Mr. James Bacon came down from Flagstaff the first of the week to visit with his family a few days. He has returned to Flagstaff and Mrs. Bacon, Miss Stella and Miss Marion Bacon have gone to Los Angeles and Long Beach for a month's visit. ## SPOKE ON STATE LIBRARIES

At the last meeting of the Arizona Archaeological and Historical Society, held at the University May 20th, Dean Scarlett gave an interesting address on "State Libraries." He referred to the work of the Historical Society of Wisconsin and described the system of collecting, classifying, filing, and distributing valuable data relating to the history of the state in the splendid million-dollar library of the University of Wisconsin. Here in Arizona, said Dean Scarlett is a wealth of historical material of supreme interest and it is most important that this valuable material be collected and placed on record thru a society organization for this specific purpose and assisted by adequate state appropriations.

Miss Lutrell, Librarian of the University Library, told of the many priceless historic documents recently bequeathed to the Library by the late Mr. Merrill P. Freeman, a member of the Arizona Archaeological Society. The material was not yet classified, but it contained many interesting old diaries and records of Spanish and pioneer days in what is now known as Arizona. All clippings relating to Arizona are mounted and indexed on a method which has been modelled on that of the Wisconsin Historical Society described by Dean Scarlett. A Bibliography of books, pamphlets, and articles on Arizona was published by Miss Lutrell in 1913, and since that date many items have been added, making the number at this time over 2000.
