Local and Personal.

Mose Levy, merchant and cattleman of Signal, was in Kingman this week.

The board of supervisors will meet Monday to settle up the business for the quarter.

F. R. Nellis, the Chloride mining operator, returned from Williams last Sunday evening.

Ben Hastings, superintendent of the Ramrod mine, Weaver district, was in Kingman Tuesday last.

Harvey Hubbs returned from Los Angeles this morning, having perfected arrangements for the opening of his new hotel.

Mrs. N. W. Tarr returned from Waterville last night. Mr. and Mrs. Tarr are now domiciled in their new cottage on Oak street.

J. F. Withers came in on this morning's train, having visited San Francisco, Los Angeles and other places of interest during his absence.

H. H. Watkins returned this morning from a two weeks' visit to San Francisco and San Jose, very much improved in health and appearance.

F. M. Barnes a mining man of wide experience, arrived from Colorado Tuesday last. Mr. Barnes is interested in the placer country along the river.

G. W. Beecher and son, Sumner, arrived from Los Angeles Wednesday morning. Sumner has almost entirely recovered from the terrible accident of the 31 of July.

Frank Dewey returned yesterday morning from a tour of the country. He went to Arkansas Hot Springs, St. Louis, Kansas City, Salt Lake, Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego. He is much improved in health by the trip.

We understand the Truckee Lumber company will soon put in a yard in Kingman and will handle the best grades of California lumber. We hope the rumor is true and that the new concern will give the people the benefit of lower prices on lumber. At present the lumber business is in the hands of monopoly.

John Hemple, formerly of White Hills, arrived in Kingman Wednesday direct from Cape Nome. He is enthusiastic over the future prospects of the Cape and predicts that next year's output will equal if not exceed that of the Klondike. There are twenty miles of rich beach diggings, the gold in paying quantities being found far out under the waters of the cape. Mr. Hemple, after a few months visit with his family, will return north.

Dr. Amos M. Dypes, who at one time held a position in the White Hills mill, arrived in Kingman Wednesday last. Mr. Dypes served in a California volunteer regiment in the Philippine campaign and was mustered out of the service in San Francisco a few weeks ago. He believes that the mountains of Luzon are full of gold and is anxious for hostilities to cease when he will return to Manila and prospect the country adjacent in search of the yellow metal. Mr. Dypes has gone to White Hills to visit friends.

Sugar, salt, soap, flour, grain, coal, conloll and canned goods, always by the car, (for they will keep) and we will sell these articles to you very cheap for cash. GADDIS & PERRY Co.

16 pounds sugar for 1.00$ cash, at GADDIS & PERRY Co's.

How Mines are Discovered.

Some months ago H. J. West, F. L. Smith and George W. Koster went into the Boundary Cone country on a prospecting trip. They located several claims and, having to pack water several miles, concluded to prospect for water near their locations. They found indications of water in a vein near camp and proceeded to sink outside the ledge. Soon water was encountered and the discovery was also made that the ground was held by other parties. Arrangements were soon made and the ground purchased for a nominal sum. The shaft was then driven down forty feet, where a supply of water, ample for camp uses, was obtained. It was thought advisable to cut into the ledge to increase the water supply when the joyful discovery of eighteen inches of eleven ounce gold ore was made. The former owners had been working on a small stringer of rich ore on the surface, but it had pinched out on them and they became disgusted and quit. Mr. Koster now writes that the ore extends to the surface. The ledge is four feet wide and everything between walls will pay to mill. The owners contemplate putting in a cyanide plant and are now engaged in developing water on the mines. The camp of Boundary Cone gives promise of rivaling the big gold camps of the Pacific coast. There are ledges there the width of which are unknown, but which have been exploited for a breadth of forty feet, that will run from eight to ten dollars to the ton in gold. The Colorado river is only five miles away and the road is over a hard mesa. Judge J. H. West and Steve Bedell, of Needles, also have rich property in the district.

The ore is the best in the world, from the cyanide standpoint, having no neutralizing agent in its make-up. Mr. Smith had a test made at the El Dorado Canyon cyanide plant last week and the result exceeded his most sanguine expectation.

Dr. W. A. Hendryx and Col. McPherson, of Los Angeles, arrived in Kingman this morning and left for Cerbat, where they are engaged in unwatering the Golden Gem mine, upon which they have a bond. The judgment of the gentlemen is to be commended in taking hold of the Golden Gem. It is one of the very best gold mines in Arizona.

