AMERICA ASSUMES NO OBLIGATIONS OF VERSAILLES TREATY IN NEW PACT.

(Western Newspaper Union News Service.)

Berlin.—The treaty of peace between Germany and the United States has been signed here.

The signing occurred in the office of Foreign Minister Rosen in the Wilhelmstrasse. The function occupied about ten minutes. Ellis Loring Dresel, the American commissioner, who was seated opposite the foreign minister at the latter's desk, signed both copies of the treaty first and then pushed the document across the desk to Herr Rosen, who affixed his own signature.

The German foreign minister, in signing, expressed gratification at this act for the resumption of friendly relations between the two nations. Mr. Dresel replying with reciprocal sentiment.

Pomp and oratory played no part in the signing and simplicity surrounded the ceremony. Mr. Dresel was accompanied by three aides, Commissioner Wilson and Secretaries Pennington and Agnew, while Under Secretary Secretary Hatfield, son of Hatfield and three foreign office department chiefs made up Herr Rosen's retinue. All stood about as the signatures and seals were affixed.

Washington.—The treaty with Germany, which was signed in Berlin, has been made public by the State Department. It puts into force the economic, reparations, military and various other provisions of the unratified treaty of Versailles, but provides specifically that the United States shall not be bound by the covenant of the league of nations or by other enumerated parts of the Versailles settlement.

This department's statement reviewed the treaty in detail, emphasizing that any advantage which might have been gained by ratification of the treaty of Versailles is fully preserved under the present instrument.

In event both the President and vice president were out of town the speaker of the House would assume powers of the President. The bill would make it unlawful for the President at any time to absent himself from the territorial jurisdiction of the United States.

Revolt in British India. — Bombay.—A grave situation has arisen in the Malabar district, on the west coast of British India, where seditious agitators have been working on the religious fanaticism of ignorant natives. Their activities have resulted in serious rioting, blood shed and destruction of property. Military forces have fired upon rioters, causing many casualties. Railway lines have been cut, postoffices have been robbed and mob law is almost supreme in several small towns.

Tourist Rescues Girl. — Yellowstone Park, Wyo. — Miss Beatrice Lucille Devine of Chicago slipped while picking flowers on the rim of Yellowstone cañon, plunged over the edge and for more than an hour clung to a ledge, with her body and feet hanging in space, before she was rescued by James E. Johnson of West Lebanon, Ind., member of a tourist party. The party reached the scene just as exhaustion was about to compel Miss Devine to relinquish her grip and fall to death on jagged rocks hundreds of feet below.

Three Dead in Oil Fire. — Tulsa, Okla. — Three men were burned to death and the south part of the oil town of Yale, Okla., fifty miles south of here, almost totally destroyed as the result of a tank car explosion, which occurred at the loading tracks of the Sun Refining Company. The burning oil spread to adjoining buildings and was extinguished only after great property damage had been done. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

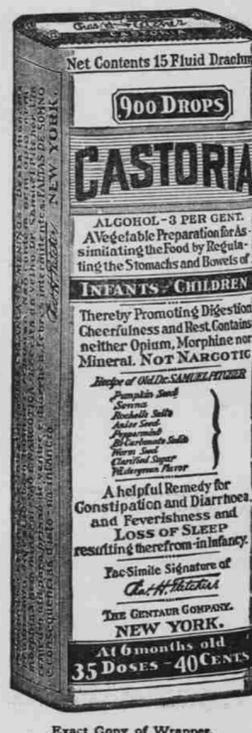

Posses Pursuing Bandits. — Denison, Texas.—Sheriff's posses are scouring the surrounding country in a search for two masked bandits who held up and robbed the mail coach in a Missouri, Kansas & Texas limited train as it was entering this city. Although no complete check has been made, postal authorities intimated that the robbers' loot may reach $500,000. One suspect, who was driving an automobile believed to have been used by the bandits, has been arrested.

Sea Gulls Eat Grasshoppers. — Mandan, N. D.—Thousands of sea gulls suddenly have appeared in the district east of Washburn, in McLean county, and, swooping down on grain fields, are cleaning out the grasshoppers which, in that area, have, more than dry weather, damaged crops. The fields, hundreds of miles from the great lakes, are literally white with the birds, which do not touch the grain but are devouring the grasshoppers and cut worms, according to W. A. Lauterman of Mandan.

Making History.

