LOVE FOR THE HOME TOWN

Human nature runs to two extremes. The finest types of men and women think but little of themselves, and they give their lives and their all to noble ideals. Others are more selfish, they concentrate their thought on personal acquisition, and cherish no interests broader than their own pleasure.

Human progress goes on only as people get away from this sordid line of thought, and acquire the higher ideas of life. Patriotism the sentiment that makes one love his country, and in time of peril leads the soldier to offer his life, is one of the most noble of these ideals. The majority of people entertain this sentiment.

There ought to be room also in the normal heart, for a feeling of home town patriotism, a love of one's own community that shall be deep and vigorous and sacrificial, much like the love for country. These scenes amid which people spend their daily lives, should have their pull on their heart strings.

They may have commonplace features and some ugly ones, like all communities. But they constitute home, just as much as the four walls in which one lives his life. The old song of "Home, Sweet Home" should apply not merely to the house in which a person lives, but to all the scenes of the home community.

To the generous imagination, a feeling of some romantic attachment should grow up for one's home community. These streets and buildings may not be more wonderful than others, but they are the scene of our struggle and effort, of our joy and sorrow. They have seen our triumphs and our reverses. We have built something of our heart into them, and they have become part of our lives, that should never be forgotten no matter where life may take us. There is something lacking in the mentality that does not feel a touch of emotion on thinking of his home town.

REAPING AS WE SOW

As a people we Americans are too indifferent to matters of national concern.

We are indifferent because we do not enter actively into the discussing and shaping of such affairs. We have no time to devote to the national welfare because we are engaged almost exclusively in the accumulation of money for our necessities and pleasures.

This trait is not found only in the republican party, or in the democratic party, or among any certain class of people. We are all tarred with the same brush, and the tar is thick and black and sticky.

If things don't go to suit us in Washington we roar chestily for a day or two, and then forget all about it. We don't follow up the roars with definite action.

Because of this weakness we suffer from appalling waste and extravagance in our national life. We see officials vacillating in their weakness and indecision when they should be firm and aggressive in their action.

And, above everything else, we see crime rampant throughout the country, and taxation scraping the lining of the skies.

We reap as we sow, and the yield is no more than we sow.

EASY ON THE BRAIN

Occasionally we hear of a brainy man who reads action stories in order to divert his mind from the strenuousness of his career. He finds relaxation, and it is good for him.

Stories founded upon the wild and woolly days of the early west appeal to him. The heroes are genuine "he men," with oceans of red blood in their veins, and he thrills as he reads of their marvelous exploits.

But he misses the best of all action stories. He should read the Bible.

No writer of modern or other fiction has ever been able to duplicate the wonders that are told in that book.

No human mind has ever been able to fully grasp the import of the deeds recorded therein.

It is the only book that has ever been written that holds its own against the lapse of an eternity of time.

Even brainy men may find rest and relaxation in reading of the glories that are told in the Book of Books.

GIVE 'EM HELL

The government is said to place the blame for the latest coal strike on the shoulders of the operators of western Pennsylvania.

Some one is guilty. Some one is responsible for this great strike which may cause endless distress to an entire nation of people.

If the government is satisfied that certain parties are to blame, then those parties, regardless of who they may be, should be punished.

Operators are entitled to a fair profit, and miners are entitled to a reasonable wage. Neither side has a right to "hog it all."

Rout the culprits out and give 'em hell.

Poem by Uncle John

Politeness is a simple thing, and doesn't cost a sou. . . . It puts the polish on a king, or any common plug, by jing, the same as me or you.

We're livin' in a Christian age, where courtesy's required—and when I meet a sore-head bear, with constant growl and rumped hair, it makes me awful tired. . . .

Whenever I go in a store, or other business place,-- and when they treat me impolite, it simply makes me want to fight, like spittin' in my face!

I never could quite understand the tight-wad or his game. . . . And when, by chance or accident, I find myself inside his tent, I don't repeat the same. . . .

I don't aspire to regulate the habits of mankind. . . . But, if I might, by deed or word, land on some ill-mannered bird, it would relieve my mind.

From Uncle John

The Road to Happiness

You must keep well if you wish to be happy. When constipated take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. They cause a gentle movement of the bowels.—Adv.