W. H. Thomas, the New York mining man, has been looking at properties in this county for several weeks. He visited Chloride Monday to examine one of the big properties south of that camp. He left for New York Tuesday morning, but will return in about two weeks.

Dan B. Gillette, one of the oldest mining promoters and experts on the coast, died in Enfield, Mass., last week. He was superintendent of the Tip Top mine in Yavapai county in its halcyon days and the town of Gillette was named in his honor.

H. H. Childs, of Chloride, was called to Salt Lake City Monday last by the death of his father. He left on the night train.

J. P. Finegan, mining man and merchant of Chloride, was in Kingman Tuesday last on important business.

J. M. Russell, the popular young secretary of the Merrimac Mining company, was in Kingman yesterday.

Oro Plata Sold.

This week the agreement by which the Oro Plata and Mariposa mines pass into the possession of M. D. Rocheford and Lambert Smith was signed, the consideration being 100,000$.

The Oro Plata is a patented mining claim in Todd basin and since its discovery has produced at least 500,000$. For years no work had been done below water level and the ore taken from it was worked in mills, arrastras and smelters. Every leaser made money on the property and since passing into the hands of J. W. Gerritt it has been a constant source of revenue. The deepest shaft on the mine is about 240 feet. Below the tunnel level in the last two years 325$ has been taken out but the blocks of low grade ore has been left untouched. Under the new method of treatment this class of ore can be made to produce considerable revenue. The grades of ore shipped have carried values up to 24 ounces in gold and 300 ounces in silver. There are two well defined veins in the location which can be worked through one main working shaft and each vein carries pay ore.

The new owners are preparing to open up new ground and work the mine in a systematic manner.

Miss Marcia Tarr, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. L. Tarr, and W. H. Cooley, were married at the residence of the bride's parents in Manuelito, New Mexico, on September 20. The bride is well known in Kingman, and is very popular. Mr. Cooley is superintendent of water service on the eastern division of the Santa Fe Pacific and is a general favorite on account of his genial, sunny disposition. The young couple will reside in Flagstaff after a month's visit in the east. The MINER wishes them long life, health, wealth and happiness.

William Heimrod returned from El Dorado Canyon the first of the week. While there he had several tests made on ores from this section and the results proved their adaptability to the treatment. He says that Messrs. Eckis and Vanderoock have made a complete success of the cyanide plant now working the tailings from the old Southwestern mill. The ores of El Dorado Canyon are the best adapted to cyanide treatment of any in the country and it is predicted that many plants will be put in to work the great bodies of low grade ores in which the district abounds.

Lew Roche, with characteristic enterprise, now supplies his customers from the only horseless delivery wagon in Kingman. Mr. Roche is bound to lead the van.

Millinery Opening.....
Mrs. M. B. Eggers will display a beautiful line of stylish hats on Wednesday, October 4th. Don't fail to see them.

Notice to the Public.

Having purchased the interest of my partner, Mr. F. T. Aspinwall, in the Kingman drug store, and having engaged the services of a competent and experienced assistant, I take pleasure in announcing that I am prepared to dispense everything in the drug line, and shall carry a full stock of drugs, patent medicines, chemicals, toilet articles, druggists' sundries, school books, stationery and cigars, and respectfully solicit a share of your patronage.

A new departure, which will be made a special feature, is the establishment of a circulating library, where you can exchange reading matter and obtain new and popular books. Yours respectfully, J. T. PENDEGAST, Sole proprietor Kingman Drugstore.

O. B. Wilcox, the new president of the White Hills Mining Company, and J. D. Murphy, managing engineer, departed for Denver Monday night. The gentlemen have been looking over the mines and the affairs of the company in general and it is believed that when they make their report arrangements will be made for the big shaft on the Norma, which is to prove the mines at a depth of 1,000 feet. The White Hills Company has recently been reorganized and the main offices moved to Colorado Springs. William Weston, the well known mining engineer, and who was formerly assistant engineer for the company, is now chief consulting engineer and he has advised the expediency and importance of a deep working shaft on the company's property. The money is ready and the work will be done.

Charles Metcalfe has had men at work on his Stanley mining claim, in Wallapai mountains for some weeks past. At a depth of fifteen feet eight inches of ore was cut that samples 442 ounces silver, two dollars gold and eight per cent lead. The vein runs parallel with the old Wheeler ledge and on the surface the ore was a heavy block galena, carrying small values in silver. Mr. Metcalfe will continue work on the claim to ascertain the extent of his find.