INFANT MORTALITY in past ages has been something frightful, something almost beyond belief, and even today it occupies the time and the mind of leading physicians in all countries. The death rate among infants is being gradually reduced through new methods of hygiene, new preventatives and new remedies for infants. This reduction in the death rate has NOT been accomplished by adapting the precautions taken and remedies used by adults. Rather has it been to keep clear of the old methods, and choose after long research the precautions and remedies specifically applicable to infants.

This being so, is it necessary for us to caution mothers against trying to give her baby relief with a remedy that she would use for herself? Will she remember that Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for infants and children?

Children Cry For

Of Course You Love Your Baby.

You love it because of its very helplessness, because it can't tell you what is the matter when it feels bad. It can only cry and look to you for help. But the more you love baby, the more you want to help baby, the more you ought to realize what a wonderful remedy Fletcher's Castoria is. It has been used for babies' ailments for over thirty years.

An experienced doctor discovered Fletcher's Castoria especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Doctors who know what is safe and best for babies have only good to say of it.

Don't neglect your baby. Get a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria and give baby a few doses of it. See how the little one smiles at you as if trying to thank you for helping it. Soon you will learn to depend on Fletcher's Castoria, made just for Infants and Children, and of course you would not think of using anything for them that was not prepared especially for Infants and Children. So keep it in the house.

Checker Player's Opponent Was the One to Get the Benefit (?) of Those Cigars.

A general storekeeper in an Indiana town, whose name was synonymous with all that is popular in the game of checkers, received a box of cigars from an enthusiastic drummer from Chicago during the course of the merchant's last battle with an ex-champion from Missouri.

"With those cigars," said the donor, "you can beat the world."

"Well," said the storekeeper, quietly and significantly, "I have to play Jones this afternoon."

"Never mind, old man; with those cigars you will play all right."

Later in the day they met again, and the storekeeper informed the drummer that he had won a game from Jones that afternoon.

"Fine! Those cigars were a help?" "I hardly think so," said the storekeeper.

"Didn't you smoke them?" "Me smoke them?" cried the storekeeper. "No! I don't smoke. But I gave one to Jones."—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Ominous Possibility. "Pretty bad fire you had here last night," commented the recently arrived guest.

"Eh-yah!" replied the landlord of the Petunia tavern. "The fire company had it pretty nearly put out, and then the mayor came and took personal charge of the conflagration, and yelled orders till he got the firemen so mixed up that they couldn't do anything. And I reckon if it hadn't begun to rain directly the whole dole-molested town would have been holo-causted. But I s'pose it might have been worse."

"How could it have been worse?" "Why, the governor or a congressman might have come and took charge instead of the mayor, and it might not have rained."—Kansas City Star.

Beware of the man who is only as honest as he has to be; he'll be as dishonest as he can be.

Hens are exclusive. They like to stick to their own sets.

Cook Certainly Would Not Have Overlooked the Use of That Insulting Pronoun.

The ritual of society, as women make it, is very exacting the world over, even in almshouses. In this relation there is told a story showing the serious difficulty that arose among a set of workhouse officials in a Western town.

The infirmaries nurses, three in number, had demanded a separate sitting room and the delight of Sunday dinner therein, and the matron had sought to humble them by sending the cook to enjoy her Sunday dinner in their company. The brawny cook described what occurred as follows:

"Well, Nurse Jones, she comes down and gets inside the door. 'Four plates?' she says. 'Four? Who's the fourth?' 'Me,' says I. 'You!' she says, and with that she tosses her head and walks away."

Here the cook drew a long breath, and then continued: "If it hadn't been Sunday, gentlemen, I should have let her have it for calling me 'you!'"

—Exchange.

Equal to the Occasion. "Before we were married," said the young wife, "you used to bring me flowers every day. Now you never even think of buying me a bunch of violets."

"There were tears in her eyes. But he was equal to the occasion."

"My darling," he said, with great tenderness, "the pretty flower-girls don't attract me now as they used to do."

After which, of course, he told her that she didn't really care much for flowers.

Airplanes to Aid Surveyors. Railroad engineers in the future when making reconnaissance surveys in unknown countries will find the airplane a great saving in time and money. An aerial survey of a proposed Philippine railway showed the possibilities of the method.

Well, Well. "That Boston girl seems agitated." "Yes, a fresh drummer called her 'Cutie.'"—Courier-Journal.

A Cousinly Manner. "Have you any talented people among your summer boarders?" "One," said Mr. Cobbles. "What's his speciality?" "Standin' off his board bill. He hasn't paid us a nickel since he's been here, but his manners are so free an' easy I sometimes wonder if he ain't a distant relation."—Birmingham Age-Herald.
