Nogales has more secret societies than any other town in the territory, and less than three years ago there was but one.

There is an exhibition at Major Evans' office at Phoenix, a pomegranate weighing 21 1/2 ounces—one of the largest on record.

Monday of last week Arick Fredericks of Prescott, received a painful wound in his hand while cutting open a coal oil can.

The young man wanted at Willcox for seduction, Edwin S. Booth, was hanged in effigy at that place, Tuesday of last week.

A few days ago a Mexican shepherd in the employ of George Stone in Pima county, skipped across the line with 1,000 head of sheep.

It is estimated that no less than 500 to 600 tons of wild hay have been cut this season within a radius of eight or nine miles of Flagstaff.

Friday last at Hog Rancho, in the vicinity of Fort Huachuca, a negro soldier named West was shot and killed by a comrade named Robinson.

At Phoenix, last Saturday, Lee Rine was shot and killed by Lee Burton. The two had been partners in business, and had difficulty over old scores.

At Flagstaff Walter McBride has on exhibition in his shoe shop a twelve pound turnip which was raised on his place eight miles south of that town.

A party of seven government surveyors has recently been in the neighborhood of the Dragoon mountains, in Cochise county, locating township lines.

Last week James McInerney, ex-superintendent of the territorial penitentiary, was indicted by the Yuma county grand jury. His trial will begin next Monday.

Last Sunday a prisoner escaped from the penitentiary at Yuma, swimming the river. In twenty minutes he was returned by some Indians on the lookout for the standing reward of $50.

Hart & Campbell of Apache county have sold a lot of beef steers to be delivered at Magdalena, New Mexico, and their range foreman is now driving the herd across the country for delivery.

The heaviest rains for Arizona during the month of September occurred at Fort Grant, which last year was near being abandoned for lack of water. During the month 3.87 inches fell there.

The Willecox Stockman says dudes and mashers will receive cold treatment in that burg, if they attempt to press their attentions. The general opinion is that the safety line is not overstepped.

The counterfeit five dollar pieces reported in circulation at Prescott are now said to be genuine, but have been subjected to the "sweating" process and are cracked, consequently are without the proper ring.

The product of two furnaces at Globe is now about sixteen tons of copper per day. The cable tramway delivers about 120 tons of ore and twenty-five tons of lime a day, and has a daily capacity of about 250 tons.

The senate has passed the house bill to suspend for the year 1893 the law requiring $100 worth of labor to be expended or improvements made on each mining claim, with an amendment excluding corporations from its benefits.

Excavation has commenced for construction of the immense dredger, that is to take out the new heading of the Mesa canal. The excavation is to be 200 yards in length, fifteen feet deep and eighty feet wide on the top and fifty on the bottom.

At Flagstaff Charles J. Babbit had a large trunk stolen from the back porch of his residence one night last week. The contents were clothing and silverware valued at about $250.00. Two men must have participated in the theft, as the trunk was too heavy for one to carry. No trace of the bold thieves has been discovered.

The Mohave Miner reports that there is strong talk of extending the Utah Southern railroad so a connection with the Prescott & Arizona Central road, and then to the Southern Pacific, by connection with the Maricopa & Phoenix road. Such extension would open up a splendid region in Mohave county for about 100 miles.

Cattle men who last year pastured thousands of cattle in the great valley of the Colorado, from the Cocopah mountains to Salton lake, and from the Algodones to Indian Wells, and who took them to the mountains last June when the heavy rains fell, are now preparing to drive them back from the valley for the winter. Feed is reported excellent.

A party of Navajoes is camped near Prescott, with about one hundred ponies, and are peddling blankets of their own manufacture. The latter are of many colors, very heavy, and resemble rugs more than blankets. The finer qualities are water proof and will last a lifetime. They range from $5 up according to quality, the finer qualities being held at fancy figures.

Onion socials are reported the rage in Tucson. Six young ladies stand in a row; one of them bites a chunk out of an onion; and the fellows pay ten cents each to guess who bit it. The correct guessers kiss the other five girls, while the unsuccessful kiss the biter. It is unsuccessful to state that the per centage in the game is in favor of the onion chewer.

Ranchers in the vicinity of Flagstaff are busy digging their crop of potatoes. The yield is not so large as in former years, but the quality is better. Flagstaff potatoes are in great demand and are known far and wide for their excellent eating and keeping qualities. The present demand is greater than the supply, and prices are already higher than last season.

At Phoenix Tuesday afternoon, as the family of Mr. Thos. Rankin was visiting his son, who lives next door, thieves entered the house and thoroughly ransacked it. Nothing escaped their hands and eyes, and when the family returned the house looked as if a cyclone had been turned loose in it. The thieves took nothing but some seventeen dollars in money.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'zombi' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvellous as it may seem, but a few days had passed, before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 135. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Bine, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.
