

DOUGLAS SOCIETY DURING PAST WEEK

There is an organization in this city that is not often heard of but at the same time it is one that has done a great deal of good in providing a home for the homeless and in one that at one time or another has had nearly every young man in town as a member.

On June 18, 1909, twelve young men rented the frame house on the corner of Sixteenth street and F avenue, engaged a chef and started the Chiricahua club. They occupied this place for a year and a half; at the expiration of which time, Mr. T. T. Hines erected the large two-story club house on the corner of Twenty-third street and F avenue, for the Chiricahua boys, and this building they have occupied ever since.

When the club was first organized the members took turn about acting as housekeeper and manager, each one acting in this capacity one month, and there was great rivalry among them to see who could run the club the cheapest. However, upon moving into the new club house this was changed, the members electing C. O. Thomas to fill this position as long as he remained at the club and conferred upon him the title of "Father." When Mr. Thomas left the club some three years ago, Albert Stacy was elected "Father" of the club and he has retained this position continuously to the present day.

Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock when in the presence of a very few intimate friends Mrs. Dorothy E. Wilkinson was married to George L. Anderson at the home of the former on Ninth street. The bride in a handsome empire gown of champagne crepe de chine over champagne silk was attended by Mrs. W. E. Latz. Mr. Latz stood with the groom. Reverend George Legie performed the ceremony using the popular ring service. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have lived in Douglas for a number of years and are well known in business and social circles. Mr. Anderson recently disposed of his brokerage business here and is devoting his time exclusively to his cattle interests in Mexico.

Mrs. H. L. Wilkinson was hostess to the Baptist Ladies' Aid and friends Thursday evening at her home on Eleventh street. There were strawberry berry question and answers and a bean guessing contest. Mrs. A. A. Fisher and Mr. Stewart proving the best guessers. Feed refreshments were served during the evening. About fifty were present and a generous free will offering was received.

Mrs. B. A. Packard and Miss Packard came in this week from Los Angeles where Miss Packard recently graduated from the Marlborough school.

The regular monthly dance was given at the Country club last night. Despite the warm weather a very pleasant evening was spent. Mrs. Van Allen's orchestra played. Among those in attendance were Messrs. Mesars. T. M. Smith, S. R. Kone, A. B. Packard, L. R. Fortin, J. W. Stonehouse, O. Fisher, Murphy, Chas. Howe.

The moonlight picnic of the Liebling Piano club is being much anticipated by the members. The affair will occur Monday evening at the ranch home of Miss Rowena Deming. The start will be made from Mr. Kribbill's studio at 7 o'clock and there will be ample conveyance for all, to and from the Deming home. Should the weather be unfavorable Monday, the picnic will be held on Tuesday evening instead.

Mrs. M. K. McNamara left this week for her home in Peoria, Illinois, after a visit of several months with her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Hirst. She will spend the coming winter with her daughter, Omega, who is attending a school of oratory in Chicago.

A quiet home wedding occurred last Sunday, the 20th, the club held its sixth annual dinner. The spacious dining room was artistically decorated with pink and green streamers, while the sideboard and tables were covered with a profusion of flowers. The members who were gathered round the festive board to enjoy the delicious repast prepared by the chef were the following:

"Father" Albert Stacy, E. J. Huxtable, Stewart, I. B. Ward, C. A. Bardick, W. J. Cunningham, Ed. Thornton, A. H. Zachau, H. H. Hunter, A. B. Packard, John Mayo, W. Y. Hotchkiss, E. T. Norlander, Les Gooding, James Lee, P. C. McMullen, E. C. Robinson, Jack Haglin, R. G. Arthur, W. J. Fox.

The Silver City Independent of Silver City, N. M., announces the marriage at that place on June 16 of Miss Margaret Eunice Thompson to Clyde Bloodgood, a prominent young cattleman of Kingston, N. M. Miss Thompson will be remembered by a number of Douglas friends, having taught recently in the Fifteenth street school in this city.

Miss Aileen Smith returned to Douglas this week from Pomona college, Claremont, California. She will spend the summer here, entering college again this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Georgeson began housekeeping today at 701 Sixteenth street, in the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Treese. Mr. and Mrs. Van Troese have moved to the Ryan home on Seventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Parsons have gone to Seattle to take in the exposition.

Mrs. W. T. Daniel and son, Ellis, of Bartlett, Texas, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McGee on Eleventh street.

Mrs. Margaret W. Speed and little granddaughter, Katherine McKean left this week for California to enjoy coast breezes for some time.

The following were the invited guests of the club: Albert M. Samen, Dodge C. Hooper, J. H. Caldwell, W. J. Cunningham, Ed. Thornton, A. H. Zachau, H. H. Hunter, A. B. Packard, John Mayo, W. Y. Hotchkiss, E. T. Norlander, Les Gooding, James Lee, P. C. McMullen, E. C. Robinson, Jack Haglin, R. G. Arthur, W. J. Fox.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kelly are recreating for several weeks on the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dixon were Douglas people coast bound this week.

FASHION

Fair Eve devised a walking suit of jungle grasses, soft and crimp; she thought it rather neat and cute. But Adam grunted, "Rather skimpy."

A cloak of palm leaves sought for miles. She made, and came to be admired; but Adam said, "The silly styles. You women wear just make me tired!"