Drifting on the 90-foot level of the American Flag mine is now being carried westward toward the main ore body. The winze was sunk on the small ledge and it is believed that good shipping ore can be found in the main vein.

In doing work on the south extension of the Cupel, W. H. Cushing this week encountered a body of fine looking ore. Considerable work will be done on the property right away.

E. Hilty has struck a fine body of gold ore in a ledge recently discovered at Virginia Camp. The ledge in the bottom of the shaft shows an ore body four feet wide of a pay grade.

W. H. Eichelberger is engaged in platting the mines of Wallapai district. When completed the map will be used in the forthcoming mining edition of this paper.

James Rosborough is the proud father of a baby boy. The little one was born in Florence, California, one day last week. The mother is improving very slowly.

John Gray, of the Poland mine, Big Bug, has been examining mines in Todd Basin, for the Congress Gold Company. He returned home Monday night.

The Gracey mill will not begin crushing ore until the first of November on account of the large amount of preliminary work on the mines.

Alfred Ver Mehr, of the W. H. Taggart Mercantile Company, was in Chloride several days this week, on business for his firm.

J. M. Brown arrived from Pasadena yesterday morning and is hard at work preparing his cases for the approaching term of court.

Dr. W. A. Hendryx of Los Angeles, and John R. Parks, a mining man of Helena, Montana, were in Kingman Saturday last.

George Aitken, who has been examining mines in the Chloride country, was in Kingman last night.

One hundred pounds of our ice will last you longer than 125 lbs shipped in here. Try it and be convinced. KINGMAN I. I. & W. Co.

Parties having dental work to do will find it to their advantage to call on Dr. Waite at Commercial Hotel.

Dr. Waite makes a specialty of crown and bridge work. Teeth extracted without pain.

The Los Angeles Mining Exchange ought to have a membership of several thousand. Every Arizonan that visits the Angel City parts with a big iron dollar for the privilege of getting his name on the roster and getting in evidence a perfumed highly ornamented card. The affair reminds us somewhat of a visit of Tom Hesser and Dick Bauerbach, of Winslow to Prescott, a few years ago. Tom was of the opinion that Bauerbach could easily get along without the prefix or suffix of his name and therefore decided to raffle it off. He, therefore, started out with a list and each man with whom he met was importuned to take a long shot at Bauerbach's name at two bits a shot. In this way he secured in the neighborhood of 100$, which was duly blown in for booze for his admiring constituents. At a dollar a shot the Los Angeles mining exchange should soon be able to purchase a large hunk of Meyer & Zobel's brewery.

Tomorrow evening Rev. W. G. Blakeley will fill the M. E. pulpit in the absence of Rev. I. G. Sigler. The choir is now one of the most important features of the Sunday evening service. Don't neglect to hear it and the eloquent pastor.

James Twiggs and wife returned from a trip to the coast last Wednesday morning. Miss Ellen Robertson, a niece of Mrs. Twiggs, accompanied them to Kingman. They will occupy the Perry house on Spring street.

A Kingman gentleman has offered to donate 100$ toward the purchase of instruments for the band. Several other gentlemen in the same frame of mind are waited to be heard from.

Joe Marrines last week discovered a ledge in the Cedar country, that carries 25 per cent copper. The vein is ten feet wide and shows a thorough mineralization between walls.

Leng & Bowman this week sold to the Arizona sampling works two carloads of ore from the 4th of March and Samson mines. The ore was brought in over the A. & U. railroad.

By Collins and E. F. Thompson attended the Elk's jubilee in Los Angeles last week. They say that they enjoyed the affair hugely.

Miss Bessie Van Alen left on this morning's Utah flyer for White Hills where she has been engaged to teach school the ensuing term.

Erol Bellaufante is at Temple Bar in the employ of the Temple Bar Consolidated Mining Company.

J. T. Pendegast will probably go to the Union Pass country tomorrow with a party of capitalists.

Wood & Lefever has finished the courthouse well. Over forty feet of water is in the well.

Charles E. Bowers visited Todd Basin and Layne Springs last Thursday.

Many small lots of ore were worked at the Kingman sampling works this week.

Judge W. G. Blakely arrived from Chicago Wednesday evening.

Thomas McNeely, of Mineral Park, is visiting in Kingman.

Wm. Sweeney is in from Sherum's Peak.

By using our ice you are patronizing a home industry, and as it is turned out below a freezing point, it will do you 25 per cent more good than the ice shipped in. KINGMAN I. I. & W. Co.
