reforestation movement throughout the country. While in the prairie states co-operation would have to deal chiefly with tree planting, in other states it should cover technical methods of fire prevention, of disposal of debris left in logging, of cutting various types of timber so as to secure a new crop of the kind desired, and the like.

Drank 54,150 Glasses of Root Beer in One Year

Because he scheduled $541.50 in war tax on root beer during 1920, a Lithuanian coal miner of Springfield, Ill., was asked by John Pickering, collector of internal revenue, to look over his income tax again. After deducting his union dues, donations to churches and charities and war tax on theater tickets this man still had $1,541.50 for which to account. His root beer thirst cut his income to $1,000, he said.

To satisfy his cravings, according to his figures, the miner had to drink 148 glasses of root beer a day, or 54,150 glasses in a year.

is as profitable as grain growing. Successes as wonderful as those from growing wheat, oats, barley, and fax have been made in raising Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs. Bright, sunny climate, nutritious grass and water, enormous fodder crops—these spell success to the farmer and stock raiser. And remember, you can buy on easy terms.

Farm Land at $15 to $30 An Acre

—land equal to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—grazing land convenient to good grain farms at proportionately low prices. These lands have every rural convenience: good schools, churches, roads, tele-phones, etc., close to live towns and good markets.

If you want to get back to the farm, or to farm on a larger scale than is possible under your present conditions, investigate what Western Canada has to offer you.

BETTER DEAD

Three-year-old Robert of Franklin has a fondness for playing with his mother's jewelry case, much to her annoyance, and after dropping a ring in the register he was warned not to touch the jewelry case again. One day his mother, while out of the room, thought, in order not to tempt him, she would place the jewelry out of his reach on a mantel. When she returned, the youngster met her and shouted, triumphantly:

"I didn't touch the jewelry, mother. I—I couldn't reach it."—Indianapolis News.

PRESSING DAD PRETTY FAR

Youth's Last Question Certainly Might Have Been Called Pointed and Personal.

A most promising youth recently sought information from his father touching family affairs:

"Dad," said he, "do you like mother?"

"Why, what a question! Of course, I do!"

"And she likes you?"

"I am certain she does."

"Did she ever say so?"

"Thousands of times, my son."

"Did she marry you because she loved you?"

Whereupon dad became angry, and said:

"See here, young man, you're getting entirely too personal. But I don't mind telling you that she did."

The boy scrutinized his parent closely, and after a pause added:

"Tell me this, dad: Was ma as near-sighted then as she is now?"

Proper Thing.

"I'm nearly broke and want some collars." "Ah! Then you want the kind with just a slight roll."

MEANT GIFT TO BE USEFUL

Sender of Wedding Present Knows Quite Well What Her Sister Would Need in Time.

"What a peculiar choice for a wedding present," remarked an Englishwoman, trying not to laugh, as she inspected a huge flatiron which her charwoman had just purchased.

"Aint it, ma'am?" said the charwoman. "It's my sister that's getting married, and I'm repaying her for the gift she sent on for me on my wedding day."

"Did she send you something very ugly, then?"

"Deed, no, ma'am. Her's was a beautiful present. But, you see, ma'am, a little bird whispered to me that her future husband's a man of violent temper, and I thought I'd send her something that would be useful in case of family disputes.