She built herself a little hat of lilacs (Eve was very clever), and asked him what he thought of that! And Adam blurted, "Well, I never!"

So next she placed upon her head a feathered three-by-four creation. The little word that Adam said is barred from parlor conversation.

Yet Eve refused to be a dowd, and tried an autumn-tinted sash on. "I'll dress to please myself!" she vowed.

"For what does Adam know of fashion?" "What use to seek applause from him? He needs and says I cannot reason! Well, then, my law shall be my whim— and that shall change with every season."

Since then, revolving circles bring the gayest fashions and the queerest. And Eve declares, "It's just the thing!"

While Adam murmurs, "Is it, dear?"

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

From the New York Press. When a woman will eat onions it's a sign she is married.

After a man builds a house he has a lasting horror of doing any more foolish things.

The man who sets out to learn how to make money does mighty well to learn how not to lose it.

The thing that interests a woman about a wedding is the people the bride's brother said were to be present but they wouldn't come.

There's nothing a girl likes so much when she is going to meet the man she's engaged to as to write a letter to give him.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

From the Chicago News. A dollar bill in the hand beats two due bills in your mail.

The milkman is sometimes also an advocate of pure water.

A man's credit is usually good when he doesn't need it.

It's still a question whether love is an asset or a liability.

It's nice to live in the country— nice for your city relations.

The woman who marries a cranky old bachelor is as big a fool as he is.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 26.—The approach of commencement week at Yale university has attracted to New Haven the usual large crowd of alumni and friends of relatives of the graduates. The program will be ushered in with the baccalaureate address by President Hadley, which will be delivered in Woolsey hall tomorrow morning. Monday will be alumni class day, Tuesday alumni day and Wednesday graduation day.

S. P. SHOPS SHUT DOWN.

OGDEN, Utah, June 24.—Many departments of the Southern Pacific shop plant were closed down tonight until next Thursday morning, July 1, and several hundred men are temporarily out of work. The cessation of work at this time is due to a general order for retrenchment wherever possible during the balance of this, the last month of the railroad year.

COMPLICATED HORSE TRADE PULLED OFF

Stock Bought, Traded for Goats, Then Seized by Government

(From Douglas International.) A Mexican sold the horses to Billy Gardner, Gardner traded them to an American for goats and the latter turned them over to a customs official upon the latter's demand backed by the power and majesty of the American government.

This being the case, what's to be done about it, asks Gardner, asks the American and asks the government. In the meantime all are seeking the Mexican. And he may have made the deal innocent of any malice.

The government took a hand in the deal when claim was made by a line rider that the horses were Mexican horses and therefore amenable to duty or seizure. The American, who had received the horses in trade for his goats, took up the matter with Gardner and Gardner is trying to take up the matter with the Mexican, who, however, is not available.

The horses have been seized and if the Mexican shall not be found some one connected with the deal may find that he has been handed a mighty big lemon. Everyone, with the possible exception of the Mexican, is an innocent person, yet the government has the horses.

Seems like rather hard luck.

FASHIONS OF ALL AGES DISPLAYED IN LONDON.

LONDON, June 26.—The Fair of Fashions, a costume exhibition modeled on the lines of the similar show recently held in Paris, was opened today in the Royal Horticultural hall. The show is the first of its kind to be held in London and is already attracting much attention, particularly among women. The exhibits include the latest and most exquisite creations of the famous modistes and milliners of Paris, Vienna, New York and other centres of fashion. In a separate but none the less interesting department of the fair are to be seen the styles of bygone days in frocks, hats, lingerie, shoes and other details of the toilette. Thousands of dollars worth of jewels and rare lace are comprised among the exhibits and some of the antique costumes also are of priceless value. The exhibition will continue through next week.

JENKINS THREATENED BY EL PASO VAGRANTS

EL PASO, June 25.—The anonymous letter writer again broke loose and sent a communication to Chief of Police Ben F. Jenkins, warning him that if he proceeds with his action against the vagrants and other undesirable citizens he will meet the same fate as Manon Clements. The chief in his reply considers the anonymous writer a coward.

The envelope in which the letter was mailed showed it passed through the El Paso postoffice.

The letter to the chief and his reply are as follows:

El Paso, Tex., June 23, '09. Chief Jenkins—Sir: Your case have been before the House for some time and after a warm discussion we decided that you have by a long measure over stepped your bounds, therefore we have added your name to our list to be stoned. We send you this warning to allow you another short chance. We don't propose to let no chief run the town here never was one allowed to run here we have turned you over to the "old reliable," the one whom we pointed to steal a Sirtain fresh one from the Coney Island a short time ago. How simple you was to try to bring about a conviction in that case. We don't appoint men to do our work that will be convicted. So you slow down old man and don't be Pokey about it. We will give you until Saturday to make a statement in the paper, if you don't we will take it for granted that you mean to continue your crusade on other people's business.

We will then & there proceed to send you the way of Manon Clements. Your friend, Signed J. L. Pres M. K. Sec W. L. Vice Pres J. B. T. P. R. B. Committees.

The cowardly whelp or whelpa who wrote the above anonymous letter would not hurt a sure enough man in a dark, secluded spot, provided his hands were not tied behind him. So I take advantage of your time limit and give you two days and nights in the clear in which to execute your threats before Saturday.

B. F. JENKINS, Chief of Police.
